Access To Asylum Access To Asylum:

The Readmission of Asylum Seekers under International Law Mariagiulia Giuffré, 2020-02-20 This monograph could not be more timely as discourses relating to refugees access to territory rescue at sea push back and push back by proxy dominate political debate Looking at the questions which lie at the junction of migration control and refugee law standards it explores the extent to which readmission can hamper refugees access to protection Though it draws mainly on European law notably the European Convention on Human Rights it also examines other international frameworks including those employed by the United Nations and instruments such as the Refugee Convention Therefore this book is of importance to readers of international law refugee law human rights and migration studies at the global level It offers an analysis of both the legal and policy questions at play and engages fully with widely disputed cases concerning readmission agreements deportation with assurances and interception at sea By so doing this book seeks to clarify a complex field which has at times suffered from partiality in both its terminology and substance

Accessing Asylum in Europe Violeta Moreno Lax, 2017 The timely subject matter of this work focuses on the interface between extraterritorial border surveillance and migration control by EU member states and the rights that asylum seekers acquire from EU law In particular Moreno Lax concentrates on the relationship between the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights and border control measures
