

BEHAVIOR MODIFICATION TECHNIQUES

DEFINITION

Behavior modification techniques are strategies and interventions used to change or replace undesirable behaviors with more desirable ones by manipulating environmental factors, rewards, or consequences. These techniques are often grounded in principles of operant conditioning.

EXAMPLES

- Rewards: Providing a positive stimulus or incentive, such as candy, in response to a desired behavior to increase its frequency.
- Punishment: Introducing an aversive consequences after an undesired behavior, e.g. no-play time at lunch, to decrease its occurrence.

Behavior Modification In The Natural Environment:

Behavior Modification in the Natural Environment Roland G. Tharp, Ralph J. Wetzel, 1969 Behavior Modification in Mental Retardation William Gardner, 2017-09-29 In this important book one of the most exciting and promising developments in clinical psychology behavior modification is applied to the treatment of the mentally retarded particularly those whose behavior poses difficult problems for institutions Professor Gardner presents an easily intelligible yet detailed account of the concepts and practices of behavior modification and the underlying learning systems with numerous clinical illustrations of applying specific techniques to various educational and rehabilitation problems A thorough discussion of the inadequacies of the psychological evaluation systems normally used in education and rehabilitation is offered along with an alternative behavior analysis approach that provides a method of translating evaluation data into treatment practices In explaining behavior analysis the author takes into account the limited behavioral repertoire of the retarded and environmental deficits Individual chapters on respondent operant and observational learning and a detailed discussion of a functional analysis approach to evaluation are included Proven behavior modification strategies are presented along with a review of related research and clinical studies The book closes with a detailed description of a research program for the design and testing of sheltered workshop systems for the retarded and emotionally disturbed The positive approach inherent in the belief that behavior is modifiable even in the severely limited retarded is in marked contrast to the pessimism of other systems of therapy education and training Also the author has concentrated throughout on making the book understandable to clinicians and students with no previous knowledge of behavior modification Besides serving as a valuable handbook for all treatment personnel the book can also be used as a basic text for various courses dealing with mental retardation

Behavior Modification in the Natural Environment Roland G. Tharp, Ralph J. Wetzel, 1969 Culture & Context in Human Behavior Change Lois Yamauchi, 2005 This book provides an interdisciplinary perspective on theory research and applications in human behavior change Chapters from clinical developmental and community psychology and education are united by common principles and an emphasis on culture and context The contributions of Roland Tharp to each of these fields are highlighted The roles of parents teachers peers families schools and neighborhoods are explored Topics include behavior therapy child development and culture community programs delinquency prevention youth mentoring instructional conversation school reform teacher professional development and culturally relevant instruction For each topic new research challenges are identified This volume is recommended for a variety of courses in psychology and education Behavior Modification in the Natural Environment Mary Emme Richter, 1976 Behavior Modification Garry Martin, Joseph J.
