Afghanistan Transition Under Threat Studies In International Governance:

Mainstreaming the Tribal Areas (ex-FATA) of Pakistan Bordering Afghanistan Asghar Khan, 2022-08-23 The book addresses why the Pakistani state is facing persistent challenges in extending and consolidating its governance authority throughout its territories especially in the former Federally Administered Tribal Areas ex FATA Even after the de jure merger the question still remains valid that how Pakistani state could establish its governance in these tribal areas Through multi dimensional approaches and multi pronged analysis of state centric top down society centric bottom up and state in society mixed horizontal approaches the book explains factors and dimensions that pose challenges to Pakistani state governance in ex FATA The main hypothesis is that societies where state governance is absent turn to informal governance and create informal institutions as a substitute for the weak central state governance thereby challenging the domination and control authority of the state The book presents policy recommendations for bringing these tribal areas into the mainstream governance system of Pakistan

Afghanistan Geoffrey Hayes, Mark Sedra, 2008-10-10 By the fall of 2008 seven years after the fall of the Taliban regime the future of Afghanistan s post conflict transition looks more uncertain than ever Driving this uncertainty is a security environment that has steadily deteriorated with each passing year creating a level of instability even greater in Iraq according to some indicators However insecurity is not the only dilemma that has threatened to undercut Afghanistan s transition to peace and stability Problems of corruption and poor service delivery in the state coupled with the failure of the internationally supported reconstruction process to improve the quality of life for so many Afghans trapped in grinding poverty has begun to erode public confidence in the new political order

Contested Terrain Sally L Kitch, 2014-10-30 Sally L Kitch explores the crisis in contemporary Afghan women s lives by focusing on two remarkable Afghan professional women working on behalf of their Afghan sisters Kitch s compelling narrative follows the stories of Judge Marzia Basel and Jamila Afghani from 2005 through 2013 providing an oft ignored perspective on the personal and professional lives of Afghanistan s women Contending with the complex dynamics of a society both undergoing and resisting change Basel and Afghani speak candidly and critically of matters like international intervention and patriarchal Afghan culture capturing the ways in which immense possibility alternates and vies with utter hopelessness Strongly rooted in feminist theory and interdisciplinary historical and geopolitical analysis Contested Terrain sheds new light on the struggle against the powerful forces that affect Afghan women s education health political participation livelihoods and quality of life The book also suggests how a new dialogue might be started in which women from across geopolitical boundaries might find common cause for change and rewrite their collective stories

Poppies, Politics, and Power James Tharin Bradford, 2019-06-15 Historians have long neglected Afghanistan s broader history when portraying the opium industry But in Poppies Politics and Power James Tharin Bradford rebalances the discourse showing that it is not the past forty years of lawlessness that makes the opium industry what it is but the sheer breadth of the twentieth century Afghanistan experience

Rather than byproducts of a failed contemporary system argues Bradford drugs especially opium were critical components in the formation and failure of the Afghan state In this history of drugs and drug control in Afghanistan Bradford shows us how the country moved from licit supply of the global opium trade to one of the major suppliers of hashish and opium through changes in drug control policy shaped largely by the outside force of the United States Poppies Politics and Power breaks the conventional modes of national histories that fail to fully encapsulate the global nature of the drug trade By providing a global history of opium within the borders of Afghanistan Bradford demonstrates that the country's drug trade and the government's position on that trade were shaped by the global illegal market and international efforts to suppress it By weaving together this global history of the drug trade and drug policy with the formation of the Afghan state and issues within Afghan political culture Bradford completely recasts the current Afghan and global drug trade

The Oxford Handbook of Global Drug History Paul Gootenberg, 2022 This landmark collection of essays by thirty five historians working on a global scale brings together the latest knowledge and perspectives about the long origins and transformations of today's illicit drugs such as cannabis heroin and cocaine

From Civil Strife to Peace Building Hany Besada, 2011-04-07 From Civil Strife to Peace Building examines peace building efforts in the fragile West African states of Sierra Leone Liberia and Côte d'Ivoire with a focus on the role of the private sector in leading the reconstruction initiatives Given that aid and debt relief the traditional remedies for dependency and underdevelopment have not been effective the private sector is increasingly viewed as a major player in the revival of regional economies Private sector support however requires government intervention to improve investment climates curb corruption strengthen the security sector and reduce the cost of doing business The contributors discuss ways in which West African governments can encourage the greater involvement of business in humanitarian support with incentives that demonstrate alignment with business objectives and profit margins making humanitarian support simple and more importantly profitable and sustainable for both local and foreign investors Co published with the Centre for International Governance Innovation CIGI

Emerging Powers in Global Governance Andrew F. Cooper, Agata Antkiewicz, 2010-10-30 The early twenty first century has seen the beginning of a considerable shift in the global balance of power Major international governance challenges can no longer be addressed without the ongoing cooperation of the large countries of the global South Brazil Russia India China South Africa ASEAN states and Mexico wield great influence in the macro economic foundations upon which rest the global political economy and institutional architecture It remains to be seen how the size of the emerging powers translates into the ability to shape the international system to their own will In this book leading international relations experts examine the positions and roles of key emerging countries in the potential transformation of the G8 and the prospects for their deeper engagement in international governance The essays consider a number of overlapping perspectives on the G8 Heiligendamm Process a cooperation agreement that originated from the 2007 summit and offer an in depth look at the challenges and promises presented by the rise of the emerging powers Co published with the Centre for International Governance Innovation The Independence of South Sudan Walter C. Soderlund, E. Donald Briggs, 2014-11-24 The Responsibility to Protect the report of the International Commission on Intervention and State Sovereignty ICISS focused on three international responsibilities in the area of human security the responsibility to prevent the responsibility to react and the responsibility to rebuild The report acknowledged the difficulty of identifying countries likely to experience widespread civil violence and then predicting when this would occur But the authors of this book submit that if ever a case of a responsibility to prevent was possible to anticipate South Sudan was it A Comprehensive Peace Agreement CPA ended the Sudanese second civil war in 2005 with a call for a referendum to be held in South Sudan in 2011 to determine the region's future In the event an overwhelming majority voted for independence for the region The question that motivated this book is whether the CPA would set in motion a process resulting in yet another brutal conflict and if that conflict was widely predicted what should be the response of the international community in terms of responsibility to prevent Mass media coverage has been identified as an important factor in mobilizing the international community into action in crisis and potential crisis situations however the impact of media reporting on actual decision making is unclear Thirty plus years of research has demonstrated consistent agenda setting effects while a more recent stream of research has confirmed significant framing effects the latter most likely to occur in cases where advocacy framing is used This book examines the way in which the press in Canada and the United States interpreted the potential for violence that accompanied South Sudan's independence in 2011 and whether or not their governments had a responsibility to prevent Implementing the World Intellectual Property Organization's Development Agenda Jeremy de Beer, 2009-04-24 The newly adopted World Intellectual Property Organization WIPO Development Agenda presents a real opportunity to revolutionize the international governance of intellectual property law and policy The litmus test for its success however will be if and how the agenda is implemented in practice This edited collection brings together a series of incisive essays written by leading thinkers from emerging economies Canada and elsewhere to develop concrete strategies for implementing the agenda The essays cover a range of fundamental issues surrounding the agenda and examine its recommendations from multidisciplinary and multi regional perspectives Several essays explore the role of WIPO and its member states in steering the direction of future reform as well as potential approaches to achieve this goal Other contributions examine specific recommendations on WIPO's activities within the broader context of development This volume will be a useful source of reference for informed but non expert readers including government officials and delegates at international and capital levels leaders of the international business community individuals in inter and non governmental organizations and scholars in the fields of law and international governance Co published with the International Development Research Centre and the Centre for International Governance Innovation Redesigning the World Trade Organization for the Twenty-first Century Debra P. Steger, 2010-05-06 Two high level commissions the Sutherland report in 2004 and the Warwick Commission report in 2007 addressed the future of the World Trade Organization and made proposals for incremental reform. This book goes further: it explains why institutional reform of the WTO is needed at this critical juncture in world history and provides innovative practical proposals for modernizing the WTO to enable it to respond to the challenges of the twenty-first century. Contributors focus on five critical areas: transparency, decision and rule making, procedures, internal management structures, participation by non-governmental organizations and civil society, and relationships with regional trade agreements. Co-published with the International Development Research Centre and the Centre for International Governance Innovation.
