The Films of Clint Eastwood Matt Wanat, Leonard Engel, 2018-05-15 The indefatigable Clint Eastwood the great old man of American film is still controversial after all these years Many of the critical essays in this collection focus on Eastwood s 2014 American Sniper a particularly controversial film and a devastating personal account of the horrors of war Additional essays within the collection address his films that deserve more recognition than they have received to date The chapters vary by topic and identify themes ranging from aging race and gender to uses of Western conventions and myth to the subtleties of quieter themes and stylistic choices in Eastwood s body of cinematic work As a collection these essays show that none of these themes account for Eastwood s entire vision which is multifaceted and often contradictory dramatizing complex issues in powerful character driven narratives

Inside the Crosshairs Col. Michael Lee Lanning, 2013-06-19 The American sniper could be regarded as the greatest all around rifleman the world has ever known At the start of the war in Vietnam the United States had no snipers by the end of the war Marine and army precision marksmen had killed more than 10 000 NVA and VC soldiers the equivalent of an entire division at the cost of under 20 000 bullets proving that long range shooters still had a place in the battlefield Now noted military historian Michael Lee Lanning shows how U S snipers in Vietnam combining modern technology in weapons ammunition and telescopes used the experience and traditions of centuries of expert shooters to perfect their craft To provide insight into the use of American snipers in Vietnam Lanning interviewed men with combat trigger time as well as their instructors the founders of the Marine and U S Army sniper programs and the generals to whom they reported Backed by hard information and firsthand accounts the author demonstrates how the skills these one shot killers honed in the jungles of Vietnam provided an indelible legacy that helped save American lives in Grenada the Gulf War and Somalia and continues to this day with American troops in Bosnia American War Stories Brenda M. Boyle, 2020-11-13 American War Stories breaks down the American perception of wars and focuses on how and why we conceptualize the war story. It is one of the first studies to ask readers to contemplate what constitutes a war story and how that constitution obscures the normalizing of militarism in American culture.

Hollywood Remembrance and American War Andrew Rayment, Paul Nadasdy, 2020-08-31 Hollywood Remembrance and American War addresses the synergy between Hollywood war films and American forms of war remembrance. Subjecting the notion that war films ought to be considered the war memorials of today to critical scrutiny, the book develops a theoretical understanding of how Hollywood war films as rhetorical sites of remembering and memory reflect, replicate, and resist American modes of remembrance. The authors first develop the framework for and elaborate on the co-evolution of Hollywood war cinema and American war memorialization in the historical, political, and ideological terms of remembrance and the parallel synergistic relationship between the aesthetic and industrial status of Hollywood war cinema and the remembering of American war on film. The chapters then move to analysis of Hollywood war films covering The Great War, World War II, The Korean War, The Vietnam War, The Cold War, and the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq, and critically scrutinize the terms upon which a film could be considered a memorial to the war it represents. Bringing together the fields of film studies and memory studies, this book will be of interest to scholars and students in not just these areas but those in the fields of history, media, and cultural studies more broadly too.

Framing Law and Crime Caroline Joan "Kay" S. Picart, Michael Hviid Jacobsen, Cecil Greek, 2016-04-01 This cutting-edge edited collection brings together 17 scholarly essays on two of cinema and television's most enduring and powerful themes: law and crime. With contributions by many of the most prominent scholars in law, sociology, criminology, and film, Framing Law and Crime offers a critical survey of a variety of genres and media, integrating descriptions of technique with critical analysis and incorporating historical and socio-political critique. The first set of essays brings together accounts of the history of the Law and Cinema Movement, the groundbreaking genre of post-apocalyptic fiction, and the policy-setting genesis of a Canadian documentary. The second section of the book turns to the examination of a range of international or global films with an eye to assessing the strengths, frailties, and possible functions of law as depicted in fictional cinema. After an international focus in the second section, the third section focuses on law and crime in American film and television, inclusive of both fictional and documentary modes of narration. This section's expansion beyond film narratives to include television series attempts to broaden the scope of the edited collection in terms of media discussed; it is also a nod to how the big screen, although still a dominant force in American popular culture, now has to compete to some extent with the small screen for influence over the collective American popular cultural imaginary. The fourth section, titled Bringing Law and Crime to the Screen, brings together various chapters that attempt to instantiate how a Gothic Criminology could be useful as an interpretative framework in analyzing depictions of law and crime in film and television. The fifth and final section covers issues of pedagogy, epistemology, and ethics in relation to moving images of law and crime. Merging wide ranging analyses with nuanced scholarly interpretations Framing Law and Crime examines key concepts and showcases original research reflecting the latest interdisciplinary trends in the scholarship of the moving image It addresses not only scholars but also fans and will heighten the appreciation of connoisseurs and newcomers to these topics alike Hymns for the Fallen Todd Decker,2017-02-28 This book describes in detail how music and sound function as a constituent part of the prestige combat film s larger work of memorialization in the cultural realm of commercial cinema As Rikke Schubart and Anne Gjelsvik note historians must deal with the complexity of history war heroism patriotism memory and the process of their representation Hymns for the Fallen traces an expressive sonic continuity in this process of representation for serious war films The three elements of the soundtrack dialogue sound effects music are treated in detail in the chapters which follow although music proves to be of particular interest Site de l diteur Combat Death in Contemporary American Culture Agnieszka Soltysik Monnet,2020-12-16 Combat Death in Contemporary American Culture Popular Cultural Conceptions of War since World War II explores how war has been portrayed in the United States since World War II with a particular focus on an emotionally charged but rarely scrutinized topic combat death Agnieszka Soltysik Monnet argues that most stories about war use three main building blocks melodrama adventure and horror Monnet examines how melodrama and adventure have helped make war seem acceptable to the American public by portraying combat death as a meaningful sacrifice and by making military killing look necessary and often even pleasurable Horror no longer serves its traditional purpose of making the bloody realities of war repulsive but has instead been repurposed in recent years to intensify the positivity of melodrama and adventure Thus this book offers a fascinating diagnosis of how war stories perform ideological and emotional work and why they have such a powerful grip on the American imagination The New American War Film Robert Burgoyne,2023-10-10 A look at how post 9 11 cinema captures the new face of war in the twenty first century While the war film has carved out a prominent space within the history of cinema the twenty first century has seen a significant shift in the characteristics that define it Serving as a roadmap to the genre s contemporary modes of expression The New American War Film explores how in the wake of 9 11 both the nature of military conflict and the symbolic frameworks that surround it have been dramatically reshaped Featuring in depth analyses of contemporary films like The Hurt Locker Zero Dark Thirty Eye in the Sky American Sniper and others The New American War Film details the genre s turn away from previously foundational themes of heroic sacrifice and national glory instead emphasizing the procedural violence of advanced military technologies and the haptic damage inflicted on individual bodies Unfolding amid an atmosphere of profound anxiety and disillusionment the new American war film demonstrates a breakdown of the prevailing cultural narratives that had come to characterize conflict in the previous century With each chapter highlighting a different facet of war s cinematic representation The New American War Film charts society s shifting attitudes toward violent conflict and what is broadly considered to be its acceptable repercussions Drawing attention to changes in gender dynamics and the

Ryan O'Connor, 2025-02-08 This project seeks to demonstrate how multiple sites of discursive production political elite media and popular culture interact to construct truths about a conflict that condition political possibility Through breaking down the interaction between multiple sites of production within moments of discursive stability and by tracing major themes across multiple sites of discursive production this work will illuminate the processes by which the truth for a conflict is produced sustained and challenged Specifically this project will be contesting two historical moments of naturalness wherein a dominant discourse established a representational stability within American foreign policy in order to display how multiple sites of production work to produce sustain and challenge the political realities of military interventions In doing so the processes which impact the production of policy and public acceptance condemnation for military interventions will be demonstrated
