A New Engagement Political Participation Civic Life And The Changing American Citizen:

A New Engagement? Cliff Zukin, Scott Keeter, Molly Andolina, Krista Jenkins, Michael X. Delli Carpini, 2006-05-18 In searching for answers as to why young people differ vastly from their parents and grandparents when it comes to turning out the vote A New Engagement challenges the conventional wisdom that today's youth is plagued by a severe case of political apathy In order to understand the current nature of citizen engagement it is critical to separate political from civic engagement Using the results from an original set of surveys and the authors own primary research they conclude that while older citizens participate by voting young people engage by volunteering and being active in their communities

The Future of Democracy Peter Levine, 2007 A nonpartisan clarion call for civic renewal to restore American democracy Political and Civic Engagement Martyn Barrett, Bruna Zani, 2014-11-27 Based upon a three year multi disciplinary international research project Political and Civic Participation examines the interplay of factors affecting civic and political engagement and participation across different generations nations and ethnic groups and the shifting variety of forms that participation can take The book draws upon an extensive body of data to answer the following key questions Why do many citizens fail to vote in elections Why are young people turning increasingly to street demonstrations charitable activities consumer activism and social media to express their political and civic views What are the barriers which hinder political participation by women ethnic minorities and migrants How can greater levels of engagement with public issues be encouraged among all citizens Together the chapters in this volume provide a comprehensive overview of current understandings of the factors and processes which influence citizens patterns of political and civic engagement They also present a set of evidence based recommendations for policy practice and intervention that can be used by political and civil society actors to enhance levels of engagement particularly among youth women ethnic minorities and migrants Political and Civic Participation provides an invaluable resource for all those who are concerned with citizens levels of engagement including researchers and academics across the social sciences politicians and political institutions media professionals educational professionals and schools youth workers and education NGOs and leaders of ethnic minority and migrant organizations and communities Political Engagement of the Young in Europe Peter Thijssen, Jessy Siongers, Jeroen Van Laer, Jacques Haers, Sara Mels, 2015-12-14 Although many scholars are convinced of the apparent civic disengagement of youth others suggest that civic participation of young people is stable and increasingly expressed through non institutionalized forms of practicing politics This book makes a key contribution to this discussion by asking whether the decline or shift paradigm is sufficient in understanding political participation of the youth It argues that we need to move beyond this framework and develop a renewed reflection on the meaning of civic and political engagement It asks crucial questions such as How can the young be educated into assuming civic and political responsibility Why and how do young people engage in social and political action How do the principal mediating institutions education media and the family contribute to new or different forms of youth civic engagement This text contains contributions from acknowledged specialists such as Constance Flanagan Mark Elchardus Marc Hooghe and Bert Klandermans and will be of key interest to students and scholars of youth and young citizens civic political involvement European politics youth studies sociology political participation and electoral behaviour Jobless Citizens Marco Giugni, Jasmine Lorenzini, 2016-12-22 This book examines patterns of political engagement of long term unemployed youth The authors show how unemployment affects the personal social and political life of young people Focusing on the case of Geneva in Switzerland the study shows the importance of socioeconomic relational psychological and institutional resources for the political engagement of unemployed youth The book shows specifically how the relationship between unemployment and the political engagement of unemployed youth is mediated by a number of factors their socioeconomic status and more generally their individual background their level of deprivation and the associated degree of subjective well being the social capital that unemployed youth draw from involvement in voluntary associations and interpersonal networks and relations and the political learning stemming from interactions with welfare institutions and their perception of such interactions Students and scholars in areas including Sociology Political Science Economics Youth Studies and Social Policy will find this study of interest The Political Psychology of Social Unrest in Latin America Hüseyin Çakal, David Sirlopu, Vanessa Smith-Castro, 2025-04-24 The Political Psychology of Social Unrest in Latin America is a unique collection of research and writings by Latin American scholars It explores the social psychological and political factors of the recent turmoil in Latin American countries From the impeachment demonstrations in Brazil student movements in Chile and massive demonstrations in Costa Rica Peru Colombia Ecuador Bolivia and Mexico this edited volume analyses the underlying similarities and differences between these events through the lens of diverse research traditions methods and researchers The book examines both actual inequalities and disadvantages as well as the role of perceptions of inequality and injustice The authors also investigate the role of micro processes such as cultural consumption in the family and the role of social psychological processes in historical Latin American unrest By utilising leading approaches in social and political psychology and testing these approaches in the context of a very diverse and dynamic non WEIRD Western Educated Industrialized Rich and Democratic societies the authors bring the communities and civilizations less studied by Western social psychologists to the international audience Focusing on how social and political processes unfold in different countries and providing insights into the psychological underpinnings of social unrest from a variety of perspectives this is an essential reading for students and researchers of psychology social political peace and cross cultural psychology as well as political science and sociology
