Norman J. Girardot

Believing Is Seeing Creating The Culture Of Art:

Believing Is Seeing Mary Anne Staniszewski, 1995-01-01 Why are the paleolithic Venus of Willendorf Michelangelo's Sistine Chapel frescoes and Marcel Duchamp's ready-made urinal all considered works of art? Why, strictly speaking, is a Cindy Sherman photograph more art-like than a Da Vinci portrait? How did the painters and sculptors of the Renaissance see their creations? And who decides what art is today? In the tradition of Marshall McLuhan and John Berger, this learned and deliciously subversive book gives us a new way of seeing our artistic heritage. Believing Is Seeing is a work of multicultural scope and glittering intelligence that bridges the gulf between classical Japanese painting and the films of Spike Lee between high theory and pop culture. Probing beyond the rhetorical surface of standard art histories and drawing on a panoramic array of illustrative material, Mary Anne Staniszewski throws a fresh light on individual works and the often mystifying criteria by which they are valued. Believing Is Seeing Creating the Culture of Art STANISZEWSKI, 2003-11 Envisioning

Howard Finster Norman J. Girardot, 2015-06-26 The Reverend Howard Finster 1916-2001 was called the backwoods William Blake and the Andy Warhol of the South, and he is considered the godfather of contemporary American folk and visionary art. This book is the first interpretive analysis of the intertwined artistic and religious significance of Finster's work within the context of the American outsider art tradition. Finster began preaching as a teenager in the South in the 1930s. But it was not until he received a revelation from God at the age of sixty that he began to make sacred art. A modern-day Noah who saw his art as a religious crusade to save the world before it was too late, Finster worked around the clock, often subsisting on a diet of peanut butter and instant coffee. He spent the last years of his life feverishly creating his environmental artwork called Paradise Garden, and what would ultimately number almost fifty thousand works of bad and nasty art. This was visionary work that obsessively combined images and text and featured apocalyptic biblical imagery, flying saucers from outer space, and popular cultural icons such as Elvis Presley, Marilyn Monroe, Henry Ford, Mona Lisa, and George Washington. In the 1980s and 90s, he developed cult celebrity status and he appeared in the Venice Biennale and on the Tonight Show. His work graced the album covers of bands such as R.E.M. and Talking Heads. This book explores the life and religious artistic significance of Finster and his work from the personal perspective of religion scholar Norman Girardot, friend to Finster and his family during the later years of the artist's life. Envisioning Howard Finster N. increasingly popular way of telling personal stories of considerable complexity and depth In Autobiographical Comics: Life Writing in Pictures Elisabeth El Refaie offers a long overdue assessment of the key conventions formal properties and narrative patterns of this fascinating genre The book considers eighty five works of North American and European provenance works that cover a broad range of subject matters and employ many different artistic styles Drawing on concepts from several disciplinary fields including semiotics literary and narrative theory art history and psychology El Refaie shows that the traditions and formal features of comics provide new possibilities for autobiographical storytelling For example the requirement to produce multiple drawn versions of one's self necessarily involves an intense engagement with physical aspects of identity as well as with the cultural models that underpin body image The comics medium also offers memoirists unique ways of representing their experience of time their memories of past events and their hopes and dreams for the future Furthermore autobiographical comics creators are able to draw on the close association in contemporary Western culture between seeing and believing in order to persuade readers of the authentic nature of their stories

Altering Nature B. A. Lustig, B.A. Brody, Gerald P.
