La Paz Bolivia & Beyond Vivien Loughheed, 2009 This guide is based on our much larger 530 page guide to Bolivia Here we zero in on La Paz The capital and all of the nearby attractions La Paz is not a big city on the world scale but it is certainly one of the more interesting ones Built in a bowl created by the Choqueyapu River The upper parts of the city stand 1 645 ft 500 m above the lower sections Unlike any other city in the world The richer neighborhoods are located at the lower levels This is partly due To The fact that it is warmer and easier to breathe at the lower altitudes Also The pinnacles and spires of conglomerate rock and clay that have been sculptured by wind and water make a dramatic backdrop for those living below them The higher up the bowl one goes The more unstable the land becomes And The more likely a landslide will occur The plazas squares and Prado are well kept in La Paz and even in the depth of winter plants are tended to help make the city attractive Street cleaners are out every day and local merchants regularly wash the area in front of their shops On a clear day Mount Illimani a snow covered monolith can be seen as a sentry towering over the city Valley of the Moon is six miles 10 km from the center of La Paz and can be reached by joining a tour or by taking micro bus 11 or minibus 231 or 273 to Mallasilla The hillside features a maze of clay canyons and pinnacles that have been sculpted by wind and rain Narrow trails through the landscape take about an hour to walk There is also a cactus park just before the entrance The park overlooks a gorge and has paths leading around numerous types of cacti As you continue up the road you will come to Parque Nacional Mallasa with its bird observatory and across the road The zoo area The road passes under natural stone bridges and past Chulpani s Red Hill There is no mistaking which hill this is From Mallasa one can see across the river To The highest golf course in the world Devil s Tooth or Muela del Diablo is a huge volcanic plug sticking out of the landscape to a height of 13 000 ft 3 950 m Several trails go To The right follow the one that obviously leads To The village From there go To The left for 3 miles about half a kilometer To the foot of the rock Climbers are occasionally found on the east face Canyon de Palca or Valle de Animas Is a deep canyon that was carved by the Rio Palca centuries ago To get there take a bus going to Huni from Plaza Belzu on Avenida Mexico in San Pedro There are huge pinnacles and wind carved conglomerates The trail continues along the bottom of the canyon to a natural obelisk Just past the obelisk is a rock that has the appearance of a human hiding in a cave The rock is called the hermit of the canyon Continue along the canyon to its end and climb to your left up To The village of Palca This is a long day hike All of the detailed information you need is here about the hotels restaurants shopping sightseeing But we also lead you to new discoveries turning corners you haven t turned before helping you to interact with the world in new ways That s what makes our Adventure Guides unique An excellent addition To The Adventure Guide series packed with detail from where to stay and eat To where to shop for local crafts and how to enjoy historic sites This guide surveys the wildlife and outdoor opportunities of the country which range from tropical jungle to high plains deserts Hiking and viewing opportunities blend with cultural insights Highly recommended The Midwest Book Review The Rover of the Andes Robert Michael Ballantyne,1890 The Rover of the Andes a Tale of Adventure on South America R. M. Ballantyne,2017-06-22 At the Foot of the Mountain Range Towards the close of a bright and warm day between fifty and sixty years ago a solitary man might have been seen mounted on a mule wending his way slowly up the western slopes of the Andes Although decidedly inelegant and unhandsome this specimen of the human family was by no means uninteresting He was so large and his legs were so long that the contrast between him and the little mule which he bestrode was ridiculous He was what is sometimes styled loosely put together nevertheless the various parts of him were so massive and muscular that however loosely he might have been built up most men would have found it rather difficult to take him down Although wanting in grace he was by no means repulsive for his face which was ornamented with a soft flaxen beard and moustache of juvenile texture expressed wonderful depths of the milk of human kindness He wore boots with the trousers tucked into them a grey tunic or hunting coat belted at the waist and a broad brimmed straw hat or sombrero Evidently the times in which he travelled were troublous for besides having a brace of large pistols in his belt he wore a cavalry sabre at his side As if to increase the eccentricity of his appearance he carried a heavy cudgel by way of riding whip but it might have been observed that however much he flourished this whip about he never actually applied it to his steed On reaching a turn of the road at the brow of an eminence the mule stopped and letting its head droop till almost as pendent as its tail silently expressed a desire for repose The cavalier stepped off It would convey a false impression to say that he dismounted The mule heaved a sigh Poor little thing murmured the traveller in a soft low voice and in a language which even a mule might have recognised as English you may well sigh I really feel ashamed of myself for asking you to carry such a mass of flesh and bone But it s your own fault you know it is for you won t be led I m quite willing to walk if you will only follow Come let us try Gently insinuatingly persuasively the traveller touched the reins and sought to lead the way He might as well have tried to lead one of the snow clad peaks of the mighty Cordillera which towered into the sky before him With ears inclining to the neck a resolute expression in the eyes his fore legs thrown forward and a lean slightly backward the mule refused to move Come now do be amiable there s a good little thing Come on said the strong youth applying more force Peruvian mules are not open to flattery The advance of the fore legs became more decided the lean backward more pronounced the ears went flat down and incipient passion gleamed in the eyes Well well have it your own way exclaimed the youth with a laugh but don't blame me for riding you so much He once more remembered we forgot he once more lifted his right leg over the saddle and sat down
