Visit to the zoo

I recently went on a visit to the zoo, and it was so much fun! I saw all sorts of amazing animals, including lions, giraffes, and monkeys. My favorite part was seeing the elephants, because they were so big and majestic. I also got to see a baby elephant, and it was so cute and playful. I also saw some flamingos, and they were so colorful and graceful. The zoo was a great place to learn about all the different animals and see them up close. I can't wait to go back and see even more amazing creatures.

Sustainable. Resilient. Free. John Warner,2020-12-08 After the coronavirus pandemic has laid bare the unsustainability of our public higher education system an author and educator maps out a path for change In 1983 U S News and World Report started to rank colleges and universities throwing them into competition with each other for students and precious resources Over the course of the next thirty or so years a Reagan era ethos of privatization and competition transformed students into consumers and colleges into businesses Now tuition is unaffordable Student loan debt is more than 1.6 trillion and most college faculty work in adjunct positions for low pay and with no job security Colleges seem to exist only to enroll students collect tuition and hold classes When learning happens it is in spite of the system not because of it In Sustainable Resilient Free John Warner envisions a future in which our public colleges and universities are reoriented around enhancing the intellectual social and economic potentials of students while providing broad based benefits to the community at large As Warner explains it's not even all that complicated It's no more costly than the current system We just have to choose to live the values we claim to hold dear A critical read for anyone invested in the future of public higher education
