

AL-GHAZZALI ON KNOWING YOURSELF AND GOD

Al-Ghazzali begins his masterful Alchemy of Happiness with this topic based on the famous Tradition of the Prophet (ﷺ), "One who knows one's self knows one's Lord." In al-Ghazzali's view, everything begins by knowing who you are. He says that you should know that you are born with an outer form and an inner essence and it is that inner essence or the spiritual heart that you have to come to know in order to know who you are.

Al-Ghazzali (AD 1058-1111), the philosopher-theologian, is considered by many to be the greatest Muslim thinker after the great Companions. His life and thought played a major role in determining the ethical and spiritual values of medieval society and continues to be influential throughout the world today.

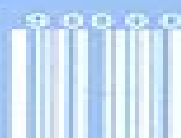

Muhammad Nur Abdus Salam, Ph. D. (Jay R. Crook) is a well-known translator who is fluent in Persian, Arabic, Turkish and Urdu.

Al Ghazzali On Knowing Yourself And God:

Al-Ghazzali on Knowing Yourself and God Ghazzālī, 2002 General Description In al Ghazzali's view everything begins by knowing who you are. He says that you should know that you are born with an outer form and an inner essence and it is that inner essence or the spiritual heart that you have to come to know in order to know who you are. In the Sphere of the Personal: New Perspectives in the Philosophy of Persons Simon Smith, James Beauregard, 2020-10-06 The papers in this collection were originally presented at the 13th International Conference on Persons held at the University of Boston in August 2015. This biennial event founded by Thomas O. Buford and Charles Conti in 1989 attracts a host of international scholars both the venerable and the aspiring. It is widely regarded as the premier event for those whose research concerns the philosophical tradition known as personalism. That tradition is perhaps best known today in its American and European manifestations although there remains a small but fiercely defended stronghold in Britain. Personalism is not an exclusively Western development; however, its roots are also found in India, China, and Japan. What unites these disparate intellectual cultures may seem quite small. There is little if any methodological or doctrinal consensus among them. They are all, however, responses to the impersonal and depersonalising forces perceived to be at work in philosophy, theology, and most recently the natural and political sciences. Their common aim is to place persons at the heart of these discourses, to defend the idea that persons are the metaphysical, epistemological, and moral bottom line, the vital clue to knowledge of self, reality, and all conceivable values. The authors in this collection do not simply reflect upon this tradition; they put it to work on a range of philosophical and theological problems, both classical and contemporary: problems of free will, personal identity, and the nature of reality, as well as the very current concerns of environmental philosophers, bio, and neuro ethicists. Their perspectives too are many and varied, so offer profound insights into key debates among other philosophical traditions such as the Kantian, Hegelian, phenomenological, and process schools. Muhammad Ali in Africana Cultural Memory James L. Conyers, Jr., Christel N. Temple, 2022-01-11 One critical priority of the discipline of Africana studies is applied memory, specifically how the record of the culture's survival and agency reveals usable and reproducible knowledge and behavior. In terms of how Muhammad Ali, as an historical actor, has left an heroic legacy that bequeaths to us a sort of inheritance, the critical task at hand is to systematically explore this historical actor's life, feats, philosophy, grit, worldview, and even his folkloric antihero to decipher his Africana cultural memory value. At the core of this edited collection is a commitment to enhance the cultural storytelling about Muhammad Ali and to critically itemize the lessons we garner from his life as allegory. The ancestral life is one that is remembered and recalled. The contributors' research uncovers Ali's local, national, and global encounters that are legacy worldviews. These perspectives give us direction for mining the critical depth of Ali's encounters, which map his memory in terms of culturally sustaining confidence, self-esteem, reinvention, immortalization, and empathy. These are the fertile seeds of Africana cultural memory which bloom into powerful markers and monuments of an epic life of Traditional Islamic Environmentalism Tarik M. Quadir, 2013-09-16 This work examines the relevance of traditional Islamic thought and practices for a lasting solution to the current environmental crisis Quadir describes how Seyyed Hossein Nasr challenges Muslims to reclaim their traditional intellectual and Sufi heritage as powerful means toward a most thoughtful approach to the crisis In so doing Nasr urges us to take a critical look at the consequences of the worldviews generated by modern science and technology and offers bold solutions for a more caring relationship between man and nature The book argues that only a revival of the traditional worldview which perceives all entities of nature as signs of God can effectively respond to the crisis our planet faces The Path of Worshippers to the Paradise of the Lord of the Worlds
