Analysis Of Observational Health Care Data Using Sas:

Analysis of Observational Health Care Data Using SAS Douglas Faries,Robert Obenchain,Josep Haro,Andrew Leon,2014

This book guides researchers in performing and presenting high quality analyses of all kinds of non randomized studies including analyses of observational studies claims database analyses assessment of registry data survey data pharmaco economic data and many more applications The text is sufficiently detailed to provide not only general guidance but to help the researcher through all of the standard issues that arise in such analyses Just enough theory is included to allow the reader to understand the pros and cons of alternative approaches and when to use each method The numerous contributors to this book illustrate via real world numerical examples and SAS code appropriate implementations of alternative methods The end result is that researchers will learn how to present high quality and transparent analyses that will lead to fair and objective decisions from observational data This book is part of the SAS Press program

Real World Health Care Data Analysis Douglas Faries,Xiang Zhang,Zbigniew Kadziola,Uwe Siebert,Felicita Kuehne,Robert L Obenchain,Josep Maria Haro,2020-01-15 Discover best practices for real world data research with SAS code and examples Real world health care data is common and growing in use with sources such as observational studies patient registries electronic medical record databases insurance healthcare claims databases as well as data from pragmatic trials This data serves as the basis for the growing use of real world evidence in medical decision making However the data itself is not evidence Analytical methods must be used to turn real world data into valid and meaningful evidence Real World Health Care Data Analysis Causal Methods and Implementation Using SAS brings together best practices for causal comparative effectiveness analyses based on real world data in a single location and provides SAS code and examples to make the analyses relatively easy and efficient The book focuses on analytic methods adjusted for time independent confounding which are useful when comparing the effect of different potential interventions on some outcome of interest when there is no randomization These methods include propensity score matching stratification methods weighting methods regression methods and approaches that combine and average across these methods methods for comparing two interventions as well as comparisons between three or more interventions algorithms for personalized medicine sensitivity analyses for unmeasured confounding Analysis of Correlated Data with SAS and R Mohamed M. Shoukri, 2018-04-27

Analysis of Correlated Data with SAS and R 4th edition presents an applied treatment of recently developed statistical models and methods for the analysis of hierarchical binary count and continuous response data It explains how to use procedures in SAS and packages in R for exploring data fitting appropriate models presenting programming codes and results The book is designed for senior undergraduate and graduate students in the health sciences epidemiology statistics and biostatistics as well as clinical researchers and consulting statisticians who can apply the methods with their own data analyses In each chapter a brief description of the foundations of statistical theory needed to understand the methods is given thereafter the author illustrates the applicability of the techniques by providing sufficient number of examples The last three chapters of the 4th edition contain introductory material on propensity score analysis meta analysis and the treatment of missing data using SAS and R These topics were not covered in previous editions The main reason is that there is an increasing demand by clinical researchers to have these topics covered at a reasonably understandable level of complexity Mohamed Shoukri is principal scientist and professor of biostatistics at The National Biotechnology Center King Faisal Specialist Hospital and Research Center and Al Faisal University Saudi Arabia Professor Shoukri s research includes analytic epidemiology analysis of hierarchical data and clinical biostatistics He is an associate editor of the 3Biotech journal a Fellow of the Royal Statistical Society and an elected member of the International Statistical Institute Real World Health Care
