Combat Death in Contemporary American Culture Agnieszka Soltysik Monnet,2020-12-16 Combat Death in Contemporary American Culture Popular Cultural Conceptions of War since World War II explores how war has been portrayed in the United States since World War II with a particular focus on an emotionally charged but rarely scrutinized topic combat death Agnieszka Soltysik Monnet argues that most stories about war use three main building blocks melodrama adventure and horror Monnet examines how melodrama and adventure have helped make war seem acceptable to the American public by portraying combat death as a meaningful sacrifice and by making military killing look necessary and often even pleasurable Horror no longer serves its traditional purpose of making the bloody realities of war repulsive but has instead been repurposed in recent years to intensify the positivity of melodrama and adventure Thus this book offers a fascinating diagnosis of how war stories perform ideological and emotional work and why they have such a powerful grip on the American imagination

The Films of Clint Eastwood Matt Wanat,Leonard Engel,2018-05-15 The indefatigable Clint Eastwood the great old man of American film is still controversial after all these years Many of the critical essays in this collection focus on Eastwood s 2014 American Sniper a particularly controversial film and a devastating personal account of the horrors of war Additional essays within the collection address his films that deserve more recognition than they have received to date The chapters vary by topic and identify themes ranging from aging race and gender to uses of Western conventions and myth to the subtleties of quieter themes and stylistic choices in Eastwood's body of cinematic work As a collection these essays show that none of these themes account for Eastwood's entire vision which is multifaceted and often contradictory dramatizing complex issues in powerful character driven narratives

The Hell of War Comes Home Owen W. Gilman Jr., 2018-02-09 Owen W Gilman Jr stresses the US experience of war in the twenty first century and argues that wherever and whenever there is war there will be imaginative responses to it especially the recent wars in Afghanistan and Iraq Since the trauma of September 11 the experience of Americans at war has been rendered honestly and fully in a wide range of texts creative nonfiction and journalism film poetry and fiction These responses Gilman contends have packed a lot of power and measure up even to World War II's literature and film Like few other books Gilman's volume studies these new texts among them Kevin Powers's debut novel The Yellow Birds and Phil Klay's short stories Redeployment along with the films The Hurt Locker American Sniper and Billy Lynn's Long Halftime Walk For perspective Gilman also looks at some touchstones from the Vietnam War Compared to a few of the big Vietnam books and films this new material has mostly been read and watched by small audiences and generated less discussion Gilman exposes the circumstances in American culture currently preventing literature and film of our recent wars from making a significant impact He contends that Americans inclination to demand distraction limits learning from these compelling responses to war in the past decade According to Gilman where there should be clarity and depth of knowledge we instead face misunderstanding and the anguish endured by veterans betrayed by war and our lack of understanding

Hymns for the Fallen Todd Decker, 2017-02-28 In Hymns for the Fallen Todd Decker listens closely to forty years of Hollywood combat films produced after Vietnam Ever a noisy genre post Vietnam war films have deployed music and sound to place the audience in the midst of battle and to provoke reflection on the experience of combat Considering landmark movies such as Apocalypse Now Saving Private Ryan The Thin Red Line Black Hawk Down The Hurt Locker and American

Sniper as well as lesser known films Decker shows how the domain of sound an experientially rich and culturally resonant aspect of cinema not only invokes the realities of war but also shapes the American audience s engagement with soldiers and veterans as flesh and blood representatives of the nation Hymns for the Fallen explores all three elements of film sound dialogue sound effects music and considers how expressive and formal choices in the soundtrack have turned the serious war film into a patriotic ritual enacted in the commercial space of the cinema We're Doomed. Now What? Roy

Scranton,2018-07-17 An American Orwell for the age of Trump Roy Scranton faces the unpleasant facts of our day with fierce insight and honesty We re Doomed Now What penetrates to the very heart of our time Our moment is one of alarming and bewildering change the breakup of the post 1945 global order a multispecies mass extinction and the beginning of the end of civilization as we know it Not one of us is innocent not one of us is safe Now what We re Doomed Now What addresses the crisis that is our time through a series of brilliant moving and original essays on climate change war literature and loss from one of the most provocative and iconoclastic minds of his generation Whether writing about sailing through the melting Arctic preparing for Houston s next big storm watching Star Wars or going back to the streets of Baghdad he once patrolled as a soldier Roy Scranton handles his subjects with the same electric philosophical demotic touch that he brought to his groundbreaking New York Times essay Learning How to Die in the Anthropocene Last Stands from the Alamo to Benghazi Frank Wetta,Martin Novelli,2016-12-08 Last Stands from the Alamo to Benghazi examines how filmmakers teach Americans about the country s military past Examining twenty three representative war films and locating them in their cultural and military landscape the authors argue that Hollywood s view of American military history has evolved in two phases The first phase extending from the very beginnings of filmmaking to the Korean War projected an essential patriotic triumphalism The second phase from the Korean and Vietnam Wars to the present reflects a retreat from consensus and reflexive patriotism In describing these phases the authors address recurring themes such as the experience of war and combat the image of the American war hero race gender national myths and more With helpful film commentaries that extend the discussion through popular movie narratives this book is essential for anyone interested in American military and film history
