NVLD and Developmental Visual-Spatial Disorder in Children Jessica Broitman, Miranda Melcher, Amy Margolis, John M. Davis, 2020-10-17 This unique volume explores issues related to working with children who have nonverbal learning disability NVLD It examines how a child's psychology thoughts feelings beliefs affects his or her functioning and learning In addition the book addresses how a child's experiences are processed through individual personality psychology culture environment and economic circumstances and family dynamics Using these psychological organizing principles the book describes how to work most effectively with young patients with NVLD It offers a new model and definition for understanding NVLD emphasizing its core deficit of visual spatial processing In addition this book addresses efforts to rename NVLD to developmental visual spatial disorder DVSD It describes the 11 possible subtypes as including a primary deficit in visual spatial processes and impairment in several additional functional domains including executive functioning social emotional deficits academic achievement and motor coordination The book highlights the need for psychologically minded treatment and provides specific intervention guidelines. It details how to conduct the intake process and create a treatment plan and team and offers practical suggestions for working with a patient's family members. In addition, the book addresses the importance of working with a consistent psychological theory such as control mastery theory (CMT). It describes the Brooklyn Learning Center Model for treating NVLD and offers guidelines for interventions to support patients academically. The book provides a comprehensive approach to the neuropsychological assessment of NVLD as well as examples of visual spatial sensory perception executive functioning academics social emotional deficits and motor coordination interventions and all forms used to gather information from patients. Key areas of coverage include: Definition of nonverbal learning disability (NVLD), Efforts toward inclusion in the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual (DSM) and for renaming it to a developmental visual spatial disorder (DVSD), Guide to general diagnostic testing and assessment, Developing a treatment plan and team for NVLD patients, NVLD therapy and tutoring priorities, NVLD and Developmental Visual Spatial Disorder in Children. This is an essential reference for clinicians, therapists, and other professionals as well as researchers, professors, and graduate students in school and clinical child psychology, special education, speech language therapy, developmental psychology, pediatrics, social work, as well as all interrelated disciplines.

An Evidence-Based Guide to Combining Interventions with Sensory Integration in Pediatric Practice Erna Imperatore Blanche, Clare Giuffrida, Mary Hallway, Bryant Edwards, Lisa A. Test, 2021-11-22. This book offers practical ideas on the combination of sensory integration theory principles with other evidence-based approaches in the evaluation and treatment of multifaceted issues in children with disabilities. Using the ICF Model, a Clinical Reasoning Model, and featuring numerous case studies, the opening chapters focus on the evidence for combining intervention approaches with diagnoses most often encountered in clinical practice. The latter half of the book covers the delivery of services using blended intervention approaches in different settings such as the school, the hospital, and in nature. Featured are existing community programs illustrating the combination of approaches in practice. Appendices include reproducible resources, a guide to assessments and approaches. The text will guide occupational therapists and other health professionals working with children and adolescents across a variety of settings in using clinical reasoning skills in a systematic manner that will lead to better interventions.
