Norton, Garrick Allen, Lindsey A. Askin, 2022-06-30 By integrating conversations across disciplines especially focusing on classical studies and Jewish and Christian studies this volume addresses several imbalances in scholarship on reading and textual activity in the ancient Mediterranean Contributors intentionally place Jewish Christian Roman Greek and other reading circles back into their encompassing historical context avoiding subdivisions along modern subject lines divisions still bearing marks of cultural and ideological interests In their examination contributors avoid dwelling upon traditional methodological debates over orality vs literacy and social classifications of literacy instead turning their attention to the social historical groups of people circles and networks strata and class scribal culture material culture epigraphic and papyrological evidence functions and types of literacy and the social relationships that all of these entail Overall the volume contributes to an emerging and important interdisciplinary collaboration between specialists in ancient literacy encouraging future discussion between two currently divided fields Scribes, Script, and Books Leila Avrin, 2010 In this detailed overview of the history of the handmade book Avrin looks at the development of scripts and styles of illumination the making of manuscripts and the technological processes involved in paper making and book binding Readers will have a greater understanding of ancient books and texts with More than 300 plates and illustrations Examples of the different forms of writing from ancient times to the printing press Coverage of cultural and religious books Full bibliography Reference librarians and educators will find this resource indispensable Introducing Archaeology Michael Avi-Yonah, 1973 Ancient Scrolls, 1994 Jewish Literacy in Roman Palestine Catherine Hezser, 2001 Since Judaism has always been seen as the quintessential religion of the book a high literacy rate amongst ancient Jews has usually been taken for granted Catherine Hezser presents the first critical analysis of the various aspects of ancient Jewish literacy on the basis of all of the literary epigraphic and papyrological material published so far Thereby she takes into consideration the analogies in Graeco Roman culture and models and theories developed in the social sciences Rather than trying to determine the exact literacy rate amongst ancient Jews she examines the various types social contexts and functions of writing and the relationship between writing and oral forms of discourse Following recent social anthropological approaches to literacy the guiding question is who used what type of writing for which purpose First Catherine Hezser examines the conditions which would enable or prevent the spread of literacy such as education and schools the availability and costs of writing materials religious interest in writing and books the existence of archives and libraries and the question of multilingualism Afterwards she looks at the different types of writing such as letters documents miscellaneous notes inscriptions and graffiti and literary and magical texts until she finally draws conclusions about the ways in which the various sectors of the populace were able to participate in a literate society The Art of Mosaics ,1975 An introduction to mosaics including the techniques of making mosaics and the history of wall and pavement mosaics in Greece Egypt Rome Africa the Holy Land and the Byzantine world Canaan and Israel in Antiquity: A Textbook on History and Religion K. L. Noll,2012-12-07 This comprehensive classic textbook represents the most recent approaches to the biblical world by surveying Palestine s social political economic religious and ecological changes from Palaeolithic to Roman eras Designed for beginners with little knowledge of the ancient world and with copious illustrations and charts it explains how and why academic study of the past is undertaken as well as the differences between historical and theological scholarship and the differences between ancient and modern genres of history writing Classroom tested chapters emphasize the authenticity of the Bible as a product of an ancient culture and the many problems with the biblical narrative as a historical source Neither maximalist nor minimalist it is sufficiently general to avoid confusion and to allow the assignment of supplementary readings such as biblical narratives and ancient Near Eastern texts This new edition has been fully revised incorporating new graphics and English translations of Near Eastern inscriptions New material on the religiously diverse environment of Ancient Israel taking into account the latest archaeological discussions brings this book right up to date Archaeology Alan Edwin Day,1978
