Conversations at the Well Jung Eun Sophia Park, Teresa Maya, 2019-08-29 Are religious women in the United States disappearing and finally dying out Or is there any new way of religious life emerging Conversations at the Well tries to respond to this question In the twenty first century of the global world newly emerging religious life would be rooted with the Jesus Movement and develop in the spirit of collaboration networking and intercultural living As the liminal space religious life is located at the margins subverting the existing social order and creating a new vision for the world This book explores an alternative meaning of religious life within the context of the apostolic mission In this new religious life the concept of community is not limited to living as a community in the convent but extended into collaborating friendship Primarily the apostolic religious life is deeply related to social justice delinking the global capitalism in which many people suffer from human trafficking immigration and exile The new leader of religious women would require skill in handling uncertainty amplifying resources and opening to the new reality In this new religious life spirituality would be articulated as freedom and liberation to let go of the old frame as well as letting the new life become reality In this way as radical disciples religious women in the twenty first century embody the Jesus Movement building bridges between different cultures and people
