Off and Online Journalism and

Corruption Basyouni Hamada, Saodah Wok, 2020-09-09 This book provides a new theoretical framework of determinants that interact together in five hierarchical levels to restrain or produce corruption The theory suggests a multilevel analysis that tests hypotheses regarding the relations of journalism and corruption within each level and across levels in international comparative research designs Corruption as the abuse of power for private gain is built into the journalistic economic political and cultural structures of any society and is affected by its interaction within the international system The important questions of how differences in corruption across countries can be explained or what makes it more or less in a particular society and how press freedom and social media contribute to the fight against corruption are still unanswered This book represents a significant contribution on the way to answer these critical questions It discusses a variety of journalism corruption experiences that provide a wealth of results and analyses The cases it examines extend from Cuba to Algeria India Saudi Arabia Sub Saharan African Gulf Cooperation Countries Arab World and Japan The primary contribution of this book is both theoretical and empirical Its details as well as the general theoretical frameworks make it a useful book for scholars academics undergraduate and graduate students journalists and policy makers

This edited volume examines critical issues related to media studies at local institutions of higher learning and includes a sampling of research charting new directions in local media scholarship. Contributions to this edited volume reflect the shared concerns of media educators and researchers in Malaysia and two neighboring countries, Indonesia and Thailand. Three main themes underscore this volume, reflecting their importance to the evolution of media education and to a certain extent research as well: Historical development of media education and training; Current developments and future trajectories of media education in a globalized digital media environment; Analysis of media and society.

Changing Global Media Landscapes: Convergence, Fragmentation, and Polarization Al-Obaidi, Jabbar A., 2024-07-17

With the advancement of technology and the increasing use of digital and social media platforms, we are experiencing an unprecedented era of global connectivity and information sharing. However, alongside these advancements comes a pressing challenge: the rampant spread of misinformation and disinformation, fueling fragmentation and polarization within communities worldwide. As regulations struggle to keep pace with technological innovation, media scholars, experts, and practitioners face a critical need for comprehensive strategies to navigate this complex terrain.

Changing Global Media Landscapes: Convergence, Fragmentation, and Polarization offers a solution to the multifaceted challenges of modern media and communication. This book provides a vital platform for scholars and professionals to explore the intricacies of global media technologies and devise actionable strategies to combat misinformation. With a keen focus on media ethics, law, and organizational management, it equips readers with the tools needed to confront the evolving landscape of digital media responsibly and effectively.
