In Birth Cry: A Personal Story of the Life of Hannah D Mitchell, Nurse Midwife Hannah Mitchell exposes her heart in this true story that spans a lifetime of over eighty years. She shows how her strong Christian upbringing and conversion helped her deal with a wayward brother, get an education and establish a successful career, make marriage plans, face heartbreak and devastating health issues, move from familiar places and experience new situations. All these life-altering events were contrary to her plans and things we can all relate to. Told with the help of Shirley Roland Ferguson, Birth Cry: A Personal Story of the Life of Hannah D Mitchell, Nurse Midwife is the story of a successful and inspirational woman. It is a book everyone, especially women, should read. Matrescence Lucy

Jones, 2024-05-07. LONGLISTED FOR THE WOMEN'S PRIZE FOR NON FICTION. From the acclaimed author of Losing Eden, a powerful beautifully written, important, moving, passionate and passionately written inquiry, personal and scientific, into what happens mentally, spiritually, physically during the process of becoming a mother from pregnancy and childbirth to early motherhood and what this profound process tells us about the way we live now. I read your book or more accurately devoured it. Loved it. It will be the new classic text in Motherhood Studies. Andrea O'Reilly, founder Motherhood Studies. The best book I've ever read about motherhood. Matrescence is essential reading, bloody and alive, roaring and ready to change conversations. Jude Rogers, The Observer UK. In this important and ground-breaking, deeply personal investigation, Jones writes of the emerging concept of matrescence, the wholeness of becoming a mother. Drawing on her own experiences of twice becoming a mother as well as exploring the latest research in the fields of neuroscience and evolutionary biology, psychoanalysis and existential therapy, sociology, economics and ecology, Jones writes of the physical and emotional changes in the maternal mind, body and spirit and shows us how these changes are far more profound, wild and enduring than have been previously explored or written about. Part memoir, part scientific and health reporting, part social critique, ecological philosophy, eco-feminism and nature writing, Matrescence is a kind of whodunnit, ferreting out with the most nuanced, searing and honest observations why mothers throughout this heightened transition are at a breaking point and what the institution of intensive, isolated motherhood can tell us about our still dominant social and cultural myths. Jones seems to come as close as it's possible to describing this indescribable moment in a woman's life. Joanna Pockock, The Spectator UK. Horror

House Andrea D'Allasandra, 2003-03-25. 'Twas the night of the blizzard, and into the great house crept a crazy old madman who wielded an axe. He butchered twelve people before the tenth bell, and after he ate them, he returned to black hell. Andrea D'Allasandra shocked readers around the world in 2000 when she introduced the terrifying mountain madman Benji, who butchered a weekend house party in the best-selling Death House. Now in her stunning new sequel Horror House, Benji returns to slaughter again in the newly refurbished mountain chalet. He believes that old adage: Once you check in, you can never check out. Field Spaniel Becki Jo Hirschy, 2006-10-01.
