Assessing Academic Library Performance Holt Zaugg, 2021-10-29 Assessment is essential to describe a library's value and to inform decision making Using the four key assessment components of design data collection data analysis and dissemination Assessing Academic Library Performance A Handbook provides strategies and case studies for performing four different types of assessments Service assessments for the library's outward and inward facing services that either help library users or other library employees to help users These assessments focus on providing and improving how things are done to better serve others Resources assessments for the physical and virtual resources that the library has in its holdings or to which it provides access Resources are the reason libraries exist as they help patrons in instructional and research pursuits Space assessments for physical and online library spaces These assessments help ensure that spaces meet user needs Personnel relationship assessments look at how library employees interact with each other as library professionals While not for evaluation or advancement purposes these types of assessments provide information on what library employees can do to improve their relationships with one another Each section has information on conducting each aspect of libraries followed by three examples to illustrate how assessment is used to support descriptions of library value and to help library employees make decisions that are critical to library improvement

Meeting the Needs of Student Users in Academic Libraries Michele Crump, LeiLani Freund, 2012-10-04 Meeting the Needs of Student Users in Academic Libraries surveys and evaluates the current practice of learning commons and research services within the academic library community in order to determine if these learning spaces are functioning as intended To evaluate their findings the authors examine the measurement tools that libraries have used to evaluate usage and satisfaction including contemporary anthropological studies that provide a more detailed view of the student's approach to research The book takes a candid look at these redesigns and asks if improvements have lived up to expectations of increased service and user satisfaction Are librarians using these findings to inform the evolution and implementation of new service models or have they simply put a new shade of lipstick on the pig Takes an honest look at learning commons in academic libraries and discusses what is working and what is not Explores behind the statistics as to why users come to the library does the librarians concept of the library as place match user perception Looks at the anthropology of the user to gauge satisfaction with the services and space provided by the library via recent survey findings
