

The image shows the exterior of a multi-story building with a brick facade and large windows. A prominent sign is mounted on a concrete overhang above the entrance. The sign reads "Chris Hani Baragwanath Nursing College" in blue, three-dimensional lettering. The building has a modern architectural style with white structural elements. In the foreground, the silhouettes of several people are visible, suggesting an active campus environment. A red circular sign with a white diagonal line is also visible on the wall to the left of the entrance.

Baragwanath Nursing School:

Baragwanath Hospital, Soweto Simonne Horwitz, 2013-09-01 Baragwanath Hospital Soweto illustrates how this rapidly growing underfunded but surprisingly effective institution found the niche that allowed it to exist to provide medical care to a massive patient body and at times even to flourish in the apartheid state The book offers new ways of exploring the history of apartheid apartheid medicine and health care The long history of Chris Hani Baragwanath Hospital its full current name or Bara as it is popularly known has been shaped by a complex set of conditions Established in the early 1940s Bara stands on land purchased by the Cornish immigrant John Albert Baragwanath in the late nineteenth century He set up a refreshment post trading store and hotel on the site in what is now Soweto which was a one day journey by ox wagon from Johannesburg The hotel became affectionately known as Baragwanath Place the surname is Welsh from bara meaning bread and gwenith meaning wheat The land was then bought by Corner House Mining Group and later taken over by Crown Mines Ltd but was never mined The British government bought the land in the early 1940s to build a military hospital but by 1947 Baragwanath ceased to operate as a military hospital and under the auspices of the Transvaal Provincial Administration a civilian hospital was opened with 480 beds Patients were transferred from the non European wing of the Johannesburg General Hospital in the white area of Johannesburg Links were immediately forged with the University of the Witwatersrand and Bara would over time become one of its largest teaching centres This link brought medical students and their teachers into direct contact with apartheid in the medical sphere This book will contribute to studies of the history of apartheid that have begun to provide a more nuanced account of its workings The history of Baragwanath and of the doctors and nurses who worked there tells us much about apartheid ideology and practice as well as resistance to it in the realm of health care Hospital and Nursing Year Book of Southern Africa ,1959 Lantern ,1961 Annual report - South African Institute for Medical Research South African Institute for Medical Research,1953 Women: Wise, Optimistic, Motivating, Empowering & Nurturing Letlhokwa George Mpedi, 2024-08-05 Women's Day celebrated annually on the 9th of August commemorates the 1956 women's march against the discriminatory pass laws during the apartheid era It was on this day that women from across the nation were led by Helen Joseph Lillian Ngoyi Rahima Moosa and Sophia Williams De Bruyn to the Union Buildings to protest against the oppressive pass laws As SA History describes it The 1956 Women's March played a vital role in women becoming more visible participants in the anti apartheid struggle That is not to say that women were not already playing an instrumental role in the struggle But as history has long demonstrated this is often a forgotten aspect of our narrative This unfortunate omission underscores the importance of reclaiming and preserving these stories weaving them into the broader narrative of societal progress As we reflect on their fight and the impact of their war cry wathint abafazi wathint imbokodo uza kufa which translates to when you strike the women you strike a rock you will be crushed you will die we are given pause to reflect on the progress made in the fight for equality since then We now live in a democratic society where many of our aspirations have been realised Yet there is much we have not managed to achieve To say that South Africa has achieved equality would be a fallacy A grim reality is that in many aspects we have failed women Pay parity underrepresentation in industries unequal access to opportunities disturbing levels of violence sexism and misogyny persist unabated These issues cast a long shadow over our aspirations as a nation This book aims to shed light on these issues while honouring the progress made and highlighting the road ahead Africa Institute Bulletin ,1969 Real Governance and Practical Norms in Sub-Saharan Africa Tom De Herdt,Jean-Pierre OLIVIER de SARDAN,2015-05-15 Although international development discourse considers the state as a crucial development actor there remains a significant discrepancy between the official norms of the state and public services and the actual practices of political elites and civil servants This text interrogates the variety of ways in which state policies and legal norms have been translated into the set of practical norms which make up real governance in sub Saharan Africa It argues that the concept of practical norms is an appropriate tool for an ethnographic investigation of public bureaucracies interactions between civil servants and users and the daily functioning of the state in Africa It demonstrates that practical norms are usually different from official norms complementing bypassing and even contradicting them In addition it explores the positive and negative effects of different aspects of this real governance This text will be of key interest to academics students and researchers in the fields of development political science anthropology and development studies African studies international comparative studies implementation studies and public policy Sub-Saharan Africa Report ,1982 Wie is wie in Suid-Afrika ,1960 Bulletin Africa Institute of South Africa,1969
