Biology Mariëlle Hoefnagels, 2021-03 I have been teaching nonmajors biology at the University of Oklahoma since 1997 and over that time have encountered many students who fear science in general and biology in particular The complexity abstractions and unfamiliar terms can seem overwhelming at first but with practice I know that anyone can think like a scientist Learning to think scientifically is important well beyond passing your biology class After all scientific issues confront you every day as you navigate your life and your social media accounts How do you know if a claim about climate change is scientific Will you be able to identify misinformation and interpret graphs during the next global health crisis This book will teach you not only to understand the scientific terms you encounter but also to distinguish good science from unscientific claims I ve created the following features to help you make the transition from memorizing facts to understanding concepts from accepting scientific claims to analyzing them for yourself These tools will help you to pass your class and to be an informed citizen

Research Akira Watanabe,2008 Metastasis is the spread of a disease from one organ or part to another non contiguous organ or part Only malignant tumour cells and infections have the capacity to metastasise Cancer cells can break away from a primary tumour penetrate into lymphatic and blood vessels circulate through the bloodstream and grow in a distant focus metastasise in normal tissues elsewhere in the body Metastasis is considered a hallmark of malignancy All tumours can metastasise albeit to varying degrees barring a few exceptions eg Glioma and Basal cell carcinoma never metastasize When cancer cells spread to form a new tumour it is called a secondary or metastatic tumour and its cells are like those in the original tumour This means for example that if breast cancer spreads metastasizes to the lung the secondary tumour is made up of abnormal breast cells not abnormal lung cells The disease in the lung is then called metastatic breast cancer not lung cancer Only malignant tumour cells and infections have the capacity to metastasize This book presents the latest research in the field from around the world
