Pedagogies to Enhance Learning for Indigenous Students Robyn Jorgensen, Peter Sullivan, Peter Grootenboer, 2012-11-19 This book describes research undertaken by leading Australian researcher in Indigenous communities While the chapters are Australian in their focus the issues that are discussed are similar to those in other countries where there are indigenous people In most cases in Australia and internationally Indigenous learners are not succeeding in school thus making the transition into work and adulthood quite tenuous in terms of mainstream measures The importance of being literate and numerate are critical in success in school and life in general thus making this collection an important contribution to the international literature The collection of works describes a wide range of projects where the focus has been on improving the literacy and numeracy outcomes for Indigenous students The chapters take various approaches to improving these outcomes and have very different foci These foci include aspects of literacy numeracy curriculum leadership ICTs whole school planning policy linguistics and Indigenous perspectives Most of the chapters report on large scale projects that have used some innovation in their focus The book draws together these projects so that a more connected sense of the complexities and diversity of approaches can be gleaned

An Epistemology of Belongingness Hope O'Chin, 2024-02-23 The intent of this book focuses on Australia's First Nations truth voice recognition diversity and respect Hope O'Chin explains that knowledge about Australian First Nations culture and learning can be seen through new conceptual lens which she refers to as an Ontology of Dreaming Hope for Australians The book proposes to move from ontological propositions embedded in pedagogies and methodologies that center on the relevance of Indigenous epistemes and ways of doing O'Chin offers a conceptual framing for engaging with Indigenous peoples and forming communities of belongingness and relationality She offers suggestions for ways in which art and education can act as healing and a way forward towards a more inclusive civil society Reflexive practice ethnographic principles and action research is described in a way that methodologies provide an understanding of a sense of Belonging O'Chin argues that theoretical research art and educational practice can add to the value of determining a strategy of Indigenous art investment within Australia and to address how art and education can be used to validate contemporary expression of Aboriginality within contemporary Australian society Ultimately the book is about Indigenous strengths and what Indigenous ways of being knowing and doing can offer and how one might go about honouring and working in this way respectfully
