The Bronchi

The bronchi are the main airways which carry air from the trachea into the lungs.

The right bronchus is larger and carries air to the right lung. The left bronchus is smaller and carries air to the left lung.

The bronchi are made up of cartilage and muscle. The cartilage is in the form of rings in the trachea and plates in the bronchi.

The bronchi branch out into smaller and smaller airways called bronchioles.

The bronchioles end in small air sacs called alveoli.
