A Sense Of Place A Sense Of Time:

A Sense of Place Steven Kolpan, 2010 In A Sense of Place renowned wine expert and writer Steven Kolpan tells the story of how Francis Ford Coppola brought California's most distinguished and historic vineyard back to life. Gustave Niebaum's Inglenook Estate started in 1879 was one of the Napa Valley's first established vineyards and the birthplace of its premium wine industry. Generations after Niebaum's death the vineyard was sold to Heublein the wine and spirits monolith who broke up the land and changed the Inglenook brand from a premium connoisseur wine to a mass market jug wine. In 1975 Francis Coppola bought the Niebaum residence and the surrounding estate. Along with the original estate's reputation he also brought back some of its original workers including Rafael Rodriguez who in his late seventies now serves as the vineyard manager and historian. Coppola overcame naysayers, red tape and financial turmoil to reestablish the winery as a defender of quality producing wine under four different labels including the revered wine Rubicon. In 1995 Coppola purchased the Inglenook Chateau and its adjacent vineyards fulfilling his dream of reuniting the original Napa Valley estate. Kolpan's luscious flavorful narrative is worth enjoying now and keeping for later.

A Sense of Place Annie Davy, 2019-02-07 Tried and tested accessible strategies that support the wellbeing and learning journey of children through mindfulness with a focus on learning outdoors and connecting with the world. Being outside and connecting with nature is key to young children's learning and wellbeing especially in a busy fast changing and digitalised world. Outdoors children can more easily connect to their bodies and learn about themselves and others and how to be in the world. They use their senses to explore, understand and become mindful of the earth and the people around them. But how can Early Years practitioners best support young children as they engage with nature while also passing on the values about the future of the planet? A Sense of Place is an easily accessible guide that will make outdoor learning more interesting and fun while also supporting children's development of resilience and resourcefulness so that they can survive and thrive in the world as they grow.

Experience, Evidence, and Sense Anna Wierzbicka, 2010-06-24 This book is based on two ideas: first that any language, English no less than any other, represents a universe of meaning shaped by the history and experience of the men and women who have created it; and second that in any language certain culture-specific words act as linchpins for whole networks of meanings and that penetrating the meanings of those key words can therefore open our eyes to an entire cultural universe. In this book Anna Wierzbicka demonstrates that three uniquely English words—evidence, experience, and sense—are exactly such linchpins. Using a rigorous plain language approach to meaning analysis, she unpacks the dense cultural meanings of these key words, disentangles their multiple meanings, and traces their origins back to the tradition of British empiricism. In so doing, she reveals much about cultural attitudes embedded not only in British and American English but also in English as a global language. An interdisciplinary work, Experience, Evidence, and Sense will be of interest to both scholars and students in linguistics and English as well as historians of ideas, sociologists, anthropologists, literary scholars, and scholars of communication A Sense of Place Susan Ogier,2008-09 Designed for elementary students this series inspires creativity based on observations and sensory perceptions Famous works of art and art history introduce thoughtful projects Covering techniques for textiles landscapes depicting movement and using found objects in art these books are sure to inspire young artists Missionary Families Find a Sense of Place and Identity John S. Benson,2015-06-17 Missionary Families Find a Sense of Place and Identity is a community history of members of nineteen Lutheran missionary families who served in Tanzania Based on over ninety interviews and John Benson s extensive knowledge of cultural geography he compares the lives of the missionary generation who grew up in the United States and went to Tanzania as missionaries to those of their children who grew up in Africa but settled in the United States as adults Benson blends his personal experiences as a child of missionaries in Tanzania to tell the story of both generations Missionary Families is centered on the themes of connection to place and religious development and will appeal to scholars of geography cultural studies and religion Sense of Place, Health and Quality of Life Allison Williams,2016-12-05 A significant body of theoretical and empirical studies describes sense of place as an outcome of interconnected psychological social and environmental processes in relation to physical place s Sense of place has been examined particularly in human geography in terms of both the character intrinsic to a place as a localized bounded and material entity and the sentiments of attachment detachment that humans experience and express in relation to specific places Scholars in a wide range of disciplines are increasingly exploring the relationship between place and health and recently the field of public health has been encouraged to recognize sense of place as a potential contributing factor to well being It is evident that over the last few decades sense of place has developed into a versatile construct This important book brings together work related to sense of place and health broadly defined from the perspective of a variety of fields and disciplines It will give the reader an understanding of both the range of applications of this construct within approaches to human health as well as the breadth of research methodologies employed in its investigation A sense of place Lez Cooke,2018-02-28 This pioneering study examines regional British television drama from its beginnings on the BBC and ITV in the 1950s to the arrival of Channel Four in 1982 It discusses the ways in which regionalism regional culture and regional identity have been defined outlines the history of regional broadcasting in the UK and includes two detailed case studies of Granada Television and BBC English Regions Drama representing contrasting examples of regional television drama during what is often described as the golden age of British television The conclusion brings the study up to date by discussing recent developments in regional drama production and by considering future possibilities Written in a scholarly but accessible style the book uncovers a forgotten history of British television drama that will be of interest to lecturers and students of media and cultural studies as well as the general reader with an interest in the history of British television A Sense of Place and Belonging Klemens Karlsson,2025-03-15 A Sense of Place and Belonging examines a marginalized society Chiang Tung Keng Tung in the Eastern Shan State of Myanmar between the dominant cultures of the Burmese

Chinese and Siamese Thai Chiang Tung sits at the historic borderland known as the Golden Triangle an area marked by drug trade human trafficking and civil war Hiding a glorious literary and visual cultural tradition from the fourteenth century Chiang Tung is remarkable for how well it has maintained its Buddhist culture in the turbulent history of war and forced resettlement that formed northern Southeast Asia Klemens Karlsson examines the connection between the Buddhist traditions the ancient cult of territory spirits a cult of the earth place and village that forms a kind of religious map and the monsoon culture of wet rice irrigation Tying together myths and memories told by local people and written in local chronicles with the unique performance of the Songkran festival which dramatizes a symbolic agreement between Tai Khuen people and the indigenous Lua Lawa people A Sense of Place and Belonging presents a historical political religious and cultural context connecting the present with the past the local with the global and tradition with change and transformation

A Sense of Place, a Sense of Time John Brinckerhoff Jackson, 1994 J B Jackson a pioneer in the field of landscape studies here takes us on a tour of American landscapes past and present showing how our surroundings reflect important changes in our culture Because we live in urban and industrial environments that are constantly evolving says Jackson time and movement are increasingly important to us place and permanence less so We no longer gain a feeling of community from where we live or assemble but from common work hours habits and customs Jackson examines the new vernacular landscape of trailers parking lots trucks loading docks and suburban garages which all reflect this emphasis of motility and transience he redefines roads as scenes of work and leisure and social intercourse as places rather than as means of getting to places he argues that public parks are now primarily for children older people and nature lovers while more mobile or gregarious people seek recreation in shopping malls in the street and in sports arenas he discusses the form and function of dwellings in New Mexico from prehistoric Pueblo villages to mobile homes and he criticizes the tendency of some environmentalists to venerate nature instead of interacting with it and learning to share it with others Written with Jackson's customary lucidity and elegance this book reveals his passion for vernacular culture his insights into a style of life that blurs the boundaries between work and leisure between middle and working classes and between public and private spaces
