Religion, Politics, Media in the Broadband Era Alice Bach, 2004 Religion has gone public and the much discussed political pendulum has been swinging widely in its effort to keep up with the eruptions of faith swelling the broadband Private faith finds very public outlets through the media's appetite for voices and choices Faith based networks have become media savvy urging their members to send barrages of emails faxes telephone calls letters of praise or outrage to politicians Those same politicians return the volley using the broadcast media with great skill wooing the faithful convincing the cynical that God is on their side Only a deity could be on so many sides simultaneously Alice Bach's new book reflects her long time focus on the Bible religion and culture Popular religion is expressed within our culture in rock videos televangelism political rhetoric children's books films and animations Every sort of media from print to electronic to broadband is imbued with subtle and blatant religious imagery The media are new the message is not The tightly woven pattern of religion politics and media has been part of the American fabric since the country was founded When one examines this cultural cloth threads of varying colours are revealed threads whose twists reflect both media coverage of religion and religious views of the media

The most current and readily available children's literature is reviewed by the author. In addition, Granahan suggests ways for leaders to use and extend the literature.

Pouring In Kim Kurtz, 2018-03-13 The world had changed. Families had changed. Values had changed. The meaning of religion had changed. After author Kim Kurtz graduated from high school twenty-five years ago, the world was not what she expected. The moral landscape of college and life thereafter was hostile and foreign. She struggled when the faith of her childhood didn't translate smoothly into adulthood. She was disillusioned when the formulas of faith and church that she had always known no longer worked. The messiness of life, the difficulty of marriage and relationships, and the many ups and downs she experienced were overwhelming. Her faith couldn't handle it, and she walked away. According to research, Kim wasn't alone: 75% of young people raised in a Christian home leave the church after they leave the home. Numerous studies show that Christian families are losing their kids, and have been for decades. A majority of church youth aren't developing a personal, powerful, and passionate faith in Jesus Christ. And a passive faith quickly fades to no faith at all. We can no longer afford, as Christian parents, as the church, or as a nation, to ignore this problem. Pouring In addresses the profoundly difficult task of passing on a lasting faith to future generations. Effectively passing on the baton of faith allows our kids to experience the love, peace, and hope that can only come from a genuine relationship with Jesus Christ. Make no mistake: YOU have the power to greatly affect the trajectory of your child's faith. MC. The Manufacturing Confectioner, 1997 Family
