Exploring Inequality: A Sociological Approach Jenny M. Stuber,2021-09-08 Exploring Inequality A Sociological Approach examines the socially constructed nature of our identities the processes by which we acquire them prejudice and privilege and the unequal outcomes they produce within institutions

The New Black Middle Class in South Africa Roger Southall,2016 Provides the most comprehensive account since the early 1960s of South Africa s black middle class 2016 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title The rise of the black middle class is one of the most visible aspects of post apartheid society in South Africa Yet while it has been a major actor in the country s democratic reshaping analysis of its role has been all but lacking Rather the image presented by the media has been of black diamonds consumers of the products of advanced industrial economies and of corrupt tenderpreneurs who use their political connections to obtain contracts This book seeks to complicate that picture with a much needed analysis that recounts its historical development in colonial society prior to 1994 before examining the size shape andstructure of the new black middle class in contemporary South Africa and its relation to its counterparts in the Global South Roger Southall is Professor Emeritus in Sociology University of the Witwatersrand Southern Africa South Africa Namibia Botswana Lesotho Zimbabwe and Swaziland Jacana

Delivering Entrepreneurship Education in Africa Chux Gervase Iwu,Richard Shambare,2023-12-14 Delivering Entrepreneurship Education in Africa brings together a collection of academic studies that offer an in depth analysis of the current state of entrepreneurship education in Africa The chapter authors engage discussions on how to make entrepreneurship education an attractive field of study for African students

The Oxford Handbook of the Zambian Economy ,2024-08-23 This handbook offers a comprehensive and authoritative account of the Zambian economy including past and current trends The Zambian economy has evolved from simple and fragmented agrarian activities at the turn of the 20th Century into a wide range of organized and regulated modern economic activities today While the economy has largely revolved around the mining industry since the early 1920s when the extraction of copper and other mineral ores on the Copperbelt begun there has been a gradual broadening of economic activities over time with services now accounting for almost two thirds of gross domestic product GDP This book shows that since colonial times one of the persistent items on the economic development agenda in what is today known as Zambia has been the need to diversify the economy to reduce dependence on mining in terms of foreign exchange earnings and public revenue While the need to diversify the economy has been well acknowledged by successive Zambia governments including the current government achieving this goal has proved to be elusive so far By presenting a collection of well researched and empirically supported chapters on the key areas of the Zambian economy this volume gives readers a good sense of where the Zambian economy has come from where it is at the moment but also highlights the challenges and prospects for economic growth The Rise of Africa's Middle Class Henning

Melber,2016-12-15 Across Africa a burgeoning middle class has become the poster child for the Africa rising narrative Ambitious aspirational and increasingly affluent this group is said to embody the values and hopes of the new Africa with international bodies ranging from the United Nations Development Programme to the World Bank regarding them as important agents of both economic development and democratic change This narrative however obscures the complex and often ambiguous role that this group actually plays in African societies Bringing together economists political scientists anthropologists and development experts and spanning a variety of case studies from across the continent this collection provides a much needed corrective to the received wisdom within development circles and provides a fresh perspective on social transformations in contemporary Africa Management Studies in South Africa Shaun Ruggunan,R.

Sooryamoorthy,2018-09-20 This book examines the trajectory of management studies in South Africa during the apartheid and post apartheid periods The unique political journey of South Africa provides a distinctive context in which to explore the progression of management studies within a developing state The authors consider how Apartheid has configured the discipline of management studies to reflect certain racial institutional and gendered trends and analyse the extent to which these trends have adapted or changed in post Apartheid times Appealing to management scholars and professionals this book provides implications for policy and practice within the South African higher education sector and presents avenues for future research Walking the Talk? Rob van Tulder,Birgitte Grøgaard,Randi Lunnan,2024-05-16 Politicians and businesses alike agree that something must be done about the environment the question is what how when and by whom We ask are we actually walking the talk The Global Testing Culture William C. Smith,2016-01-04 The past thirty years have seen a rapid expansion of testing exposing students worldwide to tests that are now more than ever standardized and linked to high stakes outcomes The use of testing as a policy tool has been legitimized within international educational development to measure education quality in the vast majority of countries worldwide The embedded nature and normative power of high stakes standardized testing across national contexts can be understood as a global testing culture The global testing culture permeates all aspects of education from financing to parental involvement to teacher and student beliefs and practices The reinforcing nature of the global testing culture leads to an environment where testing becomes synonymous with accountability which becomes synonymous with education quality Underlying the global testing culture is a set of values identified from the increasing literature on world culture These include education as a human right academic intelligence faith in science decentralization and neoliberalism Each of these values highlights different aspects of the dialogue in support of high stakes standardized testing The wide approval of these values and their ability to legitimate various aspects of high stakes testing reinforces the taken for granted notion that such tests are effective and appropriate education practices However a large body of literature emphasizes the negative unintended consequences teaching to the test reshaping the testing pool the inequitable distribution of school resources and teachers attention and reconstructing the role of the student teacher and parent commonly found when standardized census based tests are combined with high stakes outcomes for educators or students This book problematizes this culture by providing critical perspectives that challenge the assumptions of the culture and describe how the culture manifests in national contexts The volume makes it clear that testing per se is not the problem Instead it is how tests are administered used or misused and linked to accountability that provide the global testing culture with its powerful ability to shape schools and society and lead to its unintended undesirable consequences

Marketing Communication in African Languages Abiodun Salawu, Kehinde Oyesomi, 2024-12-23 This edited volume considers the use of African languages for marketing communication The importance of an indigenous language stems from its benefits which include increased comprehension and a sense of resonance among the target audience which makes it more memorable as opposed to foreign languages Chapters in the book variously examine African traditional advertising and marketing popular culture as a channel for advertising and marketing political communication advertising and marketing commercials and public relations in African languages as well as branding corporate and public communication in African languages The use of African languages for marketing communication is considered on the traditional mass media and the digital media Readers will gain a lot of insights into the theory and practice of marketing communication in African languages
