Another Love A Novel:

Another Love Amanda Prowse, 2016-01-16 From the multimillion copy bestseller Amanda Prowse the queen of heartbreak fiction In the early years she was happy Romilly loved her stunning house her kind husband and gorgeous daughter Sure life was sometimes exhausting but nothing that a large glass of wine at the end of the day couldn't fix But then a glass of wine became a bottle one bottle became two Once Romilly's family were everything to her Now after years of hiding the drinking she must finally admit that she has found another love Reviews for Amanda Prowse Prowse handles her explosive subject with delicate skill Deeply moving and inspiring DAILY MAIL Powerful and emotional family drama that packs a real punch HEAT A gut wrenching and absolutely brilliant read IRISH SUN Captivating heartbreaking superbly written CLOSER Very uplifting and positive but you may still need a box or two of tissues HELLO An emotional unputdownable read RED Prowse writes gritty contemporary stories but always with an uplifting message of hope SUNDAY INDEPENDENT Another Love Erzsébet Galgóczi, 2007-09-28 Eva Szalanczky a journalist in her late 20s is shot and killed in 1959 p 11 as she attempts an illegal crossing from Hungary to Yugoslavia When Eva's body is brought in First Lieutenant Marosi knows her immediately he loved her back when they were students Marosi wonders why Eva chose an ultimately fatal course had she genuinely wanted to defect Marosi who's on the border forces could have gotten her out or she could have left during the country's 1956 rebellion Another Love Asma Abbas, 2018-10-15 In a time when our loves feel conscripted and exhausted by what we often do not remember desiring Another Love A Politics of the Unrequited explores the form method imperatives and inflections of love in the global post colony and offers a way to re apprehend and re inscribe love in an anticolonial materialist and nonfascist politics and aesthetics The figure of the unrequited is invoked as a symptom of a brutally loveless yet effusively sentimentalized era and also as an ineluctable yet very concrete political location in the face of both the intensifying external realities of war occupation apartheid austerity and terror as well as the increasingly normalized internalizations of ordinary imperialism nationalism neoliberalism fascism and colonialism all of which seem bent on extinguishing the possibility of relation itself The book asks that we look at practices of love and other material labors that yield and sustain these realities within complex lifeworlds indeed those which sustain entire systems of our subjection extraction and disposability such as colonialism capitalism liberalism and fascism as lifeworlds especially when given dominant forms of recognition affection embrace and belonging are unacceptable or even repulsive Distancing itself from shortcuts afforded by love's abstract forms deployed in ethical and moral discourses that at once elevate it yet wholly reduce it to a timeless apolitical essence Another Love sees love as a material and political relation to time and space signaling willed and unwilled shifts in historical reality in societies juggling various wars and annihilations It maintains that love is something in and with which we confess our complicities not only with but also against hegemonic notions of belonging devotion martyrdom hospitality publicity collectivity and solidarity nurtured and harvested under capital and colony The longing and the love missed by the pernicious and reactionary politics both of liberal democracy and the incidental fascisms that it claims to set out to fix can give us clues into past present and future moments of rebellion resistance rejection and redemption that are crucial to a liberatory anticolonial and antifascist politic and to rethinking attachment desire and relation itself
