At Home with the Soanes Susan Palmer, 2015 A look at the day to day life once lived inside the home of celebrated British architect John Soane now a museum that attracts 100 000 visitors a year The product of many years research by Susan Palmer archivist to Sir John Soane s Museum At Home with the Soanes paints a detailed picture of the social and domestic life at Nos 12 13 Lincoln s Inn Fields London in the early 19th century how the buildings were heated the servants daily duties what meals were cooked wines purchased and teas drunk even the fate of the family s pet dog Family life with two children in many ways as difficult as modern offspring is brought vividly to life and the below stairs relationships of the servants are poignantly recorded The evening social whirl of visits to theaters and supper parties is chronicled and the description of seaside holidays on the Kentish coast when Margate was in vogue portrays the social niceties of promenades and dances Originally published in 1997 At Home with the Soanes has been updated to include the latest discoveries that have come to light during restoration of the house and redesigned to include more than 100 illustrations mostly in color from the extensive Museum archive including photographs of the newly recreated lost private apartments At Home with the Soanes offers a fascinating insight into this London family s life both upstairs and downstairs

The Architecture of Ruins Jonathan Hill, 2019-03-25 The Architecture of Ruins Designs on the Past Present and Future identifies an alternative and significant history of architecture from the sixteenth century to the twenty first century in which a building is designed occupied and imagined as a ruin This design practice conceives a monument and a ruin as creative interdependent and simultaneous themes within a single building dialectic addressing temporal and environmental questions in poetic psychological and practical terms and stimulating questions of personal and national identity nature and culture weather and climate permanence and impermanence and life and death Conceiving a building as a dialogue between a monument and a ruin intensifies the already blurred relations between the unfinished and the ruined and envisages the past the present and the future in a single architecture Structured around a collection of biographies this book conceives a monument and a ruin as metaphors for a life and means to negotiate between a self and a society Emphasising the interconnections between designers and the particular ways in which later architects learned from earlier ones the chapters investigate an evolving interdisciplinary design practice to show the relevance of historical understanding to design Like a history a design is a reinterpretation of the past that is meaningful to the present Equally a design is equivalent to a fiction convincing users to suspend disbelief We expect a history or a novel to be written in words but they can also be delineated in drawing cast in concrete or seeded in soil The architect is a physical novelist as well as a physical historian Like building sites ruins are full of potential In revealing not only what is lost but also what is incomplete a ruin suggests the future as well as the past As a stimulus to the imagination a ruin s incomplete and broken forms expand architecture s allegorical and metaphorical capacity indicating that a building can remain unfinished literally and in the imagination focusing attention on the creativity of users as well as architects Emphasising the symbiotic relations between nature and culture a building designed occupied and imagined as a ruin acknowledges the coproduction of multiple authors whether human non human or atmospheric and is an appropriate model for architecture in an era of increasing climate change Radical Conduct Mark Philp,2020-09-03
