Mitchell, Katarina Giritli-Nygren, Relebohile Molestane, 2023-12-18 Positionality and researcher reflexivity how to account for one's subject position remain as challenges for new researchers But they also remain as challenges for experienced researchers who are often involved in multiple research projects simultaneously Where Am I in the Picture sheds light on the idea of researcher positionality through visual methodologies particularly in the context of studying rurality in Canada Sweden and South Africa The book is intended for new and experienced researchers seeking to decolonize their own perspectives in research in the social sciences and humanities It incorporates photographs drawings and memory work to highlight the social constructedness of what counts as rural Drawing together compelling narratives from researchers about their positionality in studying rurality the book highlights a need for greater attention to where we are in the picture more broadly It suggests that when it comes to the rural researchers need to rethink the interplay of dominant images insider and outsider perspectives and what this interplay means in relation to interpretation Where Am I in the Picture presents a new vision of how to take into consideration positionality in research

Anthropos and the Material Penny Harvey, Christian Krohn-Hansen, Knut G. Nustad, 2019-05-09 The destructive effects of modern industrial societies have shaped the planet in such profound ways that many argue for the existence of a new geological epoch called the Anthropocene This claim brings into relief a set of challenges that have deep implications for how relations between the human the material and the political affect contemporary social worlds The contributors to Anthropos and the Material examine these challenges by questioning and complicating long held understandings of the divide between humans and things They present ethnographic case studies from across the globe addressing myriad topics that range from labor economics and colonialism to technology culture the environment agency and diversity In foregrounding the importance of connecting natural and social histories the instability and intangibility of the material and the ways in which the lively encounters between the human and the nonhuman challenge conceptions of liberal humanism the contributors point to new understandings of the capacities of people and things to act transform and adapt to a changing world

In the Event Lotte Meinert, Bruce Kapferer, 2015-05-01 Events are generative moments in at least three senses events are created by and condense larger scale social structures as moments they spark and give rise to new social processes in themselves events may also serve to analyze social situations and relationships Based on ethnographic studies from around the world varying from rituals and meetings over protests and conflicts to natural disasters and management this volume analyzes generative moments through events that hold the key to understanding larger social situations These events including the Ashura ritual in Bahrain social cleavages in South Africa a Buddhist cave in Nepal drought in Burkina Faso an earthquake in Pakistan the cartoon crisis in Denmark corporate management at Bang Olufsen protest meetings in Europe and flooding and urban citizenship in Mozambique are not simply destructive disasters crises and conflicts but also generative and constitutive of the social

Introducing Urban Anthropology Rivke Jaffe, Anouk de Koning, 2022-12-30 This book provides an up to date introduction to the important field of urban anthropology This is a critical area of study as more than half of the world's population now lives in cities and anthropological research is increasingly done in an urban context Exploring contemporary anthropological approaches to the urban the authors consider How can we define urban anthropology What are the main themes of twenty first century urban anthropological research What are the possible future directions in the field The chapters cover topics such as urban mobilities place making and public space production and consumption and politics and governance These are illustrated by lively case studies drawn from urban settings across the world Accessible yet theoretically incisive Introducing Urban Anthropology will be a valuable resource for anthropology students and also for those working in urban studies and related disciplines such as sociology and geography The revised second edition includes updated theoretical discussions and new ethnographic case studies It features a new chapter on neoliberalism austerity and solidarity and engages more extensively with digital transformations of urban life

Afrikaners and the Boundaries of Faith in Post-Apartheid South Africa

Annika Björnsdotter Teppo, 2021-09-30 This book examines the shifting moral and spiritual lives of white Afrikaners in South Africa after apartheid The end of South Africa's apartheid system of racial and spatial segregation sparked wide reaching social change as social cultural spatial and racial boundaries were transgressed and transformed This book investigates how Afrikaners have mediated the country's shifting boundaries within the realm of religion For instance one in every three Afrikaners used these new freedoms to leave the traditional Dutch Reformed Church NGK often for an entirely new religious affiliation within the Pentecostal or Charismatic churches or New Religious Movements such as Wiccan neopaganism Based on long term ethnographic fieldwork in the Western Cape area the book investigates what spiritual life after racial totalitarianism means for the members of the ethnic group that constructed and maintained that very totalitarianism Ultimately the book asks how these new Afrikaner religious practices contribute to social solidarity and integration in a persistently segregated society and what they can tell us about racial relations in the country today This book will be of interest to scholars of religious studies social and cultural anthropology and African studies
