The Young Woman's Journal ,1889 Evening Twilight: a Woman'S Village Journal, 2007-2011 Mary Kelly Black,2012-08-24 This book is the third volume of journal selections 2007 2011 Volume I included an Introduction and some biographical memories As with the previous two volumes the major events of life claim little diaristic attention the overlooked or insignificant habitually capturing the authors attention Most journals or notebooks of eminent writers conclude with their relative youth when they pick up the pen to create an imaginative retrospective journey so there is little available of aging journal keepers describing the downward journey Those who maintained journals intime or other forms of introspective writing were rarely long lived so there is little available of the aging journal keeper describing the downward journey Added to this is the paucity of proximal contemporaries who share or admit to the narrowing path seeking instead the rejuvenations of youth I unavoidably focus on the early twilight of this narrowing journey lead me where it shall Those interested in a more event filled diary will find scant reportage in these pages Law, Women Judges and the Gender Order Kcasey McLoughlin,2021-11-18 This book seeks to understand how women judges are situated as legal knowers on the High Court of Australia by asking whether a near equal gender balance on the High Court has disrupted the Court s historically masculinist gender regime This book examines how the High Court s gender regime operates once there is more than one woman on the bench It explores the following questions How have the Court s gender relations accommodated the presence women on the bench How have the women themselves accommodated those pre existing gender relations How might legal judgments and reasoning change as a result of changing gender dynamics on the bench To develop answers to these and other questions the book pursues a methodology that conceptualises the High Court as an institution with a particular gender regime shaped historically by the dominant gender order of the wider society The intersection between the gendered individuals and the gendered institution in which they operate produces and reproduces that institution s gender regime Hence the enquiry is not so much asking have women judges made a difference but rather is asking how should we understand women judges relationship with the law a relationship that is shaped as much by the individual judge as by the institutional context in which they operate Scholars legal practitioners and researchers interested in judicial reasoning gender diversity and the legal profession gender and politics will be interested in this book because it breaks new ground as a case study of a Court s gender regime at a particular time What's Next in Love and Sex Elaine Hatfield,Richard L. Rapson,Jeanette Purvis,2020 What s Next in Love and Sex is a comprehensive examination of contemporary academic findings relating to all matters of the mind body and heart in the modern world Written by one of the pioneers of love and sex research Dr Hatfield along with her colleagues Dr Purvis and Dr Rapson this book uses contemporary scientific findings to provide an updated and relevant explanation for why we do the things we do when we re in love searching for love making love or attempting to keep a faltering relationship together No other book will give young people such an in depth scientific understanding of contemporary love and sex while still providing a light hearted accessible and entertaining read The Australian Woman's Magazine and Domestic Journal ,1882 Includes book reviews What's Next? Robert H. Giles,Robert W. Snyder, The future of journalism isn't what it used to be As recently as the mid 1960s few would have predicted the shocks and transformations that have swept through the news business in the last three decades the deaths of many afternoon newspapers the emergence of television as people's primary news source and the quicksilver combinations of cable television VCRs and the Internet that have changed our ways of reading seeing and listening The essays in this volume seek to illuminate the future prospects of journalism Mindful that grandiose predictions of the world of tomorrow tend to be the fantasies and phobias of the present written large in the 1930s and 1940s magazines such as Scribner's Barron's and Collier's forecast that one day we would have an airplane in every garage the authors of What's Next have taken a more careful view The writers start with what they know the trends that they see in journalism today and ask where will they take us in the foreseeable future For some media such as newspapers the visible horizon is decades away For others particularly anything involving the Internet responsible forecasts can look ahead only for a matter of years Where the likely destinations of present trends are not entirely clear the authors have tried to pose the kinds of questions that they believe people will have to address in years to come While being mindful of the tremendous influence of technology one must remember that computers punditry or market share will not ordain the future of journalism Rather it will be determined by the sum of countless actions taken by journalists and other media professionals These essays with their hopes and fears cautions and enthusiasms questions and answers are an effort to create the best possible future for journalism This volume will be of interest to media professionals academics and others with an interest in the future of journalism Robert Giles is editor in chief of Media Studies Journal and executive director of the Media Studies Center Formerly the editor and publisher of The Detroit News he is the author of Newsroom Management A Guide to Theory and Practice Robert W Snyder is editor of Media Studies Journal a historian and most recently author of Transit Talk New York's Bus and Subway Workers Tell Their Stories He has taught at Princeton and New York universities What's Next? Joy Chudacoff,2013-09-27 Is this all there is You ought to be happier After all you've achieved your goals and built the life you dreamed of living The problem is what you wanted in your twenties and early thirties isn't what you want now It's time to move on to something new You think about going into business for yourself but you have no idea where to begin and the people closest to you don't want anything to change In What's Next Joy Chudacoff lays out a step by step approach to exploring the unfamiliar paths before you You'll discover how to reconnect with your passions and core valuesmake sure your own needs are met as you juggle all of your responsibilitiescoax great ideas out of their hiding placesmarket yourself and your business without breaking the bank and much much more A professional coach and mentor Joy has done more than provide a one size fits all set of instructions She has made the process interactive with hands on exercises that allow you to tailor each step to your own personal circumstances If you have ever dreamed of
