A Nomadic Pedagogy about Technology John R. Dakers, 2022-11-21 Although technology education is in desperate need of reform the new refuses to be born Despite the introduction of technological literacy the evolving merger with science mathematics and engineering STEM and even a proposed merger between STEM and the arts STEAM nothing has changed The subject continues to be a craft based vocationally orientated subject Human beings have always had a relationship with technology but never before has the progression of technological development had such an impact on the environment one which has led to the birth of the Anthropocene This poses the greatest existential threat ever known to the future of human existence Those in power continue to turn a blind eye to this threat Moreover technology education today does not reflect issues relating to our technologically textured lifeworld Given that it is the young who will inherit this potentially dystopic future they must be given a voice one in which they can reimagine their futures in a sustainable way This book explores the development of ethnotechnological literacy as delivered by a radical new nomadic pedagogy inspired by the philosophy of Deleuze and Guattari one that can enable these voices to be expressed and more importantly to be heard

Global Perspectives on Inclusive Teacher Education Rice, Bethany M., 2019-03-01 Inclusive teacher preparation varies greatly in format and practice yet programs grapple with the same underlying challenges which practices work and where do they work As children with disabilities are increasingly being included in schools it is essential that guidance is put into place on how best to adapt inclusive practices into the classroom and create new practices based on the cultural context Global Perspectives on Inclusive Teacher Education summarizes existing research on inclusive practices globally while presenting emerging research and opportunities for cementing change in inclusive teacher education locally including examples of how inclusive practices are integrated in and adapted to diverse cultural contexts Covering topics that include critical pedagogy religious schooling and teacher education this publication is designed for curriculum developers instructional designers administrators higher education faculty educators policymakers and students

Creating Synthetic Emotions through Technological and Robotic Advancements Vallverdú, Jordi, 2012-05-31 As humans interact more often and more intimately with computers and as computational systems become an ever more important element of our society playing roles in education the production of culture and goods and management it is inevitable that we should seek to interact with these systems in ways that take advantage of our powerful emotional capabilities Creating Synthetic Emotions through Technological and Robotic Advancements compiles progressive research in the emerging and groundbreaking fields of artificial emotions affective computing and sociable robotics that allow humans to begin the once impossible seeming task of interacting with robots systems devices and agents This landmark volume brings together expert international researchers to expound upon these topics as synthetic emotions move toward becoming a daily reality The Emperor's New Computer ,2019-02-11 c ICT s subtle and seductive impact on educational administration globalisation curriculum design development and delivery and teacher roles and responsibilities has challenged the privileged notion of how education in society is or should be delivered Most schools and curricula require ICT enabled or supported courses as part of their mission or design Yet the seeming ubiquitous adoption of ICT has not made the technology s use any less controversial There is much that is still puzzling and troubling about Information and Communication Technology and its impact on teachers and learners The Emperor s New Computer ICT Teaching and Learning presents nine chapters that reflect international points of view on the intersection of Information and Communication Technology and education pose critical questions about ICT s use and examine ways of navigating the complex paths that ICT has carved in all aspects of global education society and culture
