Talking the Walk & Walking the Talk Marc Shell,2015-09-01 This book argues that we should regard walking and talking in a single rhythmic vision In doing so it contributes to the theory of prosody our understanding of respiration and looking and in sum to the particular links across the board between the human characteristics of bipedal walking and meaningful talk The author first introduces the philosophical neurological anthropological and aesthetic aspects of the subject in historical perspective then focuses on rhetoric and introduces a tension between the small and large issues of rhythm He thereupon turns his attention to the roles of breathing in poetry as a life and death matter with attention to beats and walking poems This opens onto technical concepts from the classical traditions of rhetoric and philology Turning to the relationship between prosody and motion he considers both animals and human beings as both ostensibly able bodied creatures and presumptively disabled ones Finally he looks at dancing and writing as aspects of walking and talking with special attention to motion in Arabic and Chinese calligraphy The final chapters of the book provide a series of interrelated representative case studies

Autonomy Nicholas Brown,2019-02-28 In Autonomy Nicholas Brown theorizes the historical and theoretical argument for art s autonomy from its acknowledged character as a commodity Refusing the position that the distinction between art and the commodity has collapsed Brown demonstrates how art can in confronting its material determinations suspend the logic of capital by demanding interpretive attention He applies his readings of Marx Hegel Adorno and Jameson to a range of literature photography music television and sculpture from Cindy Sherman s photography and the novels of Ben Lerner and Jennifer Egan to The Wire and the music of the White Stripes He demonstrates that through their attention and commitment to form such artists turn aside the determination posed by the demand of the market thereby defeating the foreclosure of meaning entailed in commodification In so doing he offers a new theory of art that prompts a rethinking of the relationship between art critical theory and capitalism Ways of Voice Matthew
