Atlas Illustr Bire Collectif:

The Atlas, 1828 East African Mammals Jonathan Kingdon, 1988-12-29 Acclaimed and coveted by both naturalists and lovers of wildlife illustration Jonathan Kingdon's seven volume East African Mammals has become a classic of modern natural history This paperback edition makes Kingdon's remarkable artistic and scientific achievement his hundreds of drawings and perceptive study of all the mammals in East Africa's species rich fauna available to the wide audience it deserves Volume IIIA documents the carnivores of East Africa lions cheetahs jackals otters civets genets mongooses hyenas and such lesser known species as the zorilla and the aardwolf The beauty of the animals so vivid in these incomparable drawings is made more poignant by the acknowledgment of their increasingly endangered status Kingdon discusses the inevitable problems posed by large mammal communities in a developing continent and includes numerous maps indicating their declining ranges and populations Johnson's New General Cyclopaedia and Copperplate Hand-atlas of the World, 1885 The Century

Anti-Atlas Tim Beasley-Murray, Wendy Bracewell, Michał Murawski, 2025-02-25 The invasion of Ukraine is the latest in a series of upheavals that have made eastern Europe a telling point from which to consider the place of area studies in the construction of knowledge about the world The politics of academic knowledge about areas now feels more urgent than ever Anti Atlas plays with the politics of the conventional atlas with its assumptions about knowledge and power its hierarchies of value and its simplifications It presents a collection of essays written by an eclectic mix of authors from Europe both east and west the UK and North America These entries analyse a necessarily incomplete selection of topics but they all engage with the question of how an approach to area can be critical and each entry demonstrates different aspects of criticality The editors develop a manifesto for such criticality calling attention to positions that are heterodox area informed or vernacular undisciplined and collaborative Through a variety of genres including the scholarly article the travel guide autobiographical reflections and data visualisations Anti Atlas provides readers with a diverse series of intellectual resources asking them to think critically about the ways in which we construct the world by dividing it into pieces Praise for Anti Atlas Anti Atlas is an imaginative brave attempt to reframe area studies simultaneously rebuilding our images and cartographies of the world Assembling dozens of authors from broad swaths of Eastern Europe the Balkans and the East of the East the volume is an essential antidote to knowledge produced in the service of empires past or present Aida A Hozi University of Florida Atlas of North American Astragalus Rupert C. Barneby, 1964 The Best Art in the World Noah Becker, Michael Maizels, 2025-08-12 Founded in 2005 Whitehot Magazine has become one of the leading channels for contemporary art criticism Since its inception Whitehot has published thousands of reviews covering art from the United States East Asia the Middle East Africa and South America with key pieces authored by critical luminaries including Anthony Haden Guest Donald

Kuspit and Phoebe Hoban The magazine is also uniquely independent in its editorial voice Unlike other large art world publications Whitehot is owned and managed by its founding editor rather than by a media holding company On the occasion of its upcoming 20th anniversary founder Noah Becker and contributor Michael Maizels have compiled a critical anthology of the magazine's writings The selected articles not only encapsulate the storied history of Whitehot but also provide a significant window into the evolution of art practice and art criticism since the turn of the Millennium Objectivity Lorraine Daston, Peter L. Galison, 2021-02-02 Objectivity has a history and it is full of surprises In Objectivity Lorraine Daston and Peter Galison chart the emergence of objectivity in the mid nineteenth century sciences and show how the concept differs from alternatives truth to nature and trained judgment This is a story of lofty epistemic ideals fused with workaday practices in the making of scientific images From the eighteenth through the early twenty first centuries the images that reveal the deepest commitments of the empirical sciences from anatomy to crystallography are those featured in scientific atlases the compendia that teach practitioners of a discipline what is worth looking at and how to look at it Atlas images define the working objects of the sciences of the eye snowflakes galaxies skeletons even elementary particles Galison and Daston use atlas images to uncover a hidden history of scientific objectivity and its rivals Whether an atlas maker idealizes an image to capture the essentials in the name of truth to nature or refuses to erase even the most incidental detail in the name of objectivity or highlights patterns in the name of trained judgment is a decision enforced by an ethos as well as by an epistemology As Daston and Galison argue atlases shape the subjects as well as the objects of science To pursue objectivity or truth to nature or trained judgment is simultaneously to cultivate a distinctive scientific self wherein knowing and knower converge Moreover the very point at which they visibly converge is in the very act of seeing not as a separate individual but as a member of a particular scientific community Embedded in the atlas image therefore are the traces of consequential choices about knowledge persona and collective sight Objectivity is a book addressed to any one interested in the elusive and crucial notion of objectivity and in what it means to peer into the world scientifically A London Encyclopaedia, Or Universal Dictionary of Science, Art, Literature and Practical Mechanics Thomas Curtis, 1829 Engineering: an Illustrated Weekly Journal, 1901
