Literature and Ethics in Contemporary Brazil Vinicius Mariano De Carvalho, Nicola Gavioli, 2017-02-24 When Brazil was honored at the Frankfurt Book Fair in 2013 the Brazilian author Luiz Ruffato opened the event with a provocative speech claiming that literature through its pervasive depiction and discussion of otherness has the potential to provoke ethical transformation This book uses Ruffato's speech as a starting point for the discussion of contemporary Brazilian literature that stands in contrast to the repetition of social and cultural clichés By illuminating the relevance of humanities and literature as a catalyst for rethinking Brazil the book offers a resistance to the official discourses that have worked for so long to conceal social tensions injustices and secular inequities in Brazilian society In doing so it situates Brazilian literature away from the exotic and peripheral spectrum and closer to a universal and more relevant ethical discussion for readers from all parts of the world The volume brings together fresh contributions on both canonical contemporary authors such as Graciliano Ramos Rubem Fonseca and Dalton Trevisan and traditionally silenced writing subjects such as Afro-Brazilian female authors These essays deal with specific contemporary literary and social issues while engaging with historically constitutive phenomena in Brazil including authoritarianism violence and the systematic violation of human rights The exploration of diverse literary genres from novels to graphic novels from poetry to crônicas and engagement with postcolonial studies gender studies queer studies cultural studies Brazilian studies South American literature and world literature carves new space for the emergence of original Brazilian thought

Cryptic Subtexts in Literature and Film Steven F Walker, 2018-07-17 One of the primary objectives of comparative literature is the study of the relationship of texts also known as intertextuality which is a means of contextualizing and analyzing the way literature grows and flourishes through inspiration and imitation direct or indirect When the inspiration and imitation is direct and obvious the study of this rapport falls into the more restricted category of hypertextuality What the author has labeled a cryptic subtext however is an extreme case of hypertextuality It involves a series of allusions to another text that have been deliberately inserted by the author into the primary text as potential points of reference This book takes a deep dive into a broad array of literature and film to explore these allusions and the hidden messages therein

The Historical Novel, Transnationalism, and the Postmodern Era Susan Brantly, 2017-02-17 This volume explores the genre of the historical novel and the variety of ways in which writers choose to represent the past How does an author's nationality or gender impact their artistic choices To what extent can historical novels appeal to a transnational audience

This study demonstrates how histories can communicate across national borders often by invoking or deconstructing the very notion of nationhood Furthermore it traces how the concerns of the postmodern era such as postmodern critiques of historiography colonialism identity and the Enlightenment have impacted the genre of the historical novel and shows this impact has not been uniform throughout Western culture Not all historical novels written during the postmodern era are postmodern The historical novel as a genre occupies a problematic yet significant space in Cold War literary currents torn between claims of authenticity and the impossibility of accessing the past Historical novels from England America Germany and France are compared and contrasted with historical novels from Sweden testing a variety of theoretical perspectives in the process This pitting of a center against a periphery serves to highlight traits that historical novels from the West have in common but also how they differ The historical novel is not just a local regional phenomenon but has become during the postmodern era a transnational tool for exploring how we should think of nations and nationalism and what a society should or should not look like
