Thinking Creative Writing Graeme Harper, 2020-06-29 Thinking Creative Writing explores the many ways in which creative writing can be critically considered and understood as well as the teaching and learning of creative writing. Featuring thematic ideas and practice orientated thoughts such as those related to the value of distraction when undertaking creative work, the book also presents contemporary work in the field of what is termed Creative Writing Studies and offers an analysis of doctoral research on Creative Writing. Additionally, the book includes reports on cultural and heritage studies of creative writing as a practice in relation to the literature it brings about and the audiences it engages. Thinking Creative Writing presents a snapshot of contemporary work in and around departments of creative writing in our universities and colleges. It will be of interest to those researching in the field as well as those with a broader interest in writing creatively. The chapters in this book were originally published as articles in the New Writing journal. Explorations In Creative Writing Kevin Brophy, 2016-02-16 This set of reflective essays about the writing life examines the poetics and politics of reading as a writer, teaching and learning about writing in an academic or informal setting and pacing oneself through writing projects. Academic investigations about the medieval concept of the writer and the novelization of the poem accompany more practical discussions about keeping a writer's sketchbook and conducting research. The growth of creative writing programs and the particular role of the artist in Australian society is explored. Teaching Creative Writing Heather Beck, 2012-10-21 Teaching Creative Writing includes lively contributions from over two dozen leading practitioners in the field. Topics addressed include history of Creative Writing, workshops, undergraduate/postgraduate reflective activities, assessment, critical theory, and information technology.
