

2013-2014 Biology Semester 1 Final Exam Study Guide Answer Key

Chapter 1 Biology in the 21st Century

1. What is biology the study of? Biology is the study of life.
2. What are the 4 characteristics of life? 1. All organisms are made up of one or more cells. 2. All organisms need a source of energy for their life processes. 3. All organisms must respond to their environment. 4. Members of a species must have the ability to reproduce and develop.
3. How are structure and function related in biology? Structure and function are related at the level of chemicals in cells. Different types of cells have different functions that depend on their specialized structures (i.e. brain cells have branches that receive info from other cells). Structure and function are also related on the level of the organism (i.e. ducks have webbed feet to swim and walk).
4. What is homeostasis? Give an example of how you maintain homeostasis. Homeostasis is the maintenance of constant internal conditions. Sweating when you are hot and shivering when you are cold are examples.
5. List and explain the general steps of the scientific method. Observation, Hypothesis, Experiment, Collect data, Evaluate results, Draw a conclusion, and Retest.
6. What are independent and dependent variables? (Explain) A variable is a factor in the experiment that is being tested. The independent variable is the factor that is controlled/manipulated by the experimenter. The dependent variable is the factor that is being observed/measured.
7. What are constants and controls? The experimenter makes a special effort to keep other factors constant (the same) so that they will not affect the outcome. Those factors are called control variables.

8. Sugar dissolves in, or mixes completely with, water. The solubility of a substance in water is determined by measuring the maximum amount of the substance that dissolves in a given amount of water at a given temperature. HYPOTHESIS: The solubility of sugar in water increases as the temperature of the water decreases. Identify the independent and dependent variables. Ind. var – temp. of water Dep. var – solubility of sugar
9. An electromagnet can be made by wrapping insulated wire around an iron nail and connecting the ends of the wire to a 6-volt battery. HYPOTHESIS: Increasing the number of coils of wire wrapped around the nail increases the strength of the electromagnet, as measured by the number of paper clips the magnet can pick up. Identify the independent and dependent variables. Ind. var – number of coils wrapped around nail; Dep. var – strength of electromagnet

Chapter 2 Chemistry of Life

1. What is the difference between a covalent bond and an ionic bond? A covalent bond involves the sharing of electrons while an ionic bond requires the transfer of electrons.
2. What are the 4 properties of water? Water is a polar molecule. It has hydrogen bonds that are responsible for water's high specific heat, cohesion, and adhesion.
3. Is water polar or non-polar, and why is this important? Water is a polar molecule; this is important because it allows water to have charged regions which in turn allows hydrogen bonds to form.
4. What is adhesion? (give an example) Adhesion is the attraction among molecules of different substances (i.e. water molecules sticking to the sides of a glass).
5. What is cohesion? (give an example) Cohesion is the attraction among molecules of the same substance (i.e. water sticking to water).

Unforgettable W. Michael Gray, 2016-10-12 We have an uneasy relationship with the relentless deluge of information gushing out of academia and our media outlets To turn it off is escapist but to attempt to cognitively grapple with it is overwhelming In Unforgettable Enabling Deep and Durable Learning a nationally recognized master teacher gives professors and their students the means to chart a clear path through this information explosion Humans crave explanatory patterns and this book enables teachers to think deeply about their academic disciplines to find and articulate their core explanatory principles and to engage their students in a compelling way of thinking An alternative title for this book could be Why the Best College Teachers Do What They Do because the author articulates a compelling rationale that will equip faculty to create and deliver transformative courses Students in transformative courses grapple with essential questions and gain mental muscle that equips them for real world challenges

Genomics in Aquaculture to Better Understand Species Biology and Accelerate Genetic Progress José Manuel Yáñez, Ross Houston, Scott Newman, 2016-09-15 From a global perspective aquaculture is an activity related to food production with large potential for growth Considering a continuously growing population the efficiency and sustainability of this activity will be crucial to meet the needs of protein for human consumption in the near future However for continuous enhancement of the culture of both fish and shellfish there are still challenges to overcome mostly related to the biology of the cultured species and their interaction with increasingly changing environmental factors Examples of these challenges include early sexual maturation feed meal replacement immune response to infectious diseases and parasites and temperature and salinity tolerance Moreover it is estimated that less than 10% of the total aquaculture production in the world is based on populations genetically improved by means of artificial selection Thus there is considerable room for implementing breeding schemes aimed at improving productive traits having significant economic impact. By far the most economically relevant trait is growth rate which can be efficiently improved by conventional genetic selection i.e. based on breeding values of selection candidates. However, there are other important traits that cannot be measured directly on selection candidates such as resistance against infectious and parasitic agents and carcass quality traits e.g. fillet yield and meat color. However, these traits can be more efficiently improved using molecular tools to assist breeding programs by means of marker assisted selection using a few markers explaining a high proportion of the trait variation or genomic selection using thousands of markers to estimate genomic breeding values. The development and implementation of new technologies applied to molecular biology and genomics such as next generation sequencing methods and high throughput genotyping platforms are allowing the rapid increase of availability of genomic resources in aquaculture species. These resources will provide powerful tools to the research community and will aid in the determination of the genetic factors involved in several biological aspects of aquaculture species. In this regard, it is important to establish discussion in terms of which strategies will be more efficient to solve the primary challenges that are affecting aquaculture systems around the world. The main objective of this Research Topic is to provide a forum to communicate recent research and implementation strategies in the use of genomics in aquaculture species with emphasis on 1. a better understanding of fish and shellfish biological processes having considerable impact on aquaculture systems and 2. the efficient incorporation of molecular information into breeding programs to accelerate genetic progress of economically relevant traits.

Current Therapy in Medicine of Australian Mammals Larry Vogelnest, Timothy Portas, 2025-06-02. Current Therapy in Medicine of Australian Mammals provides up to date knowledge of Australian mammal medicine. This revised edition is a companion volume to Medicine of Australian Mammals, a text that remains relevant and current although there have been significant advances in Australian mammal medicine and surgery since its publication in 2008. Together, these two texts remain the most comprehensive source of information on medicine of Australian mammals available. This book is divided into two sections. The first includes detailed chapters on general topics and topics relevant to multiple taxa, including a new chapter on assessment, triage, and treatment of bushfire affected wildlife. The second section provides updates of current knowledge relevant to specific taxa. Each chapter is authored by Australian experts. Several appendices provide useful reference data and information on clinical reference ranges, recommended venipuncture sites, chemical restraint agent doses and regimens, a drug formulary, and dental charts. Current Therapy in Medicine of Australian Mammals is clinically oriented with an emphasis on practical content and easy to use reference material and is a must have for veterinarians, students, biologists, zoologists, wildlife carers, and other wildlife professionals. This volume also complements updates and utilises the resources of other books such as Radiology of Australian Mammals (Vogelnest and Allan 2015), Pathology of Australian Native Wildlife (Ladds 2009), Haematology of Australian Mammals (Clark 2004), and Australian Mammals: Biology and Captive Management (Second
