A Space On The Side Of The Road:

A Space on the Side of the Road Kathleen Stewart, 2020-05-05 A Space on the Side of the Road vividly evokes an other America that survives precariously among the ruins of the West Virginia coal camps and hollers To Kathleen Stewart this particular other exists as an excluded subtext to the American narrative of capitalism modernization materialism and democracy In towns like Amigo Red Jacket Helen Odd Viper Decoy and Twilight men and women just settin track a dense social imaginary through stories of traumas apparitions encounters and eccentricities Stewart explores how this rhythmic dramatic and complicated storytelling imbues everyday life in the hills and forms a cultural poetics Alternating her own ruminations on language culture and politics with continuous accounts of just talk Stewart propels us into the intensity of this nervous surreal space on the side of the road It is a space that gives us a glimpse into a breach in American society itself where graveyards of junked cars and piles of other trashed objects endure along with the memories that haunt those who have been left behind by progress Like James Agee s portrayal of the poverty stricken tenant farmers of the Depression South in Let Us Now Praise Famous Men this book uses both language and photographs to help readers encounter a fragmented and betrayed community one occupied by schoolteachers doctors social workers and other professionals representing an official America Holding at bay any attempts at definitive social scientific analysis Stewart has concocted a new sort of ethnographic writing that conveys the immediacy density texture and materiality of the coal camps A Space on the Side of the Road finally bridges the gap between anthropology and cultural studies and provides us with a brilliant and challenging experiment in thinking and writing about America
