

AFTER FREEDOM

A photograph of a man with dark skin and short hair, wearing a red and white horizontally striped shirt. He is looking down at a document or book that is propped up on a table. The scene is dimly lit, with a warm, orange glow from a light source on the left. The background is dark and out of focus.

After Freedom The Rise Of The Post Apartheid Generation In Democratic South Africa:

After Freedom Katherine S. Newman, Ariane De Lannoy, 2015-03-24 Twenty years after the end of apartheid a new generation is building a multiracial democracy in South Africa but remains mired in economic inequality and political conflict The death of Nelson Mandela in 2013 arrived just short of the twentieth anniversary of South Africa's first free election reminding the world of the promise he represented as the nation's first Black president Despite significant progress since the early days of this new democracy frustration is growing as inequalities that once divided the races now grow within them as well In After Freedom award winning sociologist Katherine S Newman and South African expert Ariane De Lannoy bring alive the voices of the freedom generation who came of age after the end of apartheid Through the stories of seven ordinary individuals who will inherit the richest and yet most unequal country in Africa Newman and De Lannoy explore how young South Africans whether Black White mixed race or immigrant confront the lingering consequences of racial oppression These intimate portraits illuminate the erosion of old loyalties the eruption of class divides and the heated debate over policies designed to redress the evils of apartheid Even so the freedom generation remains committed to a united South Africa and is struggling to find its way toward that vision

The Market Photo Workshop in South Africa and the 'Born Free' Generation Julie Bonzon, 2023-09-15 This study presents the history of the Market Photo Workshop MPW in Johannesburg and works produced by its new generation of photography students Founded in 1989 by internationally renowned documentary photographer David Goldblatt the MPW has reflected upon South African political struggles and sociocultural changes since its creation Its foundation parallels a moment in time when photography was considered a truth telling genre and an essential source of documents deployed against the apartheid regime This book reflects on the evolution of the MPW in the post apartheid era and explores how its new generation of students engages the photographic tradition of this institution and the revolutionary times that accompanied its creation to question their present moment The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history visual studies photography African studies cultural studies and post colonial studies

Scholarship Students in Elite South African Schools Jennifer Wallace, Jennifer Feldman, 2022-11-16 This book provides a narrative account of the experiences of twenty former scholarship students from historically disadvantaged communities who attended elite public and private secondary schools It draws on in depth one on one semi structured interviews conducted with former scholarship recipients who were between the ages of 19 and 24 years at the time of the interviews Various themes are explored specifically focusing on elite schooling in relation to the experiences and navigational practices of the scholarship recipients and the adjustments that they felt they needed to make in order to fit into the elite school space The book analyses and discusses the reflective experiences of students who were awarded a scholarship to attend an elite secondary school It reveals that accepting the gift of a scholarship is far more complex multi layered and at times harsh and even painful for the individual recipients than is possibly realized by those involved in this practice This book contributes to academic educational debates within the sociology of education elite schools and schooling in the post apartheid South African context

The Visual Dynamics of Art, Black Care, and Ethics in South African Art Raél Jero Salley, 2025-02-18 This book interprets relationships between art and ethics in the context of contemporary South African art Nearly three decades after inaugurating political freedom in a democratic form the infrastructure of South Africa faces palpable issues and challenges to the social fabric The social tension involves painful struggles for decolonization and violent debates about the removal of colonial statues change of colonial names transformation of universities and curriculum change This book does critical work in art history theory criticism and visual culture by looking from and looking after social differences to interpret the potential impact of contemporary media and mediation Artists examined include Zanele Muholi Mohau Modisekeng Dineo Seshee Bopape Hasan and Husain Essop and Kemang Wa Lehulere This book will be of interest to scholars working in art history contemporary art visual culture art theory ethics aesthetics philosophy of art and African studies

#RhodesMustFall B. Nyamnjoh, 2016-04-18 This book on rights entitlements and citizenship in post apartheid South Africa shows how the playing field has not been as levelled as presumed by some and how racism and its benefits persist Through everyday interactions and experiences of university students and professors it explores the question of race in a context still plagued by remnants of apartheid inequality and perceptions of inferiority and inadequacy among the majority black population In education black voices and concerns go largely unheard as circles of privilege are continually regenerated and added onto a layered and deep history of cultivation of black pain These issues are examined against the backdrop of organised student protests sweeping through the countrys universities with a renewed clamour for transformation around a rallying cry of Black Lives Matter The nuanced complexity of this insightful analysis of the Rhodes Must Fall movement elicits compelling questions about the attractions and dangers of exclusionary articulations of belonging What could a grand imperialist like the stripling Uitlander or foreigner of yesteryear Sir Cecil John Rhodes possibly have in common with the present day nimble footed makwerekwere from Africa north of the Limpopo The answer Nyamnjoh suggests is to be found in how human mobility relentlessly tests the boundaries of citizenship

Muslims in Southern Africa Samadia Sadouni, 2019-03-13 This book presents a socio historical analysis of the Somali Muslim diaspora in Johannesburg and its impact on urban development in the context of Somali migrations in the Southern African Indian Ocean region from the end of the 19th Century to today The author draws on a combination of archival and ethnographic research to examine the interlocking processes of migration urban place making economic entrepreneurship and transnational mobility through the lens of religious practice and against the background of historical interactions between the Somali diaspora and the British and Ottoman Empires Comparison with other Muslim diasporas in the region primarily Indians adds further depth to an investigation which will shed new light on the Somali experience of mobility and the urban development of South Africa across its colonial apartheid and democratic periods The politics of race imperial and post imperial identities and religious community governance are shown to be key influencing factors on the Somali diaspora in Johannesburg This sophisticated analysis will provide a valuable resource for students and scholars of urban geography the sociology of religion and African race ethnic and migration studies

Youth In South Africa Ariane De Lannoy, Malose Langa, 2021-05-05 South Africa is characterised by a youthful population and the challenges and possibilities that characterise the young generation are both warning signs and beacons of hope for a nation founded on social justice Youth in South Africa Agency in visibility and national development takes stock of the nation s development as it affects young people Authors offer both personal and professional insights into the ways in which the youth navigate their own pathways to adulthood These include formal and informal engagements with politics as well as protest un employment entrepreneurship education religion experiences with sexuality and violence and a multitude of other life experiences Contributors paint a picture of the initiative agency and resilience of the youth as well as the challenges before them Authors also identify the state of waithood faced by those unable to make the transition out of youth into full adulthood as a result of their socio economic circumstances and political context By engaging these experiences and insights and primarily informed by the inputs of young people the authors highlight the limitations of existing youth policies and frameworks The case is made for policy instruments to be informed by the lived experiences of the youth as they navigate a complex macrosocial environment and by the messages the youth communicate about the limitations of current approaches

Nelson Mandela Valerie Bodden, 2022-07-06 LEADERS WHO CHANGED THE WORLD In his lifetime Nelson Mandela was viewed as a terrorist by some and a liberator by others Today opinions about South Africa s first democratically elected president remain split But no matter how they feel about Mandela most South Africans acknowledge that they owe him for many of the freedoms they enjoy Beyond that Mandela became a symbol of what it meant to stand up to oppression and then to forgive the oppressor The South African freedom fighter was jailed for 26 years from the age of 46 to 71 for his protests against apartheid From militant resistance against a white government to call for reconciliation from challenging his oppressors to later famously forgiving them from spending decades in prison to acknowledging those years as a period of learning Mandela s views and his politics are not palatable to all but they certainly made heads turn and garnered him and his fight global recognition Read all about the controversial life of Nelson Mandela the man who was born to be king

VALERIE BODDEN is the author of more than 200 children s books Her books have received critical acclaim from Booklist Children s Literature ForeWord Magazine Horn Book Guide VOYA and School Library Journal The Russia-Ukraine
