A Thousand Years Of Nonlinear History:

A Thousand Years of Nonlinear History Manuel De Landa, 2021-09-14 Following in the wake of his groundbreaking work War in the Age of Intelligent Machines Manuel De Landa presents a brilliant radical synthesis of historical development of the last thousand years A Thousand Years of Nonlinear History sketches the outlines of a renewed materialist philosophy of history in the tradition of Fernand Braudel Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari while engaging in an entirely unprecedented manner the critical new understanding of material processes derived from the sciences of dynamics Working against prevailing attitudes that see history merely as the arena of texts discourses ideologies and metaphors De Landa traces the concrete movements and interplays of matter and energy through human populations in the last millennium The result is an entirely novel approach to the study of human societies and their always mobile semi stable forms cities economies technologies and languages De Landa attacks three domains that have given shape to human societies economics biology and linguistics In each case De Landa discloses the self directed processes of matter and energy interacting with the whim and will of human history itself to form a panoramic vision of the West free of rigid teleology and naive notions of progress and even more important free of any deterministic source for its urban institutional and technological forms The source of all concrete forms in the West's history rather is shown to derive from internal morphogenetic capabilities that lie within the flow of matter energy itself A Swerve Edition A Thousand Years of Non Linear History (in Acq) Manuel De Landa, 1999

Critical Digital Studies Arthur Kroker, Marilouise Kroker, 2008-01-01 Since its initial publication Critical Digital Studies has proven an indispensable guide to understanding digitally mediated culture Bringing together the leading scholars in this growing field internationally renowned scholars Arthur and Marilouise Kroker present an innovative and interdisciplinary survey of the relationship between humanity and technology The reader offers a study of our digital future a means of understanding the world with new analytic tools and means of communication that are defining the twenty first century The second edition includes new essays on the impact of social networking technologies and new media A new section New Digital Media presents important new articles on topics including hacktivism in the age of digital power and the relationship between gaming and capitalism The extraordinary range and depth of the first edition has been maintained in this new edition Critical Digital Studies will continue to provide the leading edge to readers wanting to understand the complex intersection of digital culture and human knowledge Active Matter Skylar Tibbits, 2017-09-29 The first book on active matter an emerging field focused on programming physical materials to assemble themselves transform autonomously and react to information The past few decades brought a revolution in computer software and hardware today we are on the cusp of a materials revolution If yesterday we programmed computers and other machines today we program matter itself This has created new capabilities in design computing and fabrication which allow us to program proteins and bacteria to generate self transforming wood products and architectural details and to create clothing from intelligent textiles that grow themselves This book offers essays and sample projects from the front lines of the emerging field of active matter Active matter and programmable materials are at the intersection of science art design and engineering with applications in fields from biology and computer science to architecture and fashion These essays contextualize current work and explore recent research Sample projects generously illustrated in color show the range of possibilities envisioned by their makers Contributors explore the design of active material at scales from nano to micro kilo and even planetary They investigate processes of self assembly at a microscopic level test new materials that can sense and actuate themselves and examine the potential of active matter in the built environment and in living and artificial systems Active Matter is an essential guide to a field that could shape the future of design The Natural City Stephen B. Scharper, Ingrid Leman-Stefanovic, 2012-01-01 Urban and natural environments are often viewed as entirely separate entities human settlements as the domain of architects and planners and natural areas as untouched wilderness This dichotomy continues to drive decision making in subtle ways but with the mounting pressures of global climate change and declining biodiversity it is no longer viable New technologies are promising to provide renewable energy sources and greener designs but real change will require a deeper shift in values attitudes and perceptions A timely and important collection The Natural City explores how to integrate the natural environment into healthy urban centres from philosophical religious socio political and planning perspectives Recognizing the need to better link the humanities with public policy The Natural City offers unique insights for the development of an alternative vision of urban life The Matter of History Timothy J. LeCain, 2017-07-31 New insights into the microbiome epigenetics and cognition are radically challenging our very idea of what it means to be human while an explosion of neo materialist thinking in the humanities has fostered a renewed appreciation of the formative powers of a dynamic material environment The Matter of History brings these scientific and humanistic ideas together to develop a bold new post anthropocentric understanding of the past one that reveals how powerful organisms and things help to create humans in all their dimensions biological social and cultural Timothy J LeCain combines cutting edge theory and detailed empirical analysis to explain the extraordinary late nineteenth century convergence between the United States and Japan at the pivotal moment when both were emerging as global superpowers Illustrating the power of a deeply material social and cultural history The Matter of History argues that three powerful things cattle silkworms and copper helped to drive these previously diverse nations towards a global Great Convergence Pelagic Passageways Rila Mukherjee, 2011 Due to the frontierization of nation states maritime historians have tended to ignore the northern Bay of Bengal Yet this marginal region now dispersed over the four nation states of India China Myanmar and Bangladesh was not marginal in the past Until recently however historians have concentrated largely on the big four the Gujarat Malabar Coromandel and western Bengal coasts Extreme eastern South Asia Bengal and the lands to its north east fanning into Burma and China or modern India s north east and beyond is the focus of Pelagic Passageways This regional unit including diverse topographic features plains forests estuaries deltas rivers mountains lakes plateaus and remote passes oscillates between unity and fragmentation between centrality and marginality in the larger space of the Bay of Bengal To attempt a history of this space is indeed challenging There is not one but two deltas here the western delta corresponding to present West Bengal in India and centred now on Kolkata and the south eastern delta in present Bangladesh centred on Dhaka and running into Arakan Not merely in terms of location but on a historical axis too the two deltas are vastly different as they have followed disparate trajectories dictated in part by their geographies Pelagic Passageways therefore questions the conventional fault line located on the south eastern Bengal delta between the historiography of South and South East Asia Concentrating on commodity and currency flows travel trade routes and interactive networks Pelagic Passageways visualizes the cultural space of the northern Bay of Bengal as embracing upland landlocked areas Ava Yunnan the Tripuri Dimasa and Ahom states not usually seen as part of maritime history This collection of essays suggests that they too were a part of the social and commercial networks of the Indian Ocean While these countries literally fell off the map this volume proposes that we see these areas instead as crossroads mediating flows between the land dwelling and aquatic worlds Travelling Notions of Culture in Early Nineteenth-Century Europe Hannu Salmi, Asko Nivala, Jukka Sarjala, 2015-10-23 The notions of culture and civilization are at the heart of European self image This book focuses on how space and spatiality contributed to defining the concepts of culture and civilization and conversely what kind of spatial ramifications culture and civilization entailed These questions have vital importance to the understanding of this formative period of modern Europe The chapters of this volume concentrate on the following themes What were the sites of culture civilization and Bildung and how were these sites employed in defining these concepts What kind of borders did this process of definition and its inherent spatial imagination produce What were the connecting routes between the supposed centers and peripheries What were the strategies of envisioning negotiating and transforming cultural territories in early nineteenth century Europe This book adds new perspectives on ways of approaching spatiality in history by investigating for example the decisive role of the French revolution the persistent interest in classical civilization and its sites emerging urbanism and the culture of the cities the changing constellations between centers and peripheries and the colonial extensions or transfigurations of culture It also pays attention to the spatiality of culture as a metaphor but simultaneously emphasizes the production of space in an era of technological innovation and change Philosophy After Nature Rosi Braidotti, Rick Dolphijn, 2017-06-23 The significant changes that have dominated the social and the scientific world over the last thirty years have brought about upheavals and critical re appraisals that have proved quite positive in fostering 21st century thought This interdisciplinary collection of state of the art essays offers innovative and thought provoking insights concerning contemporary philosophical and cultural reflection on the nature culture interaction Starting from the assumption that the binary opposition between the two terms has been replaced by a continuum of the two the volume explores both the terms of this new interaction and its implications Technology occupies a central place in the shift towards a nature cultural continuum but it is not the only factor The consequences of economic globalization notably the global spread of digital mediation also account for this change of perspective Last but not least the climate change issue and a renewed urgency around the state of the environmental crisis also contribute to bring the natural much closer to home Digital mediation has by now become a standard way to live and interact The electronic frontier has altered dramatically the practice of education and research especially in the Humanities and social sciences with direct consequences for the institutional practice and the methodology of these disciplinary fields This book aims to explore the implications of these complex shifts for the practice of critical thinking Ugly, Useless, Unstable Architectures Miguel Paredes

Maldonado,2019-11-04 Ugly Useless Unstable Architectures traces productive intersections between architecture and the discourses of Post Structuralism and New Materialism It investigates how their unique ontological regimes can be mobilised to supersede the classical framework that still informs both the production and the evaluation of architecture Throughout its three main chapters this enquiry challenges one of the most prevalent tropes of architectural assessment Beauty Utility and Stability Author Miguel Paredes Maldonado critically unpacks the spatial and operational qualities of these three idealised concepts before setting out an alternative framework of spatial practice that draws from Gilles Deleuze s post structuralist take on the production of the real and Manuel DeLanda s model based branch of New Materialism This book reads and situates a series of spatial works through the lens of this critical methodology to contest the conceptual aspects traditionally underpinning architectural value It posits that architecture can operate as a continuous generative spectrum encompassing a broad range of potential configurations Written for academics and students in architectural theory design and contemporary philosophical thought alike this book should appeal to a wide audience
