world Education and Curricular Perspectives in the Qur'an Sarah Risha, 2014-12-11 Education and Curricular Perspectives in the Qur'an is a unique academic study that focuses on different perspectives of education curriculum in the Qur'an. Sarah Risha explains how Allah Almighty as the great teacher communicated His divine message through the Qur'an which may be considered as the textbook to His students the prophets. The primary source is the Qur'an itself and sayings of the Prophet Mohammed when necessary. While curriculum is a broad term, Risha addresses five aspects in particular to examine how the Qur'an deals with this vital element and connects this central religious text to current academic curriculum studies.

Martyrdom and Sacrifice in Islam Meir Hatina, 2016-11-14 Over the years the belief system around self sacrifice has become key to understanding the Middle East and its political relationships with the West although much of the literature and conversation has been restricted to modern concepts of jihadism. The recent spate of scholarship relating to suicide bombers and jihadists studies these concepts without a broader understanding of the principle of martyrdom. This book expands on the chronology of self sacrifice within Islam and contextualises the use of suicide bombings using details of the rise of martyrdom in places such as Iraq, Lebanon, Chechnya and Pakistan. It historicises the background in which jihad has been glorified while also exploring contemporary methods of recruitment like the use of the internet. The authors pay close attention to the different sects and factions of Islam and the differing interpretations of jihad that accompany these ideologies. In the current political climate a book that explores martyrdom within the framework of historical perspectives, geographical regions and the influence of outside cultures is essential.
