A Time and Place for Every Laird Angeline Fortin, 2013-10-03 Surely she'd gone completely mad Claire Manning can't imagine what she was thinking when she decided to help the escapee from her company's lab but after seeing him caged like an animal her humanitarian compulsion cannot be overridden even by the arrogant scowling eighteenth century Highlander Hugh Urquhart turns out to be His entire life has been taken away from him and Claire understands the pain and torment of loss She understands the desperation she sees in his eyes and is prepared to do whatever it takes to secure Hugh's freedom and future What she isn't prepared for is the ruggedly handsome Scot she finds under the layers of grime and blood caked on him Nor is she prepared to feel so much more than mere compassion for his suffering Not once in Hugh's entire life has he been taken for a savage or been argued with and commanded about like a lackey as often as he had by his savior from imprisonment It was he who commanded He who men yielded to However for this woman who had saved his life Hugh is willing to concede that he doesn't know everything that he might need some small amount of help in navigating his way through the alien world he has been unwillingly dragged into With inexplicable trust Hugh hands over the reins of his future to Claire or Sorcha as they would have called her in his world A woman unlike any he has ever met A woman of intelligence wit courage and startling passion buried deep beneath her bonny exterior On the run Claire and Hugh hide away from the agents pursuing them but cannot hide from the undeniable desire that ensnares them and both must face their pasts the loss and heartache that plagues them if they hope to discover that there is a true time and place for every Highland laird A

Scot is Hard to Find Angeline Fortin,2020-05-28 Angeline Fortin returns with the second book in her Something About a Highlander series featuring a headstrong modern day Scottish lass and a braw brooding Highlander who wants nothing more than to make her his nanny Aila Marshall wants nothing to do with Auld Donell and his endless schemes but even she cannot deny the lure of a mystery three hundred years in the making and a hunt for a lost treasure When she s sent to the wrong time entirely Aila knows she s been played She knows she should return to her own time and give Donell a piece of her mind One the other hand what s the rush when an undeniably handsome Scot crosses her path Finn Keeley Lord Rossmore has no time for a new assistant Especially one as sassy and bonny as the fiery redhead who d come to fill the role He s spent years waiting for the opportunity to avenge the death of his wife and not once has his determination wavered He cannot let Aila divert him from his purpose now even though she d the most passionate distraction he s ever known As far as Aila Marshall was concerned a good man was hard to find and love even harder Fairy tales and white knights were nothing more than a myth Despite her best friend finding a man in the past to steal her heart Aila has no intention of following in Bront s footsteps She s content to indulge in the smoldering desire she shares with Finn while she solves her mystery Nothing more Until more is all Aila desires A Question Worth Asking Angeline Fortin,2016-09-01 The halls of Glen Cairn Manor churned with so much love and wedded bliss of late the sight had become downright sickening James MacKintosh couldn't understand how his brothers had managed to fall love struck one after another Not when they all knew as well as he how such an emotion could send a man from heaven straight to the bowels of hell But damned if they didn't somehow make it all look so bloody appealing New York suffragette Primrose Eames had more than enough men trying to control her already There was no chance she'd relent and marry again despite her brothers dogged encouragement on the matter More than anything she wanted independence and the freedom to live life on her own terms A husband would only serve to snatch that dream away from her forever What Prim needed was a decoy and James MacKintosh was just the man for the job Having failed in his search for the perfect woman to wed James was happy to help Prim with a false courtship but only because it served his purposes to avoid the matchmakers as well However James soon discovers that even a fictitious courtship with a woman set on never remarrying has its own challenges For Prim the courtship begins to feel all too real James is too charming too engaging and so supportive of her cause It doesn't take long before she realizes there is a certain freedom to be found in marriage the right sort of man If the right sort of man were interested in marriage that is It's only when betrayal and despair leave them both longing for more in their lives that they realize the importance of a love worth having and a question worth asking A Question for the Ages Angeline Fortin,2019-07-23 She lost faith in the person she loved most Lady Piper Brudenall hoped prayed and pleaded for her brother to return to London and rescue her from the marriage her mother arranged for her to a despicable nobleman Heartbroken by her brother's apparent abandonment but with nowhere left to turn Piper knew she had no one left to trust No one to count on No choice but to save herself Leaving behind life as she knew it she ran away from it all Living right under their noses Fearing what would become of her if she were ever discovered He found love in the most unexpected place Connor MacKintosh relishes the chance to take control of the Marquis of Aylesbury's estate Dinton Grange while his sister and her new husband were on their honeymoon Getting his hands dirty evolves into a far more fascinating undertaking when he encounters a bonny lass with a smile potent enough to leave a man weak in the knees As taken as he is by her Connor realizes the mysterious woman is running from something or someone Unfortunately he can be of no help to her if she persists in running from him Wariness of strangers has kept Piper's presence at the Grange a secret for more than two years However while distrust hasn't entirely guaranteed security it has ensured loneliness When Connor comes along offering a friendly ear a helping hand and something more unexpected she's torn between her head and her heart One knows she'd be a fool to put her faith in another man The other promises that he is a man like no other As Piper's past threatens to catch up with her Connor will do anything he can to keep her safe Whether she will trust him with her life and her heart That's a question for the ages Aviation Week & Space Technology ,1922 Includes a mid December issue called Buyer guide edition
