Ancient Greek Love Magic:

Ancient Greek Love Magic Christopher A. FARAONE, Christopher A Faraone, 2009-06-30 The ancient Greeks commonly resorted to magic spells to attract and keep lovers as numerous allusions in Greek literature and recently discovered voodoo dolls magical papyri gemstones and curse tablets attest Surveying and analyzing these various texts and artifacts Christopher Faraone reveals that gender is the crucial factor in understanding love spells There are he argues two distinct types of love magic the curselike charms used primarily by men to torture unwilling women with fiery and maddening passion until they surrender sexually and the binding spells and debilitating potions generally used by women to sedate angry or philandering husbands and make them more affectionate Faraone's lucid analysis of these spells also yields a number of insights about the construction of gender in antiquity for example the femininity of socially inferior males and the maleness of autonomous prostitutes Most significantly his findings challenge the widespread modern view that all Greek men considered women to be naturally lascivious Faraone reveals the existence of an alternate male understanding of the female as naturally moderate and chaste who uses love magic to pacify and control the naturally angry and passionate male This fascinating study of magical practices and their implications for perceptions of male and female sexuality offers an unusual look at ancient Greek religion and society

The Oxford Handbook of Social Relations in the Roman World Michael Peachin, 2011 The study of Roman society and social relations blossomed in the 1970s By now we possess a very large literature on the individuals and groups that constituted the Roman community and the various ways in which members of that community interacted There simply is however no overview that takes into account the multifarious progress that has been made in the past thirty odd years The purpose of this handbook is twofold On the one hand it synthesizes what has heretofore been accomplished in this field On the other hand it attempts to configure the examination of Roman social relations in some new ways and thereby indicates directions in which the discipline might now proceed The book opens with a substantial general introduction that portrays the current state of the field indicates some avenues for further study and provides the background necessary for the following chapters It lays out what is now known about the historical development of Roman society and the essential structures of that community In a second introductory article Clifford Ando explains the chronological parameters of the handbook The main body of the book is divided into the following six sections 1 Mechanisms of Socialization primary education rhetorical education family law 2 Mechanisms of Communication and Interaction 3 Communal Contexts for Social Interaction 4 Modes of Interpersonal Relations friendship patronage hospitality dining funerals benefactions honor 5 Societies Within the Roman Community collegia cults Judaism Christianity the army and 6 Marginalized Persons slaves women children prostitutes actors and gladiators bandits The result is a unique up to date and comprehensive survey of ancient Roman society

J., 2015-03-02 This book presents twenty chapters by experts in their fields providing a thorough and interdisciplinary overview of the theory and practice of magic in the West Its chronological scope extends from the Ancient Near East to twenty first century North America its objects of analysis range from Persian curse tablets to US neo paganism For comparative purposes the volume includes chapters on developments in the Jewish and Muslim worlds evaluated not simply for what they contributed at various points to European notions of magic but also as models of alternative development in ancient Mediterranean legacy Similarly the volume highlights the transformative and challenging encounters of Europeans with non Europeans regarding the practice of magic in both early modern colonization and more recent decolonization Living and Cursing in the Roman West Stuart McKie, 2022-03-10 Focusing on the Roman west this book examines the rituals of cursing their cultural contexts and their impact on the lives of those who practised them A huge number of Roman curse tablets have been discovered showing their importance for helping ancient people to cope with various aspects of life Curse tablets have been relatively neglected by archaeologists and historians This study not only encourages greater understanding of the individual practice of curse rituals but also reveals how these objects can inform ongoing debates surrounding power agency and social relationships in the Roman provinces McKie uses new theoretical models to examine the curse tablets and focuses particularly on the concept of lived religion This framework reconfigures our understanding of religious and magical practices allowing much greater appreciation of them as creative processes Our awareness of the lived experiences of individuals is also encouraged by the application of theoretical approaches from sensory and material turns and through the consideration of comparable ritual practices in modern social contexts These stimulate new questions of the ancient evidence especially regarding the motives and motivations behind the curses Magic and Ritual in the Ancient World Paul Allan Mirecki, Marvin W. Meyer, 2002 This volume contains a series of provocative essays that explore expressions of magic and ritual power in the ancient world The strength of the present volume lies in the breadth of scholarly approaches represented The book begins with several papyrological studies presenting important new texts in Greek and Coptic continuing with essays focussing on taxonomy and definition The concluding essays apply contemporary theories to analyses of specific test cases in a broad variety of ancient Mediterranean cultures Paul Mirecki Th D 1986 in Religious Studies Harvard Divinity School is Associate Professor of Religious Studies at the University of Kansas Marvin Meyer Ph D 1979 in Religion Claremont Graduate School is Professor of Religion at Chapman University Orange California and Director of the Coptic Magical Texts Project of the Institute for Antiquity and Christianity Daughters of Hecate Kimberly B. Stratton, Dayna S. Kalleres, 2014-10-01 Daughters of Hecate unites for the first time research on the problem of gender and magic in three ancient Mediterranean societies early Judaism Christianity and Graeco Roman culture The book illuminates the gendering of ancient magic by approaching the topic from three distinct disciplinary perspectives literary stereotyping the social application of magic discourse and material culture The authors probe the foundations of processes and motivations behind gendered stereotypes beginning with Western culture s earliest associations of women and magic in the Bible and Homer s Odyssey Daughters of Hecate provides a nuanced exploration of the topic while avoiding reductive approaches In fact the essays in this volume uncover complexities and counter discourses that challenge rather than reaffirm many gendered stereotypes taken for granted and reified by most modern scholarship By combining critical theoretical methods with research into literary and material evidence Daughters of

Hecate interrogates a false association that has persisted from antiquity to early modern witch hunts to the present day
