Dynastic Colonialism Susan Broomhall, Jacqueline Van Gent, 2016-03-10 Dynastic Colonialism analyses how women and men employed objects in particular places across the world during the early modern period in order to achieve the remarkable expansion of the House of Orange Nassau Susan Broomhall and Jacqueline Van Gent explore how the House emerged as a leading force during a period in which the Dutch accrued one of the greatest seaborne empires Using the concept of dynastic colonialism they explore strategic behaviours undertaken on behalf of the House of Orange Nassau through material culture in a variety of sites of interpretation from palaces and gardens to prints and teapots in Europe and beyond Using over 140 carefully selected images the authors consider a wide range of visual material and textual sources including portraits glassware tiles letters architecture and global spaces in order to rethink dynastic power and identity in gendered terms Through the House of Orange Nassau Broomhall and Van Gent demonstrate how dynasties could assert status and power by enacting a range of colonising strategies Dynastic Colonialism offers an exciting new interpretation of the complex story of the House of Orange Nassau's rise to power in the early modern period through material means that will make fascinating reading for students and scholars of early modern European history material culture and gender This book is highly illustrated throughout The print edition features the images in black and white whereas the eBook edition contains the illustrations in colour

Friends of Calvin M. A. van den Berg, 2009-04-08 In two dozen short readable biographies of John Calvin's friends including some who turned into enemies Machiel A van den Berg paints an intimate portrait of the great Reformer's life and circle that most of us have never seen Here we accompany Calvin from his early boyhood in Noyon to his student days in Paris and Orleans to his pastorate in and exile from Geneva all the way to his deathbed We meet his famous Reformer friends William Farel Martin Bucer Philip Melanchthon Heinrich Bullinger John Knox Theodore Beza and friends whose names are more obscure his cousin Pierre Robert Olivetan the first translator of the Bible into French Rene de France of French royalty Laurent de Normandie the mayor of Noyon who later escaped to Geneva Pierre Viret his best friend of all and Idelette van Buren his beloved wife during their brief but happy marriage Calvin may be known as a scholar who preferred his study to imperial and ecclesiastical politics but he was also a rebel of faith against the papacy which controlled most of the empires of Europe and had a price on the heads of all reform minded citizens especially their leaders Peppered with quotations from Calvin's voluminous letters Friends of Calvin abounds with secret court relationships love affairs death threats poisonings and narrow midnight escapes from the pursuing authorities showing a full blooded and dangerous side of the bookish Reformer's life Readers of these colorful narratives will come to see how much Calvin's friends influenced his life and thought This work provides fresh and accessible insights into John Calvin's inner circle The highly readable translation offers vignettes that show the Reformer's capacity for deep and enduring relationships with friends and family members the Early Modern House of Orange-Nassau Susan Broomhall, Jacqueline Van Gent, 2016-08-12 How do gender and power relationships affect the expression of family House and dynastic identities The present study explores this question using a case study of the House of Orange Nassau whose extensive visual material and archival sources from both male and female members enable the authors to trace their complex attempts to express gain and maintain power in texts material culture and spaces as well as rituals acts and practices The book adopts several innovative approaches to the history of the Orange Nassau family and to familial and dynastic studies generally Firstly the authors analyse in detail a vast body of previously unexplored sources including correspondence artwork architectural horticultural and textual commissions ceremonies practices and individual actions that have surprisingly received little attention to date individually and consider these as the collective practices of a key early modern dynastic family They investigate new avenues about the meanings and practices of family and dynasty in the early modern period extending current research that focuses on dominant men to ask how women and subordinate men understood family and dynasty in what respects such notions were shared among members and how it might have been fractured and fashioned by individual experiences Adopting a transnational approach to the Nassau family the authors explore the family s self presentation across a range of languages cultures and historiographical traditions situating their representation of themselves as an influential House within an international context and offering a new vision of power as a gendered concept
