Adventures Among Books Andrew Lang,2021-03-05 People talk in novels about the delights of a first love One may venture to doubt whether everybody exactly knows which was his or her first love of men or women but about our first loves in books there can be no mistake They were and remain the dearest of all after boyhood the bloom is off the literary rye The first parcel of these garrulities ended when the author left school at about the age of seventeen One's literary equipment seems to have been then almost as complete as it ever will be one's tastes definitely formed one's favourites already chosen As long as we live we hope to read but we never can recapture the first fine careless rapture Besides one begins to write and that is fatal My own first essays were composed at school for other boys Not long ago the gentleman who was then our English master wrote to me informing me he was my earliest public and that he had never credited my younger brother with the essays which that unscrupulous lad I speak of him but brotherly was accustomed to present for his consideration On leaving school at seventeen I went to St Leonard's Hall in the University of St Andrews That is the oldest of Scotch universities and was founded by a papal bull St Leonard's Hall after having been a hospitium for pilgrims a home for old ladies about 1500 and a college in the University was now a kind of cross between a master's house at school and as before 1750 a college We had more liberty than schoolboys less than English undergraduates In the Scotch universities the men live scattered in lodgings and only recently at St Andrews have they begun to dine together in hall We had a common roof common dinners wore scarlet gowns possessed football and cricket clubs and started of course a kind of weekly magazine It was only a manuscript affair and was profusely illustrated For the only time in my life I was now an editor under a sub editor who kept me up to my work and cut out my fine passages The editor's duty was to write most of the magazine to write essays reviews of books by the professors very severe novels 15 short stories poems translations also to illustrate these and to fag his friends for copy and drawings A deplorable flippancy seems as far as one remembers to have been the chief characteristic of the periodical flippancy and an abundant use of the supernatural These were the days of Lord Lytton's Strange Story which I continue to think a most satisfactory romance Inspired by Lord Lytton and aided by the University library I read Cornelius Agrippa Trithemius Petrus de Abano Michael Scott and struggled with Iamblichus and Plotinus Adventures Among Books Andrew Lang,1905 This volume contains chapters on gothic novelists Ann Radcliffe and Nathaniel Hawthorne as well as a chapter on the supernatural in fiction Adventures Among Books Andrew Lang,2017-09-29 A fascinating collection of essays on literature by famed literary critic and anthropologist Andrew Lang Adventures Among Books, by Andrew Lang. 3d Impression Andrew Lang,1911 Adventures Among Books Andrew Lang,2019-11-27 In Adventures Among Books Andrew Lang embarks on a rich exploration of literature weaving together a tapestry of critical essays that celebrate

In a remarkable literary career, Andrew Lang challenged the increasing specialism that accompanied the advance of modernity and science in the last quarter of the nineteenth century, authoring an extraordinary body of rigorous scholarly works in the fields of social anthropology, folklore, Homeric studies, history, and religion, while simultaneously turning out novels, poems for periodicals, and inexhaustible columns of prose journalism to make money. He was widely regarded as one of the most influential men of letters and reviewers of his day. He was a founding member and later President of the Folklore Society, and with his wife helped transform the taste in children's literature with their anthologized fairy stories for young people. G. K. Chesterton, paying tribute on Lang's death in 1912, to the scale and diversity of his legacy to the humanities compared him to a kind of Indian god with a hundred hands. Drawing on a wealth of unpublished correspondence and new sources of information, this first full biography of Lang documents in compelling detail his double existence as a scholar and journalist, the intellectual impact of his cross-disciplinary approach to learning and writing, and the critical controversies he courted as a writer and thinker to advance knowledge in the human sciences The book also throws new light on Lang s personal life on the uncomfortable legacy of his grandfather whose notorious part in the Sutherland Clearances earlier in the century left its mark on the family on the enduring influence on him of his early Scottish education and its generalist traditions of learning and on his friendships with fellow writers among them Robert Louis Stevenson Henry James Rider Haggard Edmund Gosse Rhoda Broughton and William Henley The result is a fascinating portrait of a man who lived one of the most productive lives in literature sought to make knowledge available to everyone and bridged as no other the university and the literary world the proverbial Grub Street and the ivory tower
