Reading Confederate

Monuments Maria Seger, 2022-08-24 Winner of a 2023 Edited Collection Award from the South Atlantic Modern Language Association Contributions by Danielle Christmas Joanna Davis McElligatt Garrett Bridger Gilmore Spencer R Herrera Cassandra Jackson Stacie McCormick Maria Seger Randi Lynn Tanglen Brook Thomas Michael C Weisenburg and Lisa Woolfork Reading Confederate Monuments addresses the urgent and vital need for scholars educators and the general public to be able to read and interpret the literal and cultural Confederate monuments pervading life in the contemporary United States The literary and cultural studies scholars featured in this collection engage many different archives and methods demonstrating how to read literal Confederate monuments as texts and in the context of the assortment of literatures that produced and celebrated them They further explore how to read the literary texts advancing and contesting Confederate ideology in the US cultural imaginary then and now as monuments in and of themselves On top of that the essays published here lay bare the cultural and pedagogical work of Confederate monuments and counter monuments divulging how and what they teach their readers as communal and yet contested narratives thereby showing why the persistence of Confederate monuments matters greatly to local and national notions of racial justice and belonging In doing so this collection illustrates what critics of US literature and culture can offer to ongoing scholarly and public discussions about Confederate monuments and memory Even as we remove relocate and recontextualize the physical symbols of the Confederacy dotting the US landscape the complicated histories cultural products and pedagogies of Confederate ideology remain embedded in the national consciousness To disrupt and potentially dismantle these enduring narratives alongside the statues themselves we must be able to recognize analyze and resist them in US life The pieces in this collection position us to think deeply about how and why we should continue that work

Native Advertising Lisa Lynch, 2018-06-12 Native Advertising examines the emerging practices and norms around native advertising in US and European news organizations Over the past five years native advertising has rapidly become a significant revenue stream for both digital news upstarts and legacy newspapers and magazines This book helps scholars and students of journalism and advertising to understand the news industry's investment in native advertising and consider the effects this investment might have on how news is produced consumed and understood It is argued that although they have deep roots in earlier forms of advertising native ads with a political or advocacy bent have the potential to shift the relationship between news outlets and audiences in new ways particularly in an era when trust in the media has reached a historic low point Beyond this such advertisements have the potential to shift how media systems function in relation to state power by changing the relationship between commercial and non commercial speech Drawing on real world examples of native ads and including an in depth case study contributed by Ava Sirrah Native Advertising provides an important assessment of the potential consequences of native advertising becoming an even more prominent fixture in the 21st century news feed

Overload Bob Schieffer, 2017-10-01 From the explosion of fake news to the challenges of the 24 hour news cycle legendary journalist Bob Schieffer examines political journalism today and those who practice it Based on interviews with over 40 media leaders Schieffer provides an inside look at the changing role of media and asks whether today's citizens are more informed or just overwhelmed
