A World Of Work Imagined Manuals For Real Jobs:

A World of Work Ilana M. Gershon, 2015-11-25 Ever wondered what it would be like to be a street magician in Paris A fish farmer in Norway A costume designer in Bollywood This playful and accessible look at different types of work around the world delivers a wealth of information and advice about a wide array of jobs and professions The value of this book is twofold For young people or middle aged people who are undecided about their career paths and feel constrained in their choices A World of Work offers an expansive vision For ethnographers this book offers an excellent example of using the practical details of everyday life to shed light on larger structural issues Each chapter in this collection of ethnographic fiction could be considered a job manual Yet not any typical job manual to do justice to the ways details about jobs are conveyed in culturally specific ways the authors adopt a range of voices and perspectives One chapter is written as though it was a letter from an older sister counseling her brother on how to be a doctor in Malawi Another is framed as a eulogy for a well loved village magistrate in Papua New Guinea who may have been killed by sorcery Beneath the novelty of the examples are some serious messages that Ilana Gershon highlights in her introduction These ethnographies reveal the connection between work and culture the impact of societal values on the conditions of employment Readers will be surprised at how much they can learn about an entire culture by being given the chance to understand just one occupation Race and Ethnicity in Digital

Culture Anthony Bak Buccitelli, 2017-11-10 In this unprecedented study leading scholars and emerging voices from around the world consider how race and ethnicity continue to shape our everyday lives even as digital technology seems to promise a release from our real social identities How do people use the new expressive features of digital technologies to experience represent discuss and debate racial and ethnic identity How have digital technologies or digital spaces become racialized How have the existing vernacular traditions or folklore surrounding identity been reshaped in digital spaces And how have new traditions emerged This interdisciplinary volume of essays explores the role of traditional culture in the evolving expressions practices and images of race and ethnicity in the digital age The work examines cultural forms in exclusively digital environments as well as in the hybrid environments created by mobile technologies where real life becomes overlaid with digital content Insights from academics across disciplines including anthropology communications folkloristics art and sociology consider the interplay between race ethnicity everyday vernacular culture and digital technologies Six sections explore traditional cultural affordances of technology folklore and digital applications visual cultures of race and ethnicity racism and exclusion online political activism and race and concluding observations The book covers technologies such as vlogs video games digital photography messaging applications social media sites and the Internet Reflecting on

America Clare L. Boulanger, 2017-07-05 Anthropologists travel back in time and across the globe to understand human culture but surprise there is culture right here in the United States This second edition of the best selling textbook and anthology Reflecting on America again focuses on how we can recognize the common cultural thread running through diverse American phenomena from heroin addiction and Big Business's efforts to shape the identities of children to Civil War reenactments and the popularity of burlesque in the Midwest. In addition, this second edition includes chapters written especially for this volume on striptease, Burning Man, The Big Bang Theory TV show, and Groundhog Phil. Written throughout with verve and quirky humor and offering questions for discussion after every article, this book is perfect for undergraduate classes in anthropology and American studies. Drawing together twenty-two scholars with expertise in anthropological ideas about culture, Reflecting on America examines what it means to be American. Living with Animals Natalie Porter, Ilana Gershon, Ilana M. Gershon, 2018-09-15. No detailed description available for Living with Animals. Down and Out in the New Economy Ilana Gershon, 2024-07-06. What does it mean to market yourself as a business in today's job search world? Finding a job used to be simple. Now well, it's complicated. In today's economy, you can't just be an employee looking to get hired; you have to market yourself as a business, one that can help another business achieve its goals. That's a radical transformation in how we think about work and employment, says Ilana Gershon. And with Down and Out in the New Economy, she digs deep into that change and what it means, not just for job seekers but for businesses and our very culture. In telling this story, Gershon covers all parts of the employment spectrum: she interviews hiring managers about how they assess candidates, attends personal branding seminars, talks with managers at companies around the United States to suss out regional differences like how Silicon Valley firms look askance at the lengthier employment tenures of applicants from the Midwest. And she finds that not everything has changed, though the technological trappings may be glitzier in a lot of cases, who you know remains more important than what you know. Rich in the voices of people deeply involved with all parts of the employment process, Down and Out in the New Economy offers a snapshot of the quest for work today and a pointed analysis of its larger meaning. Implementing Inequality Rebecca Warne Peters, 2020-01-17. An ethnographic study of development work in postwar Angola, Implementing Inequality demonstrates how the international development industry's internal social dynamics inadvertently replicate global inequalities. Underestimating the intense relational work of the development implementariat in country, implementation agents sabotage themselves and must revisit how to assess their work and workers. New Metropolitan Perspectives Francesco Calabrò, Lucia Della Spina, María José Piñeira Mantiñán, 2022-08-24. The book aims to face the challenge of post-COVID-19 dynamics toward green and digital transition between metropolitan and return-to-villages perspectives. It presents a multi-disciplinary scientific debate on the new frontiers of strategic and spatial planning, economic programs, and decision support tools within the urban-rural areas, networks, and the metropolitan cities. The book focuses on six topics: inner and marginalized areas, local development to rebalance territorial inequalities, knowledge and innovation ecosystem for urban regeneration and resilience, metropolitan cities and territorial dynamics, rules of governance, economy, society, green buildings, post-carbon city, and ecosystem services, infrastructures, and spatial information systems, cultural heritage conservation, enhancement, and management. In addition, the book hosts a Special Section Region United Nations 2020 2030 The book will benefit all researchers practitioners and policymakers interested in the issues applied to metropolitan cities and marginal areas Work, Society, and the Ethical Self Chris Hann, 2021-09-17 Primarily on the basis of ethnographic case studies from around the world this volume links investigations of work to questions of personal and professional identity and social relations In the era of digitalized neoliberalism particular attention is paid to notions of freedom both collective in social relations and individual in subjective experiences These cannot be investigated separately Rather than juxtapose economy with ethics or the profitable with the good the authors uncover complex entanglements between the drudgery experienced by most people in the course of making a living and ideals of emancipated personhood Performance Costume Sofia Pantouvaki, Peter McNeil, 2020-12-10 Costume is an active agent for performance making it is a material object that embodies ideas shaped through collaborative creative work A new focus in recent years on research in the area of costume has connected this practice in vital and new ways with theories of the body and embodiment design practices artistic and other forms of collaboration Costume like fashion and dress is now viewed as an area of dynamic social significance and not simply as passive reflector of a pre conceived social state or practice This book offers new approaches to the study of costume as well as fresh insights into the better understood frames of historical theoretical practice based and archival research into costume for performance This anthology draws on the experience of a global group of established researchers as well as emerging voices Below is a list of just some of the things it achieves 1 Introduces diverse perspectives innovative new research methods and approaches for researching design and the costumed body in performance 2 Contributes towards a new understanding of how costume actually performs in time and space 3 Offers new insights into existing practices as well as creating a space of connection between practitioners and researchers from design the humanities and social sciences Making Media Mark Deuze, Mirjam Prenger, 2025-10-01 Making Media uncovers what it means and what it takes to make media focusing on the lived experience of media professionals within the global media including rich case studies of the main media industries and professions television journalism social media entertainment advertising and public relations digital games and music This carefully edited volume features 35 authoritative essays by 53 researchers from 14 countries across 6 continents all of whom are at the cutting edge of media production studies The book is particularly designed for use in coursework on media production media work media management and media industries Specific topics highlighted the history of media industries and production studies production studies as a field and a research method changing business models economics and management global concentration and convergence of media industries and professions the rise and role of startups and entrepreneurship freelancing in the digital age the role of creativity and innovation the emotional quality of media work diversity and inequality in the media industries Open Uva Course The University of Amsterdam has a open course around the book The course offers a review of the key readings and debates in media production studies
