Arguments For Protected Areas Multiple Benefits For Conservation And Use:

Arguments for Protected Areas Sue Stolton, Nigel Dudley, 2010 First Published in 2010 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company      Social and Economic Benefits of Protected Areas Marianne Kettunen, Patrick ten Brink, 2013-09-05 Protected areas PAs contain biodiversity and ecosystems of high conservation value In addition these areas provide a range of benefits both direct and indirect to our societies and economies i e so called ecosystem services These services include for example an ecosystem s ability to regulate floods and climate purify water secure the pollination of crops and create opportunities for recreation culture and tourism This book offers a comprehensive introduction to the socio economic benefits of PAs and PA networks and provides step by step practical guidance on identifying assessing and valuing the various ecosystem services and related benefits provided by PAs It also aims to improve the communication of PA benefits to different stakeholders and the general public It is shown that identifying and valuing the socio economic benefits of PAs can be beneficial for several reasons Demonstrating socio economic importance of a protected site can significantly increase political and stakeholder support for the site and resolve conflicts between different interest groups This can lead to positive changes in policies and decision making Insights on PA benefits are also needed to identify a combination of actions and land use practices that best support the sustainable and equitable utilisation of these benefits while retaining a site s conservation goals Finally demonstrating different benefits can help to discover alternative and sustainable sources for financing the management of PAs      Protected Area Governance and Management Graeme L. Worboys, Michael Lockwood, Ashish Kothari, Sue Feary, Ian Pulsford, 2015-04-08 Protected Area Governance and Management presents a compendium of original text case studies and examples from across the world by drawing on the literature and on the knowledge and experience of those involved in protected areas The book synthesises current knowledge and cutting edge thinking from the diverse branches of practice and learning relevant to protected area governance and management It is intended as an investment in the skills and competencies of people and consequently the effective governance and management of protected areas for which they are responsible now and into the future The global success of the protected area concept lies in its shared vision to protect natural and cultural heritage for the long term and organisations such as International Union for the Conservation of Nature are a unifying force in this regard Nonetheless protected areas are a socio political phenomenon and the ways that nations understand govern and manage them is always open to contest and debate The book aims to enlighten educate and above all to challenge readers to think deeply about protected areas their future and their past as well as their present The book has been compiled by 169 authors and deals with all aspects of protected area governance and management It provides information to support capacity development training of protected area field officers managers in charge and executive level managers      Community Participation in Conservation of Great Himalayan National Park, India Suman Bhanoo, The book has relevance to academics scholars administrators policy experts

anthropologists sociologists development scientists environmentalists as well as anyone interested in the welfare of communities residing in the vicinity of a Protected Area It stands out as a work that will stand the test of time and should be an asset that many would like to keep Dr Abhik Ghosh Professor and Chairperson Department of Anthropology Panjab University Chandigarh This book is an excellent compilation of the outcome of the intense research work undertaken in the emerging field of Community Based Ecotourism Management at The UNESCO World Heritage Site The Great Himalayan National Park and it will certainly be useful to provide necessary information future research road map and guidelines for all the stakeholders for effective planning and implementation of sustainable ecotourism Ajay Srivastav Faculty Wildlife Institute of India Dehradun Former Director Great Himalayan National Park

Serengeti IV Anthony R. E. Sinclair, Kristine L. Metzger, Simon A. R. Mduma, John M. Fryxell, 2015-05-11 The vast savannas and great migrations of the Serengeti conjure impressions of a harmonious and balanced ecosystem But in reality the history of the Serengeti is rife with battles between human and non human nature In the 1890s and several times since the cattle virus rinderpest at last vanquished in 2008 devastated both domesticated and wild ungulate populations as well as the lives of humans and other animals who depended on them In the 1920s tourists armed with the world's most expensive hunting gear filled the grasslands And in recent years violence in Tanzania has threatened one of the most successful long term ecological research centers in history Serengeti IV the latest installment in a long standing series on the region's ecology and biodiversity explores the role of our species as a source of both discord and balance in Serengeti ecosystem dynamics Through chapters charting the complexities of infectious disease transmission across populations agricultural expansion and the many challenges of managing this ecosystem today this book shows how the people and landscapes surrounding crucial protected areas like Serengeti National Park can and must contribute to Serengeti conservation In order to succeed conservation efforts must also focus on the welfare of indigenous peoples allowing them both to sustain their agricultural practices and to benefit from the natural resources provided by protected areas an undertaking that will require the strengthening of government and education systems and as such will present one of the greatest conservation challenges of the next century

Leaving Space for Nature Nigel Dudley, Sue Stolton, 2020-03-23 This book provides the first contemporary assessment of area based conservation and its implications for nature and society Now covering 15 per cent of the land surface and a growing area of ocean the creation of protected areas is one of the fastest conscious changes in land management in history But this has come at a cost including a backlash from human rights organisations about the social impacts of protected areas At the same time a range of new types of area based conservation has emerged based on indigenous people's territories local community lands and a new designation of other effective area based conservation measures This book provides a concise overview of the status and possible futures of area based conservation With many people calling for half the earth's land surface to remain in a natural condition this book taps into the urgent debate about the feasibility of such an aim and the ways in which such land might be managed It provides a timely contribution by people who have been at the centre of the debate for the last twenty years Building on the authors large personal knowledge the book draws on global case studies where the authors have firsthand experience including Yosemite National Park USA Blue Mountains National Park Australia Bwindi National Park Uganda Chingaza National Park Colombia Ustyart Plateau Kazakhstan Snowdonia National Park Wales and many more This book is essential reading for students academics and practitioners interested in conservation and its impact on society

Food Production and Nature Conservation Iain J. Gordon, Herbert H.T. Prins, Geoff R. Squire, 2016-11-25 Feeding the world s growing human population is increasingly challenging especially as more people adopt a western diet and lifestyle Doing so without causing damage to nature poses an even greater challenge This book argues that in order to create a sustainable food supply whilst conserving nature agriculture and nature must be reconnected and approached together The authors demonstrate that while the links between nature and food production have to some extent already been recognized until now the focus has been to protect one from the impacts of the other Instead it is argued that nature and agriculture can and should work together and ultimately benefit from one another Chapters describe efforts to protect nature through globally connected protected area systems and illustrate how farming methods are being shaped to protect nature within agricultural systems The authors also point to many ways in which nature benefits agriculture through the ecosystem services it provides Overall the book shows that nature conservation and food production must be considered as equally important components of future solutions to meet the global demand for food in a manner that is sustainable for both the human population and the planet as a whole

Agrobiodiversity and the Law Juliana Santilli, 2012-03-15 A wide range of crop genetic resources is vital for future food security Loss of agricultural biodiversity increases the risk of relying on a limited number of staple food crops However many laws such as seed laws plant varieties protection and access and benefit sharing laws have direct impacts on agrobiodiversity and their effects have been severely underestimated by policy makers This is of concern not only to lawyers but also to agronomists biologists and social scientists all of whom need clear guidance as to the relevance of the law to their work This book analyzes the impact of the legal system on agrobiodiversity or agricultural biodiversity the diversity of agricultural species varieties and ecosystems Using an interdisciplinary approach it takes up the emerging concept of agrobiodiversity and its relationship with food security nutrition health environmental sustainability and climate change It assesses the impacts on agrobiodiversity of key legal instruments including seeds laws the International Convention for the Protection of New Varieties of Plants plant breeders rights the Convention on Biological Diversity regarding specifically its impact on agrobiodiversity and the International Treaty on Plant Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture It also reviews the options for the implementation of these instruments at the national level in several countries It discusses the interfaces between the free software movement the commons movement and seeds as well as the legal instruments to protect cultural heritage and their application to safeguard agrobiodiversity rich systems Finally it analyzes the role of protected areas and the possibility of using geographical indications to enhance the value of agrobiodiversity products and processes      Understanding Emerging Security Challenges Ashok Swain, 2013 This book offers an overview of emerging security challenges in the global environment in the post Cold War era After the fall of the Berlin Wall and the subsequent shifting of international political environment a new broader concept of security began to gain acceptance This concept encompassed socio economic environmental challenges such as resource scarcity and climate change water sharing issues deforestation and forest protection measures food and health security and large population migration The book examines the causes and consequences of these emerging security threats and retains a critical focus on evolving approaches to address these issues The author attempts to develop a framework for sustainable security in a rapidly changing global political landscape which seeks to bring states and societies together in a way that addresses weaknesses of the evolving international system Moreover through a detailed analysis of the emerging security issues and their pathways the book further argues that the evolving processes not only pose critical challenges but also provide remarkable opportunity for cooperation and collaboration among and within various stakeholders This book will be of much interest to students of global security war and conflict studies peace studies and IR in general      The Economics of Ecosystems and

Biodiversity in Local and Regional Policy and Management Heidi Wittmer, Haripriya Gundimeda, 2012 Human well being is dependent upon ecosystem services provided by nature for free such as water and air purification fisheries timber and nutrient cycling These are predominantly public goods with no markets and no prices so their loss is often not detected by our current economic incentive system and therefore continues unabated A variety of pressures resulting from population growth changing diets urbanisation climate change and many other factors is causing biodiversity to decline and ecosystems to be degraded The world s
