Bloomsbury Reader Islam West:

The Bloomsbury Reader on Islam in the West Edward E. Curtis, 2015-10-22 For more than a millennium Islam has been a vital part of Western civilization Today however it is sometimes assumed that Islam is a foreign element inside the West and even that Islam and the West are doomed to be in perpetual conflict The need for accurate reliable scholarship on this topic has never been more urgent The Bloomsbury Reader on Islam in the West brings together some of the most important up to date scholarly writings published on this subject The Reader explores not only the presence of Muslim religious practitioners in Europe and the Americas but also the impact of Islamic ideas and Muslims on Western politics societies and cultures It is ideal for use in the university classroom with an extensive introduction by Edward E Curtis IV and a timeline of key events in the history of Islam in the West A brief introduction to the author and the topic is provided at the start of each excerpt Part 1 on the history of Islam in the West probes the role of Muslims and the significance of Islam in medieval early modern and modern settings such as Islamic Spain colonial era Latin America sixteenth century France nineteenth century Crimea interwar Albania the post World War II United States and late twentieth century Germany Part 2 focuses on the contemporary West examining debates over Muslim citizenship the war on terrorism anti Muslim prejudice and Islam and gender while also providing readers with a concrete sense of how Muslims practise and live out Islamic ideals in their private and public lives

The Bloomsbury Reader in the Study of Religion and Popular Culture Lisle W. Dalton, Eric Michael Mazur, Richard J. Callahan, Jr., 2021-12-16 This is the first anthology to trace broader themes of religion and popular culture across time and theoretical methods It provides key readings encouraging a broader methodological and historical understanding With a combined experience of over 30 years dedicated to teaching undergraduates Lisle W Dalton Eric Michael Mazur and Richard J Callahan Jr have ensured that the pedagogical features and structure of the volume are valuable to both students and their professors Features include A number of units based on common semester syllabi A blend of materials focused on method with materials focused on subject An introduction to the texts for each unit Questions designed to encourage and enhance post reading reflection and classroom discussion A glossary of terms from the unit s readings as well as suggestions for further reading and investigation The Reader is suitable as the foundational textbook for any undergraduate course on religion and popular culture as well as theory in the study of religion

The Bloomsbury Reader in Religion, Sexuality, and Gender Donald L. Boisvert, Carly Daniel-Hughes, 2016-11-03 How do religion gender and sexuality interact How have they impacted and continue to impact human culture The Bloomsbury Reader in Religion Sexuality and Gender brings together for the first time the key texts in the field Designed as a textbook for use in a classroom setting it offers thought provoking selections of some of the most compelling and timely readings available today The Reader is divided into three parts bodies desires performances Each considers from a thematic perspective the ways in which people have made sense of their religious and sexual experiences the ways they imagine and talk about gender sex and the sacred and the multiple meanings they ascribe to them Traditions represented include indigenous spiritualities Christianity Judaism Islam Asian traditions and new religious movements Some readings are more theoretical or historical in nature thereby providing wide ranging contexts for reflection and discussion The reader includes extensive introductions to the book as a whole and to each of the three parts as well as short paragraphs contextualizing each of the readings Each section includes discussion questions for classroom use additional readings and resources as well as a glossary of key terms are also provided The Bloomsbury Reader in Religion Sexuality and Gender is an ideal resource for courses on religion and sexuality religion and gender or religion and contemporary culture more generally

The Bloomsbury Reader in Christian-Muslim

Relations, 600-1500 David Thomas, 2022-01-13 This Reader brings together nearly 80 extracts from major works by Christians and Muslims that reflect their reciprocal knowledge and attitudes It spans the period from the early 7th century when Islam originated to 1500 The general introduction provides a historical and geographical summary of Christian Muslim encounters in the period and a short account of the religious intellectual and social circumstances in which encounters took place and works were written Topics from the Christian perspective include condemnations of the Qur'an as a fake and Muhammad as a fraud depictions of Islam as a sign of the final judgement and proofs that it was a Christian heresy On the Muslim side they include demonstrations of the Bible as corrupt proofs that Christian doctrines were illogical comments on the inferior status of Christians and accounts of Christian and Muslim scholars in collaboration together Each of the six parts contains the following pedagogical features A short introduction An introduction to each passage and author Notes explaining terms that readers might not have previously encountered

The Bloomsbury Reader in Religion and Childhood

Anna Strhan, Stephen G. Parker, Susan Ridgely, 2017-01-26 From recent sex abuse scandals in the Roman Catholic Church to arguments about faith schools and religious indoctrination this volume considers the interconnection between the actual lives of children and the position of children as placeholders for the future Childhood has often been a particular site of struggle for negotiating the location of religion in public and everyday social life and children's involvement and non involvement in religion raises strong feelings because they represent the future of religious and secular communities even of society itself The Bloomsbury Reader in Religion and Childhood provides a rich resource for students and scholars of this interdisciplinary field and addresses wider questions about the distinctiveness of childhood and its religious dimensions in historical and contemporary perspective Divided into five thematic parts the volume provides classic contemporary and specially commissioned readings from a range of perspectives including the sociological anthropological historical and theological Case studies range from Augustine's description of childhood in Confessions the psychology of religion and childhood to religion in children's literature religious education and Qur'anic schools Religious traditions covered include Christianity Judaism Islam Hinduism and Buddhism in the UK and Europe USA Latin America and Africa An introduction situates each thematic part and each reading is contextualised by the editors Guidance on further reading and study questions are provided on the book's webpage Is Islam an Enemy of the West? Tamara Sonn, 2016-11-17 New York Washington Madrid London and now Paris the list of Western cities targeted by radical Islamic terrorists waging global jihad continues to grow Does this extreme violence committed in the name of Islam point to a fundamental enmity between the Muslim faith and the West In this compelling essay leading scholar of Islam Tamara Sonn argues that whilst the West has many enemies among Muslims it is politics not religion that informs their grievances The longer these demands remain frustrated the more violence has escalated and recruitment to groups like Islamic State has increased Far from quelling the spread of Islamic extremism Western military intervention has helped to turn nationalist movements into radical terrorist groups with international agendas Islam Sonn concludes is not the problem just as war is not the solution The Bloomsbury Reader in Cultural Approaches to the Study of Religion Sarah J. Bloesch, M. Cooper Minister, 2018-08-23 This is the first reader to gather primary sources from influential theorists of the late 20th and early 21st centuries in one place presenting the wide ranging and nuanced theoretical debates occurring in the field of religious studies Each chapter focuses on a major theorist and contains an introduction contextualizing their key ideas one or two selections representative of the theorist's innovative methodological approaches discussion questions to extend and deepen reader engagement Divided in three sections the first part includes foundational comparative debates Mary Douglas's articulation of purity and impurity Phyllis Tribble's methods of reading sacred texts Wendy Doniger's comparative mythology Catherine Bell's reimagining of religious and secular ritual The second part focuses on methodological particularity Alice Walker's use of narrative Charles Long's critique of Eurocentrism Caroline Walker Bynum's emphasis on gender and materiality The third section focuses on expanding boundaries Gloria Anzaldúa's work on borders and languages Judith Butler's critique of gender and sex norms Saba Mahmood's expansion on the critique of colonialism's secularizing demands Reflecting the cultural turn and extending the existing canon this is the anthology instructors have been waiting for For further detail on the theorists discussed please consult Cultural Approaches to Studying Religion An Introduction to Theories and Methods edited by Sarah J Bloesch and Meredith Minister

Decolonising Education in Islamic West Africa Anneke Newman, 2024-12-24 This book uses perceptions and experiences of Qur'anic schools in West Africa to outline a much needed postsecular approach reconsidering the place of Islamic education within African decolonial debates about educational pluralism and the contributions of religious perspectives in academic and international development spaces Decolonial theory is used to overcome the challenges of problematic Eurocentric and colonialist stereotypes about religious actors and faith based schools which persist within international education scholarship and global policy agendas Through fine grained ethnography chapters discuss how parents and young people today engage with classical Qur'anic schools Islamic schools and French medium secular education in Senegal thereby exposing inequalities around gender descent based or caste identities and socioeconomic status as well as their influence on young people's pursuit of knowledge These findings are valuable for scholars exploring the development education religion nexus and promoting Education for All in communities characterised by other than secular worldviews The book will be of interest to academics researchers and postgraduate students working in the sociology of education international education anthropology and religious education Practitioners involved in postcolonial and decolonial debates will also benefit from recommendations regarding educational reform in plural educational contexts

Praying to the West Omar Mouallem, 2021-09-21 Omar Mouallem grew up in a Muslim household but always questioned the role of Islam in his life As an adult he embraced atheism and used his journalism to criticize what he saw as the harms of organized religion But none of that changed the way others saw him and he began to wonder how compatible Islam truly is with the west Now as a father he fears for the challenges his children will no doubt face In Praying to the West he explores the unknown history of Islam across the Americas traveling to thirteen unique mosques in search of an answer to how this religion has survived and thrived so far from the place of its origin From California to Quebec and from Brazil to Canada's icy north he meets the members of fascinating communities all of whom provide different perspectives on what it means to be Muslim Along this journey he comes to understand that Islam has played a fascinating role in how the Americas were shaped from industrialization to the changing winds of politics And he also discovers that there may be a place for Islam in his own life particularly as a father even if he will never be a true believer Original insightful and beautifully written Praying to the West reveals a secret history of home and belonging taking place in towns and cities across the Americas and points to a better more inclusive future for everyone

Boricua Muslims Ken Chitwood, 2025-10-14 The stories and struggles of Puerto Rican Muslims in modern day America Among Puerto Rican converts to Islam marginalization is a fact of daily life Their authenticity is questioned by other Muslims and by fellow Boricua on the island and in the United States At the same time they exist under the shadow of US colonization and as Muslims in the context of American empire To be a Puerto Rican Muslim then is to negotiate identity at numerous intersections of diversity and difference Drawing on years of ethnographic research and more than a hundred interviews conducted in Puerto Rico New York Florida Texas New Jersey and online Ken Chitwood tells the story of Puerto Rican Muslims as they construct a shared sense of peoplehood through everyday practices Boricua Muslims thus provides a study of cosmopolitanism not as a political ideal but as a mundane social reality a reality that complicates scholarly and public conversations about race ethnicity and religion in the Americas Expanding the geography of global Islam and recasting the relationship between religion and Puerto Rican culture Boricua Muslims is an insightful reckoning with the manifold entanglements of identity amid late modern globalization
