Part I—A Letter from Down Under

... The river was very still on the curve where the eucalyptus dips towards the water. The light shaded near late afternoon and twilight would soon darken the outline of the wooded bank and the flat landscape stretching to the horizon. Bubbles broke the surface of the water. A small brown head, its sleek furled cap glided silently in the river's flow.

As you can imagine, my esteemed colleague, I wondered what the aborigine was spearing in the lake near Hawkesbury River close to Sidney. I soon discovered the answer. A small creature fought for its life with such force that it caught its assailant with its spur and seemed to cause much pain. I have taken the liberty of posting the skin of the specimen to you for your study. It is preserved in a keg of spirits with another antipodal beast. I send it to your keeping for the Literary and Philosophical Society of Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

I remain your servant,
John Hunter, Governor
New South Wales

Thomas Bewick looked at the letter closely, pursing his lips. He gingerly unfolded the pages of notes and drawings that spilled from the governor's weathered envelope, addressed months ago. With each passing moment his surprise increased: this creature was nothing like any animal seen before. What would he write in his next edition of General History of Quadrupeds? What could he possibly say? The animal seemed hardly real. Is it a mammal, he mused, or ...?

Questions

Hunter's drawings seem unbelievable. Bewick suspects that this is not going to be a simple problem in classification. How should he decide what the creature is? What is the definition of a mammal?

1. Predict in as much detail as possible exactly what features a mammal would be expected to have. Consider the external as well as internal anatomy of a mammal; list all characteristics you can think of. Indicate which of these are exclusive to mammals and which are found in other vertebrates such as fish, amphibians, reptiles, and birds.

looming world disaster All the main characters have normal everyday challenging lives when they are suddenly thrown together to save the world from all life extinction This well researched novel complete with a dash of humour will appeal to those who enjoy a good current could be true story This fast page turning and believable story tries to answer many of the unexplained mysteries of our world including Why do we exist is there some purpose or plan are we alone or are we for some reason being manipulated This story contains a fair portion of fact mingled with some interesting fiction suggesting a potential answer to all of those questions and who knows perhaps a few more

Hidden Rivalries in Victorian Fiction

Jerome Meckier,1987 Victorian fiction has been read and analyzed from a wide range of perspectives in the past century But how did the novelists themselves read and respond to each other s creations when they first appeared Jerome Meckier answers that intriguing question in this ground breaking study of what he terms the Victorian realism wars Meckier argues that nineteenth century British fiction should be seen as a network of intersecting reactions and counteractions in which the novelists rethought and rewrote each other s novels as a way of enhancing their own credibility In an increasingly relative world
