Duffy,2012-12-01 Do you ever feel sick of your job Do you ever envy those people who seem to positively love what they do While those people head off to work with a sense of joy and purpose for the rest of us trudging back to the office on Monday morning or to the factory for the graveyard shift or to the job site on a hundred degree day can be an exercise in soul crushing desperation If only we could change jobs we tell ourselves that would make it better But we don t have the right education or we don t have enough experience or the economy isn t right or we can t afford the risk right now So we keep going back to the same old unsatisfying jobs The wonderful truth though is that almost any kind of occupation can offer any one of us a sense of calling Regardless of where we are in our careers we can all find joy and meaning in the work we do from the construction zone flagger who keeps his crew safe to the corporate executive who believes that her company s products will change the world In Make Your Job a Calling authors Bryan J Dik and Ryan D Duffy explore this powerful idea and help the reader navigate the many challenges both internal and external that may arise along the pathway to a sense of calling at work Over the course of four sections the authors define the idea of calling review cutting edge research on the subject provide practical guidelines for discerning a calling at all stages of work and life and explore what calling will look like as workplace norms continue to evolve They also take pains to present a realistic view of the subject by unpacking the perils and challenges of pursuing one s higher purpose especially in an uncertain economy The lessons presented will resound with anyone in any line of work and will show how the power of calling can beneficially shape individuals organizations and society as a whole      A Life in Museums Greg Stevens,Wendy Luke,2012-04-20 Whether you re an experienced leader a mid career professional hoping for a promotion or a recent grad applying for your first internship A Life in Museums Managing Your Museum Career is the guide you need full of sound advice practical tips and illuminating personal stories that span the array of museum disciplines Topics range from personal branding and resume writing to managing from the middle and leadership at all levels from professional writing to keeping a career journal from navigating within your institution to knowing when it s time to move on This is a book you are sure to reference and share for years to come      Productivity and Publishing Margaret-Mary Sulentic Dowell,Leah Katherine Saal,Cynthia F.
