

Award Ceremony Speech

Presentation Speech by Professor H. Pleijel, Chairman of the Nobel Committee for Physics of the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences, on December 10, 1930

Your Majesty, Your Royal Highnesses, Ladies and Gentlemen.

The Academy of Sciences, has resolved to award the Nobel Prize in Physics for 1930 to Sir Venkata Raman for his work on the scattering of light and for the discovery of the effect named after him.

The diffusion of light is an optical phenomenon, which has been known for a long time. A ray of light is not perceptible unless it strikes the eye directly. If, however, a bundle of rays of light traverses a medium in which extremely fine dust is present, the ray of light will scatter to the sides and the path of the ray through the medium will be discernible from the side. We can represent the course of events in this way; the small particles of dust begin to oscillate owing to electric influence from the ray of light, and they form centres from which light is disseminated in all directions. The wavelength, or the number of oscillations per second, in the light thus diffused is here the same as in the original ray of light. But this effect has different degrees of strength for light with different wavelengths. It is stronger for the short wavelengths than for the long ones, and consequently it is stronger for the blue part of the spectrum than for the red part. Hence if a ray of light containing all the colours of the spectrum passes through a medium, the yellow and the red rays will pass through the medium without appreciable scattering, whereas the blue rays will be scattered to the sides. This effect has received the name of the "Tyndall effect".

Academic Competitions for Gifted Students Mary K. Tallent-Runnels, Ann C. Candler-Lotven, 2007-11-19 This handbook covers 170 competitions criteria for selecting events that match students strengths weaknesses strategies for maximizing the benefits of competitions and ways to avoid potential problems The Academic Job Search Handbook Mary Morris Heiberger, Julia Miller Vick, 2001 An examination of organizational dynamics as they are affected by internal creative processes using the example of a regional state university campus which dynamics the authors believe are applicable to other public institutions or possibly organizations of any kind Emphasis is on the utilization of planning and implementation skills already present within the organization and the means of activating such resources The authors are experienced academics and university administrators A practical and comprehensive overview of the process involved in searching for and obtaining an academic position based on the authors experience advising graduate students at the Career Planning and Placement Service U of Pennsylvania Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Navigating the Academic Career Victor N. Shaw, 2013-03-01 There is an urgent need to provide academic professionals with individual institutional and contextual accounts of their careers and career making endeavors An individual account makes academicians think about what they do and how they might do it better An institutional account makes academicians reflect upon the organizational environment in which they function and ponder what they might do to improve it A contextual account connects academicians and their work to knowledge the knowledge enterprise and the larger social structure so that they know and understand the impact they and their career making efforts have on themselves academia and general social processes This book examines academic careers and career making activities with respect to their main aspects milestones and general pathways In content it divides into four identifiable parts Part I focuses on professional preparation It examines education degree reeducation job search and job change Part II centers on organizational employment It investigates position research teaching service and tenure Part III revolves around professional networking It looks into publication conference presentation application for grants and awards and membership in academic associations Part IV rises above specific issues It explores general career pathways and overall scholarly identity The Extra-ordinary School Colin Symes, Daphne Meadmore, 1999 Analyzes the extraordinary behind the ordinary in UK schools arguing that the extraordinary represents an important dimension of the way the organization of the school is maintained and managed Deals with the culture of the school then looks at aspects of school administration having to do with school time school efficiency drives and the testing examination culture Examines the risk culture associated with end of the year rituals and health projects in schools associated with physical education and AIDS No index Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Student Engagement is FUNdamental Jane Feber, 2013 Building a classroom community of students who are engaged and ready to learn takes time and effort So why not use hands on activities to build academic skills and student trust and rapport at the same time Jane Feber's award winning hands on approach to learning gives you ready to go activities that engage all learners and add academic muscle to your curriculum These classroom proven activities are fun and they are all aligned to Common Core Standards Flexible and easy to do the projects are ready to go and fit easily into any teaching day and curriculum Feber's practical approach transforms inexpensive commonly found supplies into powerful learning tools that build rapport and academic skills across the curriculum

Almanack for the Year of Our Lord ..., 1987 An Almanack for the Year of Our Lord ... Joseph Whitaker, 1984 Junior Graphic Mavis Kitcher (Mrs), 2014-07-09 In View of Academic Careers and Career-Making Scholars Victor N. Shaw, 2008-03-01 This volume connects career making to the general social context in which it takes place career making individuals to the large institutional establishment in which they operate and specifically career academicians to the overall knowledge enterprise from which they draw their intellectual inspiration on which they build their career achievements and to which they contribute their personal talents The main purpose is to explore what academic institutions the knowledge enterprise and the society as a whole can and ought to do to enhance productivity facilitate performance and improve experience of individual academicians in their career making endeavor Although various innovative ideas are presented to improve normal procedures or standard processes throughout academia answers to this focal question often lie in different levels of organizational units involved in academic operation That is what should a department do for its faculty a college for its departments a university for its colleges an association for its member organizations or a government for its academic institutions in the best interest of the latter Similarly although reformative measures are proposed to the attention of established entities or institutionalized systems change within the existing situation or practice to a large degree depends upon how people in various social roles relate to each other in attitude as well as in behavior when they perform their specific job In other words what should a professor do for graduate students a senior scholar for junior colleagues a chair for faculty members a dean for chairs a university chancellor for deans an editor for authors or an association president for the general membership from the due perspective of the latter The logic or legitimacy of examining this focal question and its organizational unit and social role is clear a shining academician owes much to the support of his or her assistants students and followers a rising university builds on the productivity of its individual divisions and a thriving knowledge enterprise depends upon the success of individual career making scholars Beyond its own functionality and success by division of labor the higher level or the larger system has an inescapable responsibility to ensure that individual players or components therein grow develop and perform to the best of their potential In content this volume consists of sixteen chapters Chapter 1 identifies main pathways and stages in academic careers Chapters 2-5 focuses on the career process exploring major requirements that an academician has to work on and fulfill in his or her career making endeavor These requirements include educational preparation job search institutional placement and professional networking Chapters 6-15 centers on the career structure examining essential elements that a scholar has to build and maintain in his or her career identity These elements range from the academic degree position publication teaching presentation service grants awards and membership in academic associations to tenure The last chapter capitalizes on the curriculum vitae as a miniature of the academic personality that a career professional must present to the community of scholarship

Speechreading by Humans and Machines David G. Stork, Marcus E. Hennecke, 2013-11-11 This book is one outcome of the NATO Advanced Studies Institute ASI Workshop Speechreading by Man and Machine held at the Chateau de Bonas Castera Verduzan near Auch France from August 28 to September 8 1995 the first interdisciplinary meeting devoted the subject of speechreading lipreading The forty five attendees from twelve countries covered the gamut of speechreading research from brain scans of humans processing bi modal stimuli to psychophysical experiments and illusions to statistics of comprehension by the normal and deaf communities to models of human perception to computer vision and learning algorithms and hardware for automated speechreading machines The first week focussed on speechreading by humans the second week by machines a general organization that is preserved in this volume After the inevitable difficulties in clarifying language and terminology across disciplines as diverse as human neurophysiology audiology psychology electrical engineering mathematics and computer science the participants engaged in lively discussion and debate We think it is fair to say that there was an atmosphere of excitement and optimism for a field that is both fascinating and potentially lucrative Of the many general results that can be taken from the workshop two of the key ones are these The ways in which humans employ visual image for speech recognition are manifold and complex and depend upon the talker perceiver pair severity and age of onset of any hearing loss whether the topic of conversation is known or unknown the level of noise and so forth
