Bonnefoy Du Mouvement Immobilité Douve:

Du Mouvement Et de L'immobilité de Douve Yves Bonnefoy, 1992 Yves Bonnefoy 1923 2016 was a central figure in post war French culture with a lifelong fascination with the problems of translation Language for him was a visceral intensely material element in our existence and yet the abstract quality of words distorts the immediate material quality of our contact with the world This concern with what separates words from an essential truth hidden in objects involved him in wide ranging philosophical and theological investigations of the spiritual and the sacred But for all his intellectual drive and rigour Bonnefoy's poetry is essentially of the concrete and the tangible and addresses itself to our most familiar and intimate experiences of objects and of each other In his first book of poetry published in France in 1953 Bonnefoy reflects on the value and mechanism of language in a series of short variations on the life and death of a much loved woman Douve Douve though is the French word for a moat that uncrossable body which separates us from safety and from danger With this undercurrent at work we read the poems as if they are about the divide between us and death as much as they are about the divide between us and the untouchable reality of text This is dangerous writing fulfilling Derrida's fatal necessity by making us substitute the textual sign for reality In his introduction Timothy Mathews shows how Bonnefoy's poetics are enmeshed with his philosophical religious and critical thought

Lost Beyond Telling Richard Howard Stamelman, 1990 In seeking to give voice to absent things or lost experiences Richard Stamelman says modern poetry attempts to give absence a shape Loss in his view is both the cause and the subject of the modern poem Fittingly in Lost beyond Telling he formulates and develops what he calls a poetics of loss with which he frames his treatment of modern French poetry

A Poetics of Church Jennifer Reek, 2017-09-25 This innovative book aims to create a poetics of Church and a religious imaginary as alternatives to more institutional and conventional ways of thinking and of being Church Structured as a spiritual and literary journey the work moves from models of the institutional Catholic Church into more radical and ambiguous textual spaces which the author creates by bringing together an unorthodox group of thinkers referred to as poet companions the 16th century founder of the Society of Jesus Ignatius of Loyola the French thinkers Gaston Bachelard and Hélène Cixous the French poet Yves Bonnefoy and the English playwright Dennis Potter Inspired especially by the reading and writing practices of Cixous the author attempts to exemplify Cixous' notion of critique of masculine writing that suggests new ways of seeing and relating The project's uniting of Ignatian spirituality with postmodern thinking and its concern with creating new theological literary and spiritual spaces for women both coincide and contrast with Pope Francis's pastoral and reformist tendencies which have neglected to adequately address the marginalisation of women in the Church As Francis has called for a theology of women of which there are of course many to draw from this volume will be a timely contribution with a unique interdisciplinary approach

From Ritual to Romance and Beyond Manfred Schmeling, Hans-Joachim Backe, 2011

Encyclopedia of Literary Translation Into English: A-L O. Classe, 2000

Strands of Utopia Michael G Kelly, 2017-12-02 The poetic is an abiding yet elusive qualification within the discursive system of twentieth century French literature No longer amenable to formal assignment its recurrences delimit a shifting multi layered practice of artistic and intellectual self invention This study attempts to outline certain durable properties of that practice by confronting it with the complex theoretical and spatial metaphor of utopia Drawing in particular upon the oeuvres of Victor Segalen 1878 1919 Rene Daumal 1908 44 and Yves Bonnefoy b 1923 it traces poetic work work done in support of poetic difference along the social physical and textual axes of what is argued to be a sustained and radically inclusive utopian practice within the literary field The complex utopian quality of poetic work is linked to the cultural persistence of the poetic as a simple attribute within literary practice In uncovering this link the study encourages revised understandings of both the poetic and the utopian in the modern French literary context

New and Selected Poems Yves Bonnefoy, 1995-12-18 Yves Bonnefoy celebrated translator and critic is widely considered the most important and influential French poet since World War II Named to the College de France in 1981 to fill the chair left vacant by the death of Roland Barthes Bonnefoy was the first poet honored in this way since Paul Valery Winner of many awards including the Prix Goncourt in 1987 and the Hudson Review s Bennett Award in 1988 he is the author of six critically acclaimed books of poetry Spanning four decades and drawing on all of Bonnefoy s major collections this selection provides a comprehensive overview of and an ideal introduction to his work The elegant translations many of them new are presented in this dual language edition alongside the original French Several significant works appear here in English for the first time among them in its entirety Bonnefoy s 1991 book of verse The Beginning and the End of the Snow the 1988 prose poem Where the Arrow Falls and an important long poem from 1993 Wind and Smoke Together with poems from such classic volumes as In the Lure of the Threshold these new works shed light on the growth as well as the continuity of Bonnefoy s work John Naughton s detailed introduction looks at the evolution of Bonnefoy s poetry from the 1953 publication of On the Motion and Immobility of Douve which immediately established his reputation as one of France s leading poets through the 1993 publication of The Wandering Life and its centerpiece Wind and Smoke This is a comprehensive selection that contains examples of work spanning Bonnefoy's full career of forty years from the ground breaking Du Mouvement et de l'Immobilite de Douve through the celebratory Pierre Ecrite to the magical winter landscapes of America's East Coast and an unsettling reworking of myth in the recent La Vie Errante. The translations which are the work of a variety of hands including Galway Kinnell, Emily Grosholz and Anthony Rudolf nevertheless fit well together and all are sensitive to the register and subtleties of both languages while the introductory essay by John Naughton expertly explains Bonnefoy's importance as a poet and the influences which have shaped him. This is definitely a volume worth having for layman and French specialist alike. Hilary Davies, Times Literary Supplement. Anyone not familiar with Bonnefoy's work will benefit from the background information and explanations given by John Naughton in his excellent introduction. The book as a whole provides an excellent introduction to Bonnefoy's poetry and to his concerns of a lifetime. Don Rodgers, Poetry Wales.

Theories of Translation Rainer Schulte, John Biguenet, 2017-12-12. Spanning the centuries from the seventeenth to the twentieth and ranging across cultures from England to Mexico, this collection gathers together important statements on the function and feasibility of literary translation. The essays provide an overview of the historical evolution in thinking about translation and offer strong individual opinions by prominent contemporary theorists. Most of the twenty-one pieces appear in translation, some here in English for the first time and many difficult to find elsewhere. Selections include writings by Scheiermacher, Nietzsche, Ortega, Benjamin, Pound, Jakobson, Paz, Riffaterre, Derrida and others. A fine companion to The Craft of Translation, this volume will be a valuable resource for all those who translate, those who teach translation theory and practice and those interested in questions of language, philosophy and literary theory.

Into the Heart of European Poetry John Taylor, 2017-07-05. John Taylor's brilliant new book examines the work of many of the major poets who have deeply marked modern and contemporary European literature. Venturing far and wide from the France in which he has lived since the late 1970s, the polyglot writer-critic not only delves into the more widely translated literatures of Italy, Greece, Germany and Austria but also discovers impressive and overlooked work in Slovenia, Bosnia, Hungary, Finland, Norway and the Netherlands. In this book that ranges over nearly all of Europe, including Russia. While providing this stimulating and far-ranging critical panorama, Taylor brings to light key themes of European writing: the depth of everyday life, the quest of the thing in itself, metaphysical aspiration and anxiety, the dialectics of negativity and affirmation, subjectivity and self-effacement and uprootedness as a category that is as ontological as it is geographical, historical, political or cultural. The book pays careful attention to the intersection of writing and history or politics as several poets featured here have faced the Second World War, the Holocaust, Communism, the fall of Communism or the war in the former Yugoslavia. Taylor gives the work of renowned, upcoming and still little-known poets a thorough look, all the while scrutinizing recent translations of their verse. He highlights several poets who are also masters of the prose poem. He includes a few novelists who have fashioned a particularly original kind of poetic prose, that stylistic category that has proved so difficult for critics to define. Into the Heart of European Poetry should be of immediate interest to any reader curious about the aesthetic and philosophical ideas underlying major trends of contemporary European writing In a day and age when much too little is translated and thus known about foreign literature and when Europeans themselves are pondering the common denominators of their own culture this book is a
